PROSPECTS FOR 3D PARTY STIR POLITICAL POT

Back Handed Drive for Huey Opens.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Third party prospects figured prominently today in the political powwowing that has broken out on every side since the Rhode Island election betrayed the slipping of the New Deal in popular esteem.

Senator Huey Long, the Democratic dictator of Louisiana, contemplates running for President as an independent, it was learned, unless the Republicans should nominate Senator William E. Borah or some other liberal.

On the other hand, although he has been cultivating the vineyards of the left wing, Father Coughlin has turned his back on the Kingfish and proclaimed that he will have naught to do with a third party.

Glass and Byrd Stay In.

The fourth party movement, which is being promoted by Bainbridge Colby and other conservative Democrats, received a rebuff from Senators Carter Glass and Harry Byrd of Virginia, who asserted that they never had bolted a Democratic nomination and never would. Senator Glass said he is standing squarely on the 1932 Democratic platform, thereby implying that the President is not.

Senator Glass will be a candidate for another term next year and if he were to run independently he would play havoc with the fortunes of Democratic candidates for local offices. The same consideration interferes with the independent conservative movement in other Democratic states.

Long Quiet a While.

For some time nothing had been heard of Senator Long's aspirations to the presidency. In fact, when President Roosevelt came out with his wealth confiscation program the Louisiana Kingfish, as a pioneer wealth confiscationist, welcomed Mr. Roosevelt to the left wing benches. Long said that if the President turned out to be a real, Simon pure, blown in the bottle leveler of the rich he would take off his coat for Mr. Roosevelt and bring 200,000 Long clubs to his support.

But now the Kingfish is dissatisfied with Mr. Roosevelt as a wealth confiscationist and he has reverted to his original insurgency. He contemplates seeking the Democratic nomination for President in the Democratic national convention. Beaten there, he will bolt the renomination of Mr. Roosevelt and lead a third party, expecting to carry Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas, Georgia and Florida.

Davey Coming to Capital.

The politicians pricked up their ears when they heard late today that Democratic Governor Martin L. Davey of Ohio is to be at the White House tomorrow for a talk with the President.

The burning issue that is really bringing Mr. Davey to Washington, it is not doubted, is the political crisis precipitated by the death of Democratic Representative Charles V. Truax of Ohio last week. The vacancy thus created in the Ohio delegation raised the question at once of calling a by-election to choose a successor. And coming right on top of the Democratic debacle in the Rhode Island by-election, the possibility of another test of the popularity of the New Deal sent chills down Democratic spinal columns, particularly as Mr. Truax was a congressman at large and the by-election of a successor would comprehend the entire state of Ohio.

Bender Kicks Up a Bow.

Gov. Davey said at once that he would not call a special election because of the expense.

Then Republican George Bender, whom Mr. Truax defeated, announced himself a candidate for the place, cited the section of the Ohio statutes making it mandatory to call a by-election, and asserted that if necessary he would mandamus the governor to do his duty. Mr. Bender delivered this ultimatum yesterday and Gov. Davey started for Washington at once to consult the President. Presumably if Mr. Roosevelt is ready for a showdown in Ohio it will not be necessary to mandamus the governor to call the election.

BLIND AND PENNILESS, HE'S OPERATED UPON BY EX-KING'S DOCTOR

SITKA, Alaska, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The skill of hands which once ministered to the former king of Siam may bring back the eyesight of J. E. Kenny, penniless Alaska pensioner.

Blinded by cataracts more than a year ago, he came here last May to the Territorial Pioneer home. Last month the yacht Seyelan II. arrived from Seattle. Aboard was Dr. John W. Weeks, 80 year old New York City eye specialist, on vacation.

The penniless Kenny submitted to the knife in the hands of the surgeon, whose skill the former Siamese monarch traveled all the way to the United States to obtain. Today, the grateful Kenny, a former prospector, is counting the days until the bandages are removed.

TEA DANCE NEAR RIOT SCENE IN 'STRIP' ROBBERY

New York, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Two "perfect gentlemen" walked into historic Claremont inn on Riverside drive at the height of the tea dancing hour this afternoon and walked out a few minutes later with a $4,000 pay roll, without having disturbed a single dancing guest.

But a near riot followed a minute or so after the holdup men had sped away in their automobile.

In the middle of a dance, a barefoot, shirtless man, who was holding up his trousers with one hand and waving with the other, ran down the steps from the second floor into the dining room shouting "robbers!" at the top of his voice.

Behind him came two or three other men, equally excited and equally in dishabille as a result of being stripped in the holdup.

WPA to Make Movies of Its Jobs Program

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Relief workers who would "like to be in pictures" may get their wish.

A "motion picture record" division has been set up in Harry L. Hopkins' works progress administration to film the 4 billion dollar program intended to substitute 3,500,000 jobs for the dole.

Sydney MacKean, division director, said its aim was to provide jobs for unemployed movie cameramen, as well as to make an historical record of the works drive.

May Be Used in Campaign.

As to possible use of the pictures in next year's national campaign, MacKean said no plans for distribution have been made, but added:

"The film will be government property. We can't stop a young Democratic club from asking for it, but the young Republican clubs and even the young communist clubs will have the same right."

Three cameramen already are at work, and MacKean hopes eventually to have a staf of five. The first "shots" were taken two weeks ago when 5,000 men began work on Alabama projects.

"Before" and "After" Scenes.

"We intend to produce a factual story in pictures," MacKean said. "There will be a definite continuity, and 'before' and 'after' scenes will be taken as well as those of men actually at work.

"We hope to make it as vivid a portrayal of the works drive as the one of the world war produced by the signal corps."

M'CUTCHEON IN RIO

Cartoonist Spends 40,000 Reis for 3 Lunches and He's Moderate Eater.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 13.—One thousand reis equals only six cents, but as it is quoted in the aggregate it has a chilling effect. Three lunches cost 40,000 reis, and we are only moderate eaters. Every price sounds like a body blow to the family exchequer.

The scenery also is staggering, costing a terrific amount of adjectives. We have been on a scenery spree all day, starting with Petropolis and ending with the mountain Tijuca. Both are rated by connoisseurs as four star superlative supersights.

We went by cog rail up the mountain spire to a 120 foot statue of Christ and were amazed to find among the crowd three shell game artists raking in the cash of tourists crowding for a chance to bet.

Petropolis is a summer refuge in the mountains for diplomats and local dignitaries and wealthy citizens during the months from December to March. It suggests Simla, the famous Indian hill station, though the mountains are covered with jungles instead of snow.

Rio de Janeiro is called a river, but it is a bay and not a river. Also there are no jaguars or armadillos hereabouts. It is very confusing to an admirer of Rudyard Kipling and geographic exactitude.

McCUTCHEON BROADCAST.

A talk by John T. McCutcheon will be broadcast over W-G-N from Rio de Janeiro at 10 o'clock tomorrow instead of 10 p. m. Friday, as announced last Sunday. The change in time is made necessary by Mr. McCutcheon's departure for Europe aboard the Graf Zeppelin Friday. Mr. McCutcheon's voice will be brought by radio telephone from Rio de Janeiro to New York and then by special wire to W-G-N.

Musician Killed Adjusting Faulty Radio Set in Home

Michael Kovach, 20 years old, 2814 Broadway, a musician, was electrocuted last night while attempting to fix the radio in the apartment of a friend, Richard Thombley, at the same address. Kovach had taken his violin to Thombley's apartment and was playing an accompaniment to broadcasted music. When the radio failed to play satisfactorily he tried to adjust it. He neglected to disconnect wires from the wall plug and received a high voltage electric charge when a live wire fell across his body. He was taken to the Illinois Masonic hospital, where efforts to revive him were unsuccessful.

14 WOMEN SAVED IN LOOP BLAZE; RESCUERS HURT

Afternoon Throngs See Heroism.

Fourteen women were carried or helped to safety late yesterday afternoon and two of their rescuers incurred minor injuries when fire broke out in the old Adams building, on the northeast corner of Harrison street and Wabash avenue. The upper floors of the building are used by the Congress hotel as sleeping quarters for women employés.

Thick clouds of smoke rolled out the windows, hampering the efforts of firemen, policemen, and passers-by who fought their way up ladders and the front stairway to reach the trapped women. Prompt response of the fire department to a 2-11 alarm prevented the women from becoming panic-stricken and the fire from becoming a major disaster.

Block Off Loop Trafic.

Trafic through the loop at that point was hurriedly blocked off when policemen saw the first wisps of smoke eddying from the building. Street car trafic was rerouted and motor and pedestrian trafic was kept a block away from the structure by fire lines. A huge loop crowd gathered beyond the fire lines to watch the rescue work.

The building, which is about half a century old, is four stories high in the front section and three stories in the rear. Fire Marshal Michael J. Corrigan, who superintended the work of nine companies, said the blaze probably started from ignited cleaning fluid or from an overheated electric iron left on in one of the maids' rooms.

Sleeping Rooms for Women.

The upper floors of the building have sleeping accommodations for 150 women employés of the Congress hotel. Twenty-five of the women sleep during the daytime, but police estimated only twenty were in the building when the fire started.

Policemen Floyd Pfeifer and Iser Rake rushed into the entrance on the Harrison street side when they heard the screams of the women inside. They made their way with difficulty to the second floor and guided several girls downstairs. Pfeifer cut his hand on a broken window.

John C. Warren, a passer-by, cut his hand more severely on a broken window at the second floor level of the old fire escape, which he succeeded in lowering, and down which two of the women made their way safely.

Smoke Cuts Off Exit.

George Eicker, manager of the Congress hotel print shop, which occupies the first floor with the Congress restaurant, and Orville Link, a hotel electrician, were among the first to reach the second floor by way of the front stairs. They also helped two young women to safety before the smoke cut off this exit.

Meanwhile firemen had raised ladders to the second, third, and fourth floors, and were shouting to the women inside, guiding them to the windows which they had broken open.

Helen Mirones, 2503 West 71st street, and Henrietta Gudailes, 7130 South Maplewood avenue, were visiting Ann Davis, one of the maids. They were talking in her room when smoke drifted through the door, blown by a draft down the hallway.

Saved by Firemen's Voices.

"We started to run into the hall and then we heard the other girls screaming," said Miss Mirones. "It was confusing, the smoke was so thick. Just then we heard firemen calling to us from the windows, and we made our way to them and were taken down the ladders."

Mrs. Mary K. Evans, night inspectress at the hotel, fled to safety down the front stairs, but was prevented by firemen from returning for her pet canary. Arthur O. Sanders, an elevator operator at the hotel, heard her frantic screams, rushed up the fire escape, and succeeded in finding the canary in a smoke filled room, and carried the bird to safety.

Other hotel employés who were among the rescued were: Elizabeth Snowrk, 20 years old; Elizabeth Jones, 20 years old, and Sadie Jablonski.

Marshal Corrigan estimated the damage at $10,000. It was confined principally to draperies and furnishings. The women lost most of their belongings. The print shop and restaurant on the first floor were damaged by water.

Flood Engulfs Towns; Traps Folk in Valley

TURIN, Italy, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Estimates that more than 600 persons—possibly 1,000—may have perished in the bursting of a hydro-electric dam in the vicinity of Ovada, southeast of here, were made tonight by rescue workers. One hundred were said to have been drowned at Ovada alone.

The raging waters, pouring through the shattered dam on the swollen Orba river, laid waste an area of 43 square miles. The water, stored up by mountain storms, swept the countryside, washing away scores of homes, wiping out small factories, and crumbling a half dozen railroad and highway bridges.

Loss Put at $25,000,000.

First estimates placed the damage at 300 million lire [approximately $25,000,000].

The rescue workers, troops, and police, who were rushed with supplies to the stricken area from the city of Alessandria, said they could compute no definite toll of the dead until daylight.

Scores of injured were given emergency treatment at hospitals and first aid stations and others, made homeless by the sudden flood, spent the night in makeshift shelters. Destruction of the hydro-electric power station at the dam threw the area into darkness. Power service over a wide area was disrupted.

The first warning was a terrific roar like that of thunder rolling in the surrounding mountains as the dam collapsed. Then a great wall of water rolled down the valley. The dam, about 200 feet long, was erected three years ago by the Genoa Electric company and impounded 25 million cubic yards of water in a lake six miles long.

River Swollen by Storm.

Inhabitants of Ovada and the neighboring villages of Rocca, Grimalda, Casalto, and Cermelli were affected by the flood.

A terrific storm that broke over the surrounding mountain area, swelling the waters of the river Orba, was blamed for the disaster. The break flooded some areas to an average depth of 15 feet.

Bodies of humans, carcasses of animals, and débris from wrecked dwellings could be seen in the powerful current. Many clung desperately to the roofs of their houses, waving frantically for help until their homes collapsed beneath them. The victims were mostly women and children who were trapped in their homes at the time of the disaster.

HOPSON SHOWS UP FOR HOUSE; SENATE RAGES

Utility Chief Defies Lobby Quizzers.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
(Pictures on Back Page.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—An infuriated group of senators late today held an emergency hearing into the tactics of a rival committee in the house. The cause of all the excitement was the desire of two lobby investigating committees to obtain the publicity attending the testimony of Howard C. Hopson, head of the Associated Gas and Electric system of utility companies.

So angry were the senators because the house committee headed by Chairman John J. O'Connor [Dem., N. Y.] had succeeded in serving a subpena upon Hopson first that they at one time contemplated citing O'Connor for contempt. They planned to charge that he prevented a second subpena being served upon Hopson as he left the house committee room this morning.

Hopson had been sought for three weeks by the two committees. He was finally located last night by a house investigator, at Spring Lake, N. J., and appeared this morning before the house committee.

Senate Sleuth Stiff-Armed.

This defeat for the senators, led by Senator Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], was bad enough, but they planned to subpena Hopson after the house hearing and get the second-day headlines at least.

But Hopson, under guard of police, was rushed from the committee room to an elevator and out a side entrance to a waiting automobile.

Joe McCarthy, senate investigator, was pushed in the face by some one identified only as "a tall chap" when he attempted to serve his subpena.

McCarthy reported back to the senators that he had been abused and told by W. A. Hill, attorney for Hopson, to "get the hell out of here."

Senatorial Dignity Upset.

Senatorial dignity was aroused and a special meeting of the senate committeemen was called. A procession of perspiring policemen were cross-examined. They testified only that they had been ordered to be on hand by Representative O'Connor and William H. Collins, counsel for the house committee. They denied they had been instructed to prevent a senate subpena from being served.

"You know you were there to prevent a subpena from being served," thundered Black at several policemen.

"We were told to protect him from the crowd," they insisted.

Summon Lawyer Today.

The senators finally adjourned without taking any drastic action against their colleagues in the lower body. A summons was issued for Attorney Hill to appear tomorrow.

"Some one's going to suffer for this defiance of the senate," Black promised.

Hopson's testimony was somewhat disappointing to the house committee. He told the representative frankly that his sources of income were none of their business. Almost no questions were directed to him about lobbying activities of the utility companies, the supposed subject of both committees' investigation.

Saunters In Smiling.

The committee members and the large crowd fretted for fifteen minutes before Hopson appeared at the morning hearing. He sauntered in, smiling broadly as some twenty camera men swirled around him, snapping him from every angle.

Those curious to glimpse this "financial genius" whose income is reported to have mounted as high as half a million dollars a year saw a little man with a roly-poly body surmounted by an egg shaped head which was almost totally bald. Like many another prominent man, his appearance belied the brains he admittedly possesses. His forehead is low, his dark, merry eyes deep set above plump cheeks and two chins.

He settled his considerable bulk with a sigh into the witness chair. His attorney, Mr. Hill of Boston, sat beside him. Hopson surveyed the solemn faces of the committee and grinned cheerfully.

No One Asks About Chase.

In a hoarse voice the utility head described his general whereabouts in the last six months. His home is in Andover, N. J., he testified, but he spent most of this year in Florida. Curiously enough, no one asked him where he had been during the three weeks when rival squads of investigators for the two committees had been hunting him.

He was exceedingly modest in describing his connection. He was merely a public utility consultant and attorney, he declared. He was vice president of the Associated Gas and Electric corporation, principal subsidiary of the Associated Gas system, and he had directorates in "three or four other subsidiaries."

He admitted to ownership of several other companies with New York headquarters but again insisted in his bashful way that he was "merely an employé" of other companies.

"I supervised the recapitalization of the Associated Gas system," he said, "but since then I've segregated myself from any routine activities. I've acted merely in an advisory capacity."

Admits He and Partner Own It.

It took Chairman O'Connor a long while to make the witness admit finally that he and J. I. Mange owned the Associated Gas system which controled some 300 other companies. It was obviously painful for Hopson to place himself thus in the limelight.

He testified that, in 1922, he had been called in to help with the recapitalization of the system. He and Mange began by acquiring a large number of northern New York state power companies, he said. Mange took a salary for his efforts but Hopson accepted only stock dividends for many years, never taking a penny in cash, he insisted.

The crowd, which had hoped for sensational revelations of some sort, grew impatient as O'Connor drew the witness through a description of the complicated structure of the Associated Gas system.

Indignant at Income Quiz.

Hopson lost his smile and became indignant when the committee began asking him about his sources of income.

"My personal business income in 1922 before I became connected with the Associated Gas system was $100,000," he testified. "I don't think it proper for these committees to pry into the affairs of private individuals and I don't know why I should tell my income since then.

"I'm in the business of selling gas and electricity just as Henry Ford is in the business of selling automobiles.

"These rough inferences and these gross exaggerations about my income of 2 or 3 millions a year are improper. The investor in the utility company pays the salaries of the management, not the consumer. Skilful and intelligent management has a right to proportionate income."

He denied that the Associated Gas system was the largest in the country, as has been intimated in the investigations. There are half a dozen others larger, he declared. He mentioned Henry L. Doherty of the City Service corporation and John J. O'Brien of the Standard Gas and Electric company as individuals having more power and control over their respective systems than he.

Doesn't Know His Income.

Pressed further to tell his income from his companies, he asserted calmly: "I'd tell you if I knew, but I don't know." Queried about the testimony before the senatorial committee that he received $560,000 in salaries from companies at the time no dividends were being paid, Hopson declared:

"That was a mass of misstatement and distortion. I wouldn't even attempt to answer it. I'll sit here as long as I can stand it, but it isn't fair to ask me to present all my connections and disclose my income for the satisfaction of the curiosity of the public."

SENATE PASSES NEW BILL FOR LIQUOR CONTROL

Forbids Bulk Sale; Up to House.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—After barring the sale of liquor in kegs or barrels, the senate this afternoon passed the federal alcohol control bill to replace the defunct federal alcohol control administration, which died with the NRA.

The new measure now goes to conference with the house of representatives. The house had authorized bulk liquor sale over the objections of treasury representatives.

Senator Bennett C. Clark [Dem., Mo.] and Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, majority leader, made a determined fight against the finance committee amendment prohibiting bulk sales. The amendment was sustained by a roll call vote of 59 to 24.

Senator Walter F. George [Dem., Ga.], manager of the bill, contended that bulk liquor in the hands of wholesalers, retailers, and other persons whose plants are not subject to constant treasury inspection makes it possible for rectifying, blending, and bottling operations to be carried on in violation of the law. He further argued the right of wholesalers and retailers to have bulk goods on their premises facilitates the use of wholesale and retail outlets for the disposition of bootleg liquor.

Senator Clark replied that the prevalence of bootlegging was due to "the fact that more than 80 per cent of the distilled spirit business is in the hands of nine closely related or affiliated companies." He assailed "the whisky trust," saying it had led to a condition "in which we get the most beautiful bottles and the worst quality of liquor in the history of this country."

"The way to break up bootlegging," Clark added, "is to permit good liquor to be sold as cheaply as possible."

GENERAL STRIKE IS THREATENED IN COLUMBUS, O.

Columbus, O., Aug. 13.—(AP)—A threat of a general strike hung over Franklin county tonight.

The city was practically without taxicab service, approximately 500 men were away from the jobs at the Columbus Packing company, and the Hercules Clothing company plant was closed because of a strike.

A. Z. Larison, president of the Columbus Federation of Labor, said, "We are liable to pull a general strike momentarily."

Larison has urged union members to refuse work under the wage scale outlined for the works progress administration.

The latest development in the labor situation came today with a strike of Hill Cab company drivers. Insurance companies fearing violence withdrew protection to cabs of several other companies, causing the owners to take their cars off the streets. A total of 120 men were affected.

CUBA FINES 200 MEN FOR WEARING ZIPPER SHIRTS

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Police began a drive on the slide front sport shirt today.

The newspaper El Pais said 200 men were arrested and fined for an "offense against morals" because they wore the shirts, exposing too much manly chest.

Orders were issued for the arrest of any one wearing such a shirt and no coat in a public place.

Last March military orders were issued against men appearing in public minus hats.

SEC REVEALS 'GIFT' TO NORMAN H. DAVIS IN KREUGER INQUIRY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Norman H. Davis, President Roosevelt's ambassador at large, received $75,000 from three big New York banks to help extract them from the financial tangle left by collapse of Kreuger & Toll, international match and investment company, the securities and exchange commission revealed today.

National City bank, Guaranty company, and Lee, Higginson & Co. made a "gift" of $170,000 to pay the expenses of the committee headed by Mr. Davis, an inquiry by the SEC showed.

This "gift" was made after the lawyers for the banks had convinced the banks that they should contribute a substantial sum of money "designed definitly to relieve the issuing houses [the three banks] from liability on account of their relations with Kreuger companies and their securities." evidence showed.

Mr. Davis, who became head of an international negotiating committee to smooth out Kreuger & Toll affairs, was paid $75,000 at the outset and promised another $75,000, the investigation showed. The Davis committee was a direct outgrowth of the bank's moves "definitly to relieve" themselves of liability in the sensational Kreuger collapse.

The SEC investigation of the Kreuger & Toll collapse was one of a series which congress directed the commission to make in the conduct of protective committees and reorganization commissions.

Other prominent names involved in the investigation include Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state, who headed an independent protective committee for Kreuger & Toll bondholders, and Samuel Untermeyer, New York lawyer and politician, counsel for the Colby committee.

WILL ASK WORLD PARLEY ON USING ELECTRIC POWER

Snell Raps Roosevelt's Invitation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Sweeping aside minority objections that another step was being taken toward government ownership of all electric power, the house today approved a resolution authorizing the President to invite representatives of forty-five nations to attend the third world power conference here in 1936.

An appropriation of $75,000 to pay the expenses of the foreign delegates was indorsed, 233 to 95, with a strictly partisan vote.

Snell Attacks Proposal.

The resolution was denounced by Minority Leader Bertrand Snell as "an excuse to bring together long-haired socialists to spread propaganda about government ownership of power companies."

Snell drew attention to the fact that the Reconstruction Finance corporation has just lent $4,000,000 to build a wood pulp and paper mill in Arkansas.

"This is a fine example of government competing with industry in an effort to destroy it and eventually bring about government ownership and control of all industry," Snell declared. "The paper industry is hanging on by its eyelashes. Now government money is being used to build another factory to compete in a field which is already overcrowded.

Sees Threat to Industry.

"There is a half billion dollars invested in this industry which is now threatened with destruction."

Other Republicans attacked the $75,000 appropriation for expenses as a waste of money.

"Haven't we gone far enough with appropriations for foolish junkets and futile conferences?" asked Representative Taber [Rep., N. Y.].

The first world power conference was held in London in 1924, and the second in Berlin 1930.

'SOAK-RICH' BILL DEBATE TO OPEN IN SENATE TODAY

Launch "Big Push" for an Early Adjournment.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—The $269,000,000 soak the rich tax bill reported out by the finance committee was made the unfinished business of the senate today and debate will begin tomorrow in the final "big push" for adjournment next week.

Hopes of administration leaders for ending the session not later than a week from Saturday, and possibly by the middle of next week, were encouraged when the senate passed the federal alcohol control measure, last of President Roosevelt's "must" bills with the exception of taxes and the Guffey-Snyder coal bill. The latter is believed doomed for this session, although the house may pass it.

Confident of Passage.

The leaders are confident that the tax bill, as reported by the committee, can be passed this week, for the overwhelming majority of Democrats look with favor upon the proposition of soaking the rich, and the Republicans realize the futility of determined opposition. Senator Robert La Follette [Radical, Wis.] plans to offer his amendment hitting the lower bracket incomes and adding some $200,000,000 to the prospective revenue, but the senate will make short work of it.

The Republicans, who are anxious to get through and go home, plan to limit their opposition to mere states of position and negative votes.

Their attitude was summed up today by Senator Daniel O. Hastings [Rep., Del.], who attacked the finance committee for its action in approving the La Follette amendment on Saturday and then rejecting it Monday.

Attacks Maneuvers.

"The committee agreed on all controversial questions on the tax bill in executive session, held Friday and Saturday," Senator Hastings declared. "When I left at 3 o'clock on Saturday the bill was completed and ready for the draftsman.

"Senator Barkley [Dem., Ky.] returns on Monday after having spent a week-end with the President, and a meeting is had on Monday at 2 o'clock and the bill is rewritten practically in accordance with the President's desires.

"So far as I am concerned I am done with it, except for casting my vote upon the various proposals and upon the bill itself. It is a Roosevelt measure and I want him and the Democratic party to take it and make the most of it."

G. O. P. Encouraged.

From other sources it was learned that the Republicans feel that they accomplished their purpose in having in the La Follette amendment tentatively adopted and broadcast throughout the country. One senator stated privately that this served to bring home to the people the inevitable results of the New Deal, namely, a terrific tax burden that the rich cannot carry and the poor will have to bear.

The La Follette amendment would soak all incomes above $800 for single persons and above $2,000 for married persons, and yet it would pay only 10 per cent of the annual New Deal deficit.

Metcalf Chance Told.

It transpired today that Senator Jesse H. Metcalf [Rep., R. I.] could have blocked reconsideration and elimination of the La Follette amendment yesterday, had he cared to do so, for he had the proxy votes of both Senator Hastings and Senator Henry W. Keyes [Rep., N. H.]. These two senators, unlike Senator Metcalf, would have voted for the La Follette amendment and the result would have been 9 to 8 for it, instead of 8 to 7 against it.

One new provision of the tax bill reported by the finance committee was disclosed today when the printed document became available. This applies to undistributed adjusted net income of personal holding companies, now taxed at 30 per cent up to $100,000 and 40 per cent above $100,000.

Since proposed maximum surtaxes on individual incomes are 75 per cent, it would pay owners of personal holding companies in the top brackets to leave the adjusted net incomes undistributed and escape the higher rates. The committee, however, raised the personal holding company rates to 20 per cent up to $2,000 plus 30 per cent up to $100,000 plus 40 per cent up to $500,000 plus 50 per cent up to $1,000,000 plus 60 per cent above $1,000,000.

'AVOID ROOSEVELT IN 1936,' REED SAYS TO FELLOW DEMOCRATS

Fairview, Mich., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Former Senator James A. Reed, Missouri Democrat, predicted today if the Republican party adopts a good platform and nominates a good candidate, it can defeat President Roosevelt in 1936.

Reed said the Democrats should nominate a conservative candidate rather than Roosevelt.

"The one-man heresy of the man who happens to be President cannot destroy the Democratic party," Reed said. He added, the constitution, "cannot be destroyed by a President who swore to uphold it but who has tried to tear it down, aided by a disgraceful congress."

Reed suggested the Democrats nominate Alfred E. Smith, Senator Harry F. Byrd or Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland instead of Roosevelt. Reed said he did not know what part he would take to try to effect the nomination of a conservative Democrat instead of Roosevelt.

CRAMER OKAYED AS VIRGIN ISLES' NEW GOVERNOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—The senate, without a record vote, this evening confirmed Lawrence W. Cramer as governor of the Virgin Islands. Bitter attacks on his fitness and the régime which he represents were heard before the vote. This is the net result of the senate's investigation:

A promotion for Cramer, from lieutenant governor to governor.

The transfer of former Governor Paul M. Pearson to a newly created $8,000 job as assistant director of PWA housing under Secretary of Interior Ickes.

The forced resignation of Dr. Amy Stannard from the federal board of paroles, to make a place for Judge T. Webber Wilson, arch foe of Pearson in the Virgin Islands controversy.

Chicagoan Loses Life in Indian Point Channel

Daniel Pat, 21 years old, 1626 North Linder avenue, was drowned last evening in Indian Point channel off Fox lake, seven miles southwest of Antioch. Pat, who was a good swimmer, apparently was caught in weeds when he was twenty feet from shore. His brother, Clifford, 16 years old, went to his rescue but was unable to help him. The body was recovered. Pat, who was a grocery clerk, had been spending his vacation with an aunt, Mrs. A. Koenig at Grass lake.

ARRAIGN ZENGE; HE SHOUTS HIS PLEA TOO SOON

Loud "Not Guilty" Perils Attorney's Strategy.

With an air of calm assurance, Mandeville W. Zenge, tall young farmer-carpenter from Canton, Mo., stood before Acting Chief Justice John C. Lewe of the Criminal court yesterday morning and uttered a ringing "not guilty" to the indictment charging him with the mutilation murder of Prof. Walter J. Bauer, who married Zenge's sweetheart.

At the request of Assistant State's Attorneys Charles S. Dougherty and Mal Coghlan, Judge Lewe continued the hearing until Sept. 9, when Judge Denis J. Normoyle will have assumed the chief justiceship of the court. At that time the case will be assigned to one of the Criminal court judges for trial.

He Pleads Too Soon.

Zenege's not guilty plea, given before his attorney, Joseph P. Roach, had an opportunity to speak, created some confusion for a while. The lawyer obtained permission to withdraw the plea, explaining that at the next hearing he would probably make his preliminary motion to quash the indictment before pleading for Zenge, and thus keep the record in proper order.

Had Zenge's premature plea been allowed to stand it would have precluded all motions attacking the indictment, thus seriously hampering the defense strategy.

In response to questions from Judge Lewe, the young Missourian, who towered over the others in the courtroom, exhibited a smug composure.

Q. [By Judge Lewe]—How old are you? A.—Twenty-six. Q.—Where were you born? A.—In Canton, Mo. Q.—What nationality are you? A.—I'm an American. Q.—How long have you been in Chicago?

A Mocking Smile for Court.

Zenge paused a moment. Then a mocking smile broke over his lean face as he replied, "Two weeks."

Outside of court Prosecutor Coghlan said he had talked with nine persons whom Lieut. Otto Erlanson of the homicide squad found on the road between Ann Arbor and Chicago, and who have identified Zenge as having been with Prof. Bauer the night of his abduction on July 30.

The scientist was seized at Ann Arbor, where he was studying at the University of Michigan summer school, and forced at pistol point to drive to the south side of Chicago, where he was brutally mutilated with a penknife early the next morning. Witnesses have identified Zenge as the man who fled from a gasoline filling station where the dying college professor was deserted. Jealousy of his successful rival for the affections of Louise Schaffer of Kirksville, Mo., was believed to have been the motive. Dr. Bauer married Miss Schaffer, Zenge's former sweetheart, 12 days before the murder.

A fifth member of the gang is being sought.

MURDER VERDICT HITS FERRIS AND 3 "PARTY GIRLS"

6 Men, 6 Women on the Jury.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—After only 2 hours and 41 minutes deliberation a jury late this afternoon returned a verdict of first degree murder against William Lee Ferris and his three "party girls" for the $134 holdup slaying of Howard Carter Dickinson, prominent New York attorney and nephew of United States Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes.

The jury of six men and six women made no comment about Ferris or two of the former burlesque dancers, Florence and Loretta Jackson, but it recommended mercy for Jean Miller. That was without effect, however, as the sentence in Michigan for first degree murder is mandatory life imprisonment.

Two of Women Faint.

As the jury entered the courtroom Jean Miller and Loretta Jackson fainted, and later all three women were carried, screaming, from the courtroom. They had been extremely nervous and had wept much of the time throughout the trial. Ferris merely grinned.

Judge John A. Boyne said that sentence would be passed on Thursday.

The judge had told the jury, in his charge, that in the case of Ferris it might return a verdict of first or second degree murder, manslaughter, or acquittal. He said the women could not be convicted of manslaughter but that any one of the other three verdicts could be returned against them.

Repudiate Former Stories.

All four defendants had pleaded not guilty, repudiating detailed statements previously made concerning how they contrived to meet Dickinson in the bar of his Detroit hotel and then plotted to kill him to obtain funds to finance a tent show. They believed he carried a large sum of money, they had said.

In his final address Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea demanded a verdict that would send all four defendants to prison for life. He charged that the women were Ferris' decoys and fellow conspirators in drawing Dickinson into a cocktail party and luring him to his death in Rouge park on the night of June 26.

"They are just as guilty as if they put the gun to Dickinson's head," McCrea argued. "Without them Ferris would not have been able to accomplish his part of the crime. I demand that if you find them not guilty you also find Ferris not guilty."

Lake County Cedes Land to State for Huge Park

Anticipating the construction of a huge state park around the shores of Grass lake in western Lake county, the Lake county board of supervisors voted yesterday to quitclaim all land owned by the county and desired by the state for park purposes. This action applies in particular to 3,200 acres of marsh land on the shore of Grass lake, which are owned by the county. Harold Pillifant, chairman of the board, said he understood that the state plans to spend about $2,000,000 to build the park and in general improve the lakes in Lake county.

MRS. K. F. RICH CHOSEN CHIEF OF HULL HOUSE

Veteran in Social Work for Immigrants.

Mrs. Adena Miller Rich, director of the Immigrants' Protective league, has been appointed head resident of the settlement house to succeed the late Jane Addams. For twenty years she has been a resident of the house, where she lives with her husband, Kenneth F. Rich, a broker.

When Miss Addams was ill two years ago in Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, she exacted from Mrs. Rich the promise to assume the presidency of Hull house if the founder died. Miss Addams established Hull house 55 years ago.

The pioneer social worker lived until last May 21. Her choice of a leader met the unanimous approval of the board of trustees and of the residents of her institution. Mrs. Rich will take over her new task on Oct. 1.

Name Grace Abbott to Office.

Miss Grace Abbott, professor of public welfare administration at the University of Chicago and former director of the children's bureau of the federal department of labor, is to succeed Mrs. Rich as first vice president of Hull house.

In announcing yesterday the selection of Mrs. Rich as head resident of Hull house, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, president of the board of trustees, declared:

"We are very happy that Mrs. Rich has accepted the appointment. The death of Miss Addams left us without a director. Mrs. Rich's long association with Hull house and many years of personal friendship for its founder have prepared her admirably for this responsibility.

Wide Experience in Work.

"During most of one year she acted as Miss Addam's secretary. For several years she directed the evening and young people's clubs of the settlement, and has represented Hull House in many ways, particularly in handling special personal problems and difficulties of the foreign born."

Mrs. Rich is an honor graduate of Oberlin college. She held a graduate fellowship in the school of social service at the University of Chicago and has been a lecturer on immigration there for some time.

She has been director of the Immigrant's Protective league of Chicago for the last ten years. This post, she plans to retain. Mrs. Rich is a member of the executive committee of the Illinois committee on citizenship and naturalization, chairman of the section on immigration of the National Conference on Social Work, a member of the board of directors of the Illinois League of Women Voters, and of the Woman's City Club of Chicago.

Kenneth Rich is a partner in the stock brokerage firm of Morrill, Rich & Wilson, 200 South La Salle street.

EDITH CAHILL.

Anthony Marr, 43 years old, a truck driver, was in a critical condition in the Washington Boulevard hospital last night suffering from burns caused by a corrosive mixture which Mrs. Edith Cahill, 43 years old, threw on him early in the day in the flat in which they had been living at 2854 West Washington boulevard. It was said Marr probably would be blinded if he lives.

Mrs. Cahill, who was held at the Racine avenue police station, blamed her act on Marr's cooling affections. She said they had quarreled during the night about Marr's attentions to other women. When he asked her to get him a drink she remembered the solution of lye she had placed in a can under their bed a week ago, she told police.

Mrs. Cahill has a husband and a son 24 years old. Marr also is married and is the father of a 17 year old daughter.

DROWNING VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED AS MISSING TELLER

The body of a man taken from Lake Michigan off Montrose avenue early yesterday was identified last evening as that of George A. Stannard, 27 years old, missing teller in the National Boulevard bank of Chicago, 400 North Michigan avenue. Stannard dropped from sight last Friday and a search for him was instituted by his employers and his parents on Saturday. Bank officials said Stannard's accounts were in perfect order.

Identification was made by the young teller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Stannard of Lake Geneva, who came to Chicago last Saturday after their son's disappearance was noted by the bank.

Stannard's body was nude when found. His watch and wallet were lying on a dresser in his room at the Y. M. C. A. hotel, 1725 Wilson avenue. Police said he slept there on Friday night and they surmised that he might have drowned while taking an early morning swim alone. His parents said there was no reason for suicide.

PAROLE FREES "JEAN VALJEAN" FROM PRISON

Escaped Slayer Who Gave Self Up Released.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Fate wrote two divergent entries in the state's pardon and paroles records today as one modern "Jean Valjean" walked out of the state prison at Jackson a free man while another gave himself up at the Ionia reformatory.

By coincidence Ralph Thompson, a convicted murderer who made himself a respected citizen after his escape thirteen years ago, was released on parole on the same day that Nathan Corlew, who fled the Ionia institution in the deputy warden's car in 1922, came back voluntarily after his aprehension in Muncie, Ind.

Thompson was sentenced to life imprisonment in Marquette branch prison in 1916 after having been convicted of killing his landlord, Henry Picotte, in Ontonagon county.

Recognized by Inmate.

After his escape in 1920 he found refuge in Cleveland, O., where he obtained employment, married, and supported a family, including six stepchildren. In 1933 he was recognized by a former prison inmate and, under threat of exposure, decided to give himself up.

In view of his good record while free his sentence recently was commuted by Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, making possible his release today. He will resume his old job in Cleveland.

Corlew, sentenced from Eaton county in 1920 to serve from one to fourteen years for forgery, was paroled in August of 1922, but violated terms of his probation and was returned to the reformatory. Shortly afterward he fled in the prison officials' car after having stolen $40.

Employer to Aid Convict.

He also "went straight," obtaining a job with a trucking concern in which he proved his trustworthiness. His employer accompanied him today as, waiving extradition proceedings, Corlew returned to the reformatory. The employer, convinced of the ex-convict's sincere reform, indicated he will strive to obtain clemency for Corlew.

RELIEF STRIKER TO TEST ORDER OF ROOSEVELT

New Yorker Will Apply for Home Aid.

New York, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—The number of skilled laborers on strike on Works Progress administration jobs dwindled today while plans were made to test President Roosevelt's "work or get off relief" order by having a striking bricklayer apply for home relief.

The figures were supplied by the staf of Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, who said he did not consider anything to be a strike which involved a walkout of less than 1 per cent of those employed. Out of 100,884 persons employed on WPA projects of all kinds in the metropolitan area, the final figure for the day was 436 out on strike.

Meany Disputes Figures.

George Meany, executive manager of the Central Trades and Labor council, spokesman for the striking unions, again disputed the figures.

"I can't tell how many are out," he said, "but from reports we get Johnson's figures are far too low."

The executive committee in charge of the strike, headed by Thomas Murray, went into session with Edward F. McGrady, "troubleshooter" for the department of labor, but no statement of results of the discussion was made.

The test of the "no relief" order will be made by Thomas Martin, Bronx bricklayer. It was devised by David Lasser, chairman of the Workers' Unemployed union.

Striker to Seek Aid.

Martin was working on the Astor low cost housing project and was one of the strikers. Accompanied by Lasser and others from the unemployed union, he will go to a home relief station in the Bronx tomorrow and make his application for aid.

The question whether the city would provide home relief for strikers still had not been answered officially. Mayor F. H. La Guardia went to Washington for the day and there he was asked what his attitude would be.

"I had a meeting with the emergency relief board Friday and will have another tomorrow or the next day," he replied. "In the meantime, New York City will not scab on the federal government."

Gen. Johnson said the program of additional employment was going ahead, but that machinery of the national reëmployment service had not reached the point where it could fill the requisitions for 16,000 persons already made.

The strikers, he said, had been cut off the payrolls as of Monday night and will stay off unless some of those who did not report for work can prove illness. Others who wish to return will have to go back to the national reëmployment service and be drawn from the rolls there in natural order.

DELAY TEACHERS' SUIT TO PREVENT PENSIONING OF 2

Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan yesterday continued until tomorrow afternoon the hearing on a motion for a temporary injunction restraining the Chicago board of education from putting into effect its recent order retiring 242 teachers and principals over 65 years of age. The injunction is sought by John Groves, 68 years old, an attorney and mathematics teacher at Crane High school, and Mary E. Stanton, 66 years old, head assistant at the Ericson elementary school. Both teachers were included in the recent retirement order. Groves is acting as his own attorney in the case.

After listening to almost three hours' of argument, Judge Finnegan requested that the attorneys present more legal citation on the question of whether teachers have contractual rights in their positions.

YOUTHS ROB CAFE OWNER.

Two hatless youths halted Daniel Alexander, 103 East Oak street, part owner of the Casa de Alex restaurant in Lake Shore drive near North avenue yesterday and robbed him of $200.

IN COURT

LAWRENCE MONAHAN.

Fred Bohlman must go to trial tomorrow on a charge of carrying concealed weapons in the Oak Park union slugging case Judge John Prystalski of the Criminal court ruled yesterday.

Bohlman and Lawrence Monahan, officials of the teamsters' union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, were indicted for an alleged assault upon Peter Javaras, Oak Park florist, last June 12, after Javaras' refusal to join the Florist Drivers' union. Bohlman also was indicted on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Assistant States' Attorney Charles S. Dougherty asked a separate trial for Bohlman on the concealed weapons charge yesterday because the two men named four sitting judges in a change of venue petition on the assault charge. Since the Criminal court is on a reduced summer schedule, it would have been necessary to import another Criminal court judge in order to try the men together on this charge, so the joint trial was postponed until fall.

NAMED TO PRISON POST STILL HELD BY C. D. ROBINSON

James J. Doody, 8037 South Carpenter street, garage owner and former city policeman, appeared at Stateville prison yesterday with a letter from A. L. Bowen, director of public welfare, appointing him superintendent of prison industries at both Stateville and Joliet.

Presumably it was intended to have him displace Chauncey D. Robinson, who has held the job for 30 years. But Robinson had not been ordered discharged and Doody did not immediately assume his duties.

Frank D. Whipp, warden at Stateville, said that the appointment of Doody had no connection with the escape of Henry J. [Midget] Fernekes, notorious bank robber who walked out of Joliet ten days ago in civilian clothes. After Fernekes' departure four guards were dismissed for inefficiency, but the investigation has since languished, officials declaring that they could find no evidence of bribery.

Two in $4,000 Gem Theft Will Be Returned Today

Lloyd Stephens, 21 years old, 1519 Jackson boulevard, and Robert L. Thomas, 27 years old, 1945 Congress street, who were held by Milwaukee police last night after they had admitted stealing jewelry valued at $4,000 from Thomas' sister, Mrs. Anna Nelson, will be returned here today. Mrs. Nelson, who lives at 2014 Washington boulevard, was notified that the two had been arrested and said she would appear at the detective bureau this morning. Thomas and Stephens were seized in Milwaukee after they had attempted to dispose of a diamond ring, part of their loot, to a jeweler.

U. S. TO HUNT OUT DELINQUENT AND EVADED TAXES

Will Hire Force to Scan Small Income Returns.

The federal government will start a campaign in Chicago on Sept. 3 to collect delinquent taxes on small incomes and to ferret out evaded "nuisance" and alcohol taxes, it was disclosed yesterday. The bureau of internal revenue here will put on 350 additional employés for the task.

Funds to pay wages of the new investigators will be provided from the four billion dollar appropriation granted by congress to President Roosevelt for giving employment to 3,500,000 persons now on relief.

Federal officials have asked Dr. A. H. R. Atwood, director of the Illinois employment service with which all relief clients are required to register, for the 350 employés.

700,000 Returns to Scrutinize.

C. W. Herrick, revenue agent in charge at Chicago, put in a request for 125 persons to carry on the investigation of smaller incomes. It was explained that for several years the bureau of internal revenue has received annually throughout the country approximately 700,000 income tax returns of all types for scrutiny by revenue agents. About 350,000 of these usually were investigated. These returns were for larger corporations and of individuals reporting larger incomes.

For example, all individuals reporting gross incomes of $25,000 or more and all corporation returns for $75,000 or more gross income were forwarded to agents in the past.

Collector of Internal Revenue Carter Harrison has asked for 145 agents to be assigned to study the delinquent "nuisance" taxes on such articles as jewelry, fur, radios, and cosmetics. For the collection of evaded retail liquor taxes, such as stamps on bottles, E. C. Yellowley, supervisor of the alcohol tax unit, has asked 80 employés.

Teachers File Protest.

Ralph H. Burke, deputy Illinois administrator of the Federal Works Progress administration, received a protest petition during the day from teachers in the federal emergency education program. The teachers objected to new orders from Washington that they must register as relief clients to be eligible for education work under WPA. The teachers are now being paid from direct relief funds, but are expecting to be transferred to the new government agency.

Eleven projects scattered through the state were sent to Washington for approval by national WPA officials yesterday. The federal government, according to the proposals, would furnish $134,165 and local communities, $41,811.

Bundesen Denies Campaign on Rats Is Harming Dogs

Complaints of dog owners that their dogs have been poisoned in a rat eradication campaign being waged by the Chicago board of health have been shown by tests to be unfounded, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board, said yesterday. Dogs examined have been found to be victims of strychnine, which is not contained in the poison being used on rats, Dr. Bundesen said. Fifty relief workers are employed in the rat campaign, said Maj. Joel I. Connelly, sanitary engineer for the board. He estimated that the campaign has covered 6,572 city blocks, and that 1,087,000 rats have been destroyed.

Evanston Will Vote Today on Bonds for Street Work

A special election will be held in Evanston today to determine whether the suburb shall issue $200,000 in bonds to defray in part the cost of repaving and resurfacing projects on 30 streets. The polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Striking Shipbuilding Workers Vote Against Ending Walkout

Camden, N. J., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Striking employés of the New York Shipbuilding corporation tonight voted unanimously against ending the thirteen week strike under the terms of the arbitration plan proposed by the navy department.

At a mass meeting at Convention hall the strikers authorized the dispatch of a telegram to President Roosevelt asserting that they would not return to work until the company agreed to recognize the Industrial Union or Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America, the group that issued the strike call. The company has refused recognition on the ground the union represents only a minority of the workers.

Vote by Show of Hands.

The vote against accepting the settlement plan, which the union termed a "company plan" despite the fact the Secretary of Labor Perkins announced it was drawn up by the navy department, was by a show of hands. It is estimated that 2,200 of the strikers attended the meeting.

Prior to the meeting strike leaders criticized Secretary Perkins' latest activities in connection with the strike. They attacked her for an intimation that she now holds the union responsible for prolonging the strike.

David S. Cole, secretary of the union's negotiating committee, charged in an affidavit filed in Chancery court that Secretary Perkins was "absolutely unfair" to the union. He declared that the proposed five-point settlement plan was "a company plan and not actually the original plan tentatively accepted by the union."

Second Attack Made.

His affidavit was presented in connection with the corporation's petition for an injunction to stop picketing outside the shipyard. Vice Chancellor Francis B. Davis gave both sides permission to file additional affidavits.

The second attack upon Miss Perkins was directed by William C. Pommerer, acting president of Local 1 of the union, who expressed "shocked surprise" over her statements at a press conference yesterday at which she made public the provisions of the arbitration plan.

"Evidently Miss Perkins is attempting to muster public opinion against us and thus to force us into the acceptance of an unjust and illegal settlement, or, rather, defeat," he said.

Three Shot in Strike Clash.

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Gunshot wounds were suffered by three men at Bayou La Batre, fishing center near here, today in a clash between union and nonunion workers in the shrimp industry.

Textile Workers Walk Out.

Salem, Mass., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—All but about 100 of the 2,000 employés of the Pequot Textile mills went on strike today in protest against the company's refusal to grant a 25 per cent wage increase.

19 Arraigned Over Strike.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Nineteen nonunion employés of the John Morrell & Co. packing plant were arraigned in Municipal court today on various charges brought by union strikers in retaliation for the arrest of 26 of their number last week. Hearings were set for tomorrow.

REDUCED WIDTH TO CUT COST OF STATE ST. SPAN

The city council committee on streets and alleys yesterday revised plans for a bridge over the Chicago river at State street, reducing a width of 108 feet, first proposed in 1930, to 90 feet. The new plan will be submitted to the city council at its meeting today, and Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, will be instructed to seek federal funds to build the span on the new basis.

The change was made because of the abandonment of plans for the construction of a subway and also of a proposal to widen State street from the river to Chicago avenue to 108 feet. It is expected that the move will save at least $200,000 in the cost of the bridge. The original estimate was $3,500,000. An additional $900,000 saving in widening costs is expected if the street is widened to only 90 feet. The 108 foot widening project was expected to cost $3,741,185.

KANSAS RELIEF STRIKERS CAMP AT COURTHOUSE

Salina, Kas., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Relief strikers camped on the courthouse lawn tonight, setting up stoves and cooking food given by Salina merchants.

Leaders of the crowd of 200 announced they would remain until their demands—$3 a week per family for grocery orders, 25 pounds of ice, and a quart of milk daily for each family with children, and a guarantee against eviction for nonpayment of rent—were met.

County commissioners granted one request—for milk and ice, said County Attorney Sanford Manker appealed to state relief headquarters at Topeka for additional funds.

53 WPA WORKERS STOP 4 PROJECTS IN ZANESVILLE, O.

Zanesville, O., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Authorities reported tonight that "peaceful persuasion" was employed by some 200 men today to halt work on four Zanesville Works Progress administration projects. Fifty-three WPA workers left their jobs when the men, claiming to represent the unemployed league, appeared on the scene.

Several of the WPA workers said they were willing to continue on the job but that they laid down their tools because they were outnumbered.

The delegation of 200 offered no violence, authorities said. Their spokesmen were identified by officials as Richard Hyett and Carey Davis.

Words in praise of the Gin Rickey

Take it from one who knows, a gin rickey, properly made, is a hot weather blessing for those who do not cotton to sweet beverages.

Gordon's Gin, made tart with the juice of half a lime and livened with iced sparkling water! It is a joy to hot, dusty throats.

Take warning, however. Be sure the bartender pours from the Gordon bottle.

For that matter, it pays to call for Gordon's Gin whenever you step up to the bar for a gin drink.

Gordon's is one of the world's favorite gins, the tops in every nation and every clime.

Made by a secret formula that is now 166 years old, it costs a trifle more, but who can say it's not worth the extra price?

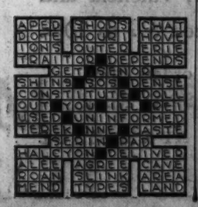
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinny underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. We find artists, doctors, theatrical producers (and husbands!) all agreed upon this point. "My husband says I look 5 years younger," writes this lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unburdened her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter:

"Having heard from a friend of mine that she lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 159 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way.

"I have inquired of my dressmaker my measurements which in August last were bust 40, hips 43½, waist 33½ inches which is normal for my height, which is 5 ft. 8 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen as I do not take any particular diet." (Mrs.) S. R., London, England.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but a trifle—take as directed every morning. When the bottle is empty get on the scales and see how many pounds you have lost. Attention to diet will help—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—

But remember, this: to take off fat harmlessly and SAFELY be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at any drugstore in the world and if the results one bottle brings do not delight you—do not joyfully satisfy you—why money back.

CARL CRAVEN'S CHORUS WINS IN FESTIVAL SING

Present Winner at Soldiers' Field Saturday.

Only Four Days More!

Only four days remain in which to buy tickets for the Chicagoland Music Festival Saturday. Thousands of reserved seats have been sold, but thousands more still are available. They may be had at the Tribune Public Service offices at 50c each.

A hundred women, members of the Carl Craven Ladies' chorus, won the coveted musical honor last night of representing Chicago and Cook county in the women's choral contest at the Drake hotel on Saturday afternoon.

If, competing with choruses from as far away as Canada, they emerge victorious from the finals, they will be acclaimed as champions at the great Chicagoland Music Festival, sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, at Soldiers' field on Saturday night.

Under the direction of Mr. Craven's baton the chorus sang "Cossack Lullaby" and "Dearest Lord Jesus."

Second place went to the Midwest Women's chorus, a group of forty, all mothers, directed by Mrs. Sylvia E. Holtsberg. They sang "The Prayer Perfect," by Stinson, after the required "Cosack Lullaby."

Mixed Choral Finals Tonight.

Judges, who later led the large audience in community singing, were Le Roy Wetzel, George Rees, and Henry Loeppert.

Tonight at 7 o'clock at the Drake hotel the Chicago-Cook county contestant in the mixed choral finals will be chosen. Among the contenders will be the chorus of the Irish Society of Music and Drama, the Albany Park mixed chorus, Emanuel Reformed church choir, Tercentenary choir, Chicago and North Western Railway Choral club, South Park Methodist Episcopal Junior choir, Ukrainian Chorus of Chicago, Civic Choral Society of Chicago, Uptown chorus, and the Roseland Kiwanis club chorus.

At the bandshell in Grant park yesterday afternoon Roy Wells directed a rehersal of the unique "accordion square" of 500 players, which will be a feature of the music festival.

DRUM MAJORS' CONTEST

BY PHIL MAXWELL.

A new feature will be presented in connection with the sixth Chicagoland Music Festival when forty-five drum majors compete in a baton twirling contest for gold, silver, and bronze medals Saturday morning and afternoon at Soldiers' field. The public is invited to all Festival contests, for which there is no admission charge.

There will be two twirling contests, one for adults and one for juveniles. The six who take first, second, and third places in these contests, together with all other participants, will mass at the great music festival Saturday night in a grand spectacle and will present an exhibition accompanied by the festival band playing the Sousa "Liberty Bell" march. They will be directed by Victor Grabel, general music conductor of the festival. The drum majors will encompass the field, and in the center will be Larry Hammond, famous twirler, in an exhibit of flaming batons.

Competing Baton Whirlers.

The Chicago adults are Thomas Lavorene, 5826 South Claremont avenue; Theodore Peyton Murphy, 7527 Stewart avenue; Herman Wiegman, 5722 Fulton street; James Bartlett, 6321 North Oakley avenue; Edward Kaczynski, 4343 Addison street; Ray Gaedke, 5359 Wilson avenue; Gene Chmill, 2946 North Hamlin avenue; Maj. C. W. Boothe, 1317 Ritchie court; Richard Abercrombie, 5912 North Paulina street; Mildred Douglas, 945 Edgecomb place, and Dorothea Brady, 3020 North Christiana avenue.

The Chicago juveniles are Daniel Lavorene, 5826 South Claremont avenue; Charley Anderson, 10139 Calumet avenue; Ted Erickson, 1650 West 105th street; Ward J. Flanagan Jenssen, 3109 North Harding avenue; Marcella Mae Zowada, 3041 North Parkside avenue; Jack E. Brown, 3653 Lawrence avenue, and Howard Evans, 3032 South Kedvale avenue.

The judges of the baton twirling competition are to be Joseph Grolimund of Elkhart, Ind., and David Eisendrath, the drum major of the University of Chicago.

Offer Humorous Touch.

Fred Miller, chairman of field activities, said yesterday that several touches of humor will be added when the competing drum and bugle corps take part in the opening parade this year. These will include the appearances of Eisendrath and of Jerry Haveika, famous one man band of Grays Lake, Ill.

Maj. George Malstrom, assisted by Harold Bachman, bandmaster, will have charge of the drum corps contest, beginning promptly at 10:30 o'clock. The judges are Fred Bachrodt, Park Ridge, Ill.; Eugene Kerzman, John Hamilton, and Carl Kelly, all of Chicago.

TWO FLEE JAIL.

Salem, Ind., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—H. Marvin Massey, 20, Detroit, and Oral Barnhard, 20, Salem, held in Washington county jail as suspects in a stolen car ring, broke jail this afternoon.

PWA TAKES OVER NORTH SIDE SITE FOR 565 HOMES

Acquire Old Deering Plant —$2,750,000 Project.

Options on seventeen acres of the original Deering works of the International Harvester company on the north side were secured yesterday by the Public Works administration as the site for a contemplated $2,750,000 federal housing project, according to an announcement by Public Works Administrator Ickes in Washington yesterday.

The property is bounded on the south by Diversey parkway, on the east by Clybourn avenue, on the north by Oakdale avenue, and on the west by Leavitt street and the north branch of the Chicago river. Ickes said that fireproof homes for 565 families will be erected shortly on this tract.

Work May Start Soon.

All the buildings on the site except the old Deering rolling mill, which is to be razed, have been wrecked. With the land entirely clear, PWA officials say work can start shortly.

Eighty per cent of the proposed 565 dwelling units, containing 1,970 rooms, will be in three story apartments and the balance in two story row houses and flats.

Central heating, hot and cold running water, and refrigeration will be provided.

Property to Be Landscaped.

Only 30 per cent of the site will be occupied by buildings. The balance will be landscaped with trees, shrubs, and flowers.

Although local housing officials declined to comment on proposed rentals, Washington advices said the schedules would be between $5 and $6 per room.

ROOSEVELT, HOOVER STAMP COLLECTORS, CONVENTION TOLD

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and former President Hoover were disclosed today to be fellow stamp collectors.

At the opening session of the golden jubilee convention of the American Philatelic society the collectors listened to a message from Roosevelt that extended a "welcome to fellow members" and lauded selection of "the nation's capital for the auspicious meeting."

Then the convention was told Hoover had applied for membership in the national society and the Washington group, host for the meeting. Officials said the former President will be granted both memberships.

Secretary Ickes, like the President, a member of both groups, termed himself "only a common barnyard collector" in welcoming the convention.

Eugene Klein of Philadelphia was elected president of the organization by a mail ballot. Philip Warren, Mrs. C. L. Manning, philatelist in charge of the government's collection at the Smithsonian institution, and Hugh L. Southgate, all of Washington, were voted to the board of vice presidents which rules the organization between conventions.

H. A. Davis of Denver, Colo., was reëlected secretary; H. H. Elliott of Winchendon, Mass., treasurer; Adolph Stegg of Buffalo, N. Y., international secretary, and A. H. Wilhelm of San Francisco and Clarence W. Hennen of Chicago, directors.

Denies Writ to Put Tax Instalment Law in Force

Circuit Judge George Fred Rush upheld yesterday an opinion of Attorney General Kerner by denying a motion for a writ of mandamus which, if granted, would have put the Saltiel seven instalment delinquent tax payment act into operation. The measure was passed by the general assembly, but by virtue of Kerner's opinion both State's Attorney Courtney and County Judge Jarecki have ignored it as unconstitutional. Former State Senator Roy C. Woods and Attorney William F. Struckmann plan an appeal.

MERGER PARLEYS OF METHODISTS GET UNDER WAY

Preliminary sessions of the joint commissions of three branches of American Methodism were held yesterday to complete plans for reunification of those churches. The meetings are being held at the North Shore hotel in Evanston.

The three churches are the Methodist Episcopal church (northern), the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and the Methodist Protestant church. Yesterday's meeting was presided over by Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of Washington, D. C., northern church leader, and former head of the Chicago area.

Today's sessions will be the first embracing the entire commission, which is composed of about 50 persons. It has been announced that virtually all details of the plan of reunion, together with important reorganization of the proposed reunited church, will be completed before the commission adjourns from its Evanston sessions late this week. The churches have been seeking a basis of reunion since 1920.

PAIR ROBBED OF CAR AND CASH.

PENSIONS GIVEN BACK TO SPANISH AND BOXER VETS

Roosevelt Cuts 46 More Millions Off 'Economy.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—After ten days of indecision President Roosevelt late this afternoon took a firm grip on his pen and signed the 46 million dollar bill restoring pensions of veterans of the Spanish-American war, the Boxer Rebellion and the Philippine insurrection.

At the same time the President served notice that his approval of the bill established no precedent for pensions for veterans of the world war. He declared the case of the world war veterans is entirely different from those affected by his signature because of the care and benefits granted the former by congress.

Cuts "Economy" to Million.

By this action the President reduced his highly touted 700 million dollar economy act of two years ago to less than 100 million dollars. Within two weeks of the Roosevelt inauguration congress, with a beating of drums, passed the act designed to carry out Democratic campaign economy pledges.

In the succeeding two years congress, with full administration sanction, has chiseled off million after million by restoring pay cuts and veterans' benefits. The restorations were accomplished with almost no protest as the New Deal spending orgy brought the cost of running the government to 7 billion 376 million dollars in the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Holds Situations Different.

In a statement released after the signing Mr. Roosevelt said:

"The congress on many occasions has recognized that because of the complete absence of any system or policy initiated during or immediately following the civil war, the Indian war, the Spanish-American war, and because of lack of adequate medical care from the point of view of modern standards, the veterans of these earlier wars could be compensated and taken care of only through some form of pension system," he said.

"In the case of the World war, however, the congress at the very beginning of the war adopted an entirely new system of care and benefit. This new system applied to all who fought in the World war, extended to them additional compensation if they had dependents, as well as insurance, hospitalization, vocational rehabilitation, and the adjusted service certificate [the bonus].

"The veterans of the Spanish-American war, now approaching an average age of 62 years, had none of these advantages except hospitalization in recent years."

Court Refuses to Balk Highland Park 'Dry' Law

An injunction to restrain the village of Highland Park from enforcing its dry ordinance was denied yesterday by Circuit Judge Edward D. Shurtleff of Lake county. The restraining order was sought by F. W. Cushing, president of the Moraine hotel in Highland Park. He alleged that only a small part of the 1,200 signatures on the petition demanding a referendum on the issue were valid. Cushing said he would appeal.

'93RS REVIVE OLD CLUB AND SWAP HAPPY MEMORIES

Columbian Exposition Luncheon Draws 60.

The Association of '93rs, made up those who had some part in the glamorous World's Columbian Exposition of 1893, was revived yesterday at a luncheon attended by sixty persons at Mrs. Wall's tearoom, 14 East Monroe street.

Mrs. Peter Holland, "the flying grandmother," was there, and Mrs. Dora Eisenstein, who was the Russian beauty in the House of All Nations, as well as Maj. Arthur B. Gage, who was the first to enlist in the famous Columbian Guards and who now is commander of Old Glory post of the G. A. R.

"Always Young and Fair to Me."

"There ought to be a law," said Mrs. Mae M. Gibson [toastmistress of the occasion and revivalist of the organization], "against those who say, when asked if they went to the World's Fair, 'Yes, but I was a mere babe in arms.' I was there in maturity and am not afraid to tell of it."

Nevertheless, when Mrs. Gibson asked for a showing of hands of those who had been "mere babes in arms" at the time, many hands went up, chiefly those of the women.

Capt. R. D. Parker of Downers Grove, who says he carried the news of Abraham Lincoln's nomination from the Wigwam to THE TRIBUNE'S office, invited the members to meet next time at his home and said he didn't "give a rap" how many came.

Many Pleasant Memories.

Mrs. Holland, when 74 years old, without the knowledge of her family or friends, flew in the Graf Zeppelin from Akron, O., to Europe.

One member recalled that while wandering around the exposition he met the girl who later became his wife. Maj. Gage said he would give his shoes to find the girl he wheeled one night from the fair grounds to the Cottage Grove avenue car line.

Barnard Mandl, another 93'r, displayed a watch which once belonged to Jefferson Davis.

SKIPPERS OF BOOKIE BOATS PEER IN VAIN FOR SEAGOING POLICE

Seagoing Sam Zito, master of the ship, Sam's Showboat, and his erstwhile partner, Skipper Pete Karger, top man of the rival ship, Sea Dog, looked shoreward yesterday from the crow's nests of their respective crafts some miles out in Lake Michigan ready to extend a welcoming hand to Chicago policemen who were to raid the ships as gambling places. But the policemen did not arrive.

Police Commissioner Allman, on orders from Mayor Kelly, is demanding that all police commanders keep race handbook establishments closed. Two police captains have been suspended because of laxity in carrying out the orders.

Yesterday Police Captain William J. O'Brien of the Chicago avenue station obtained warants from Judge William J. Brooks calling for the arrest of any one found keeping a gaming establishment on a boat. But it seems that most every one in Chicago knew the police were going to embark in some kind of a boat or other and call on Skippers Sam and Pete. So Capt. O'Brien decided not to go for the time being. He said he will go some day when he is least expected.

Agents of E. C. Yellowley, district supervisor of the alcohol tax unit of the United States treasury department, found Seagoing Sam had bought a license, but didn't have it properly posted, so he was told to quit selling anything stronger than lake water until the license was hung on a wall.

John Roosevelt Arrested as Speeder at Irvington, N.Y.

Irvington, N. Y., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—John Roosevelt, youngest son of the President and a hard-riding polo player at Harvard, was arrested today on a charge of speeding 54 miles an hour. A motorcycle patrolman followed him for half a mile while he was driving alone from the Roosevelt estate at Hyde Park, N. Y., to New York City.

TROOPS PREPARE FOR INSPECTION, GOVERNOR'S DAY

Two Events Scheduled for Tomorrow.

[BY A STAF CORRESPONDENT.]

Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 13.—Troops of the 33d division, Illinois National Guard, today were "policing up" their shoes and buttons in preparation for the two big events of Thursday—the annual federal inspection and the observance of governor's day.

Early Thursday morning the camp units will assemble for the inspection by regular army officers, who will grade both officers and men on their efficiency and submit their reports to the National Guard bureau in the war department. It is largely on these reports that federal appropriations are made to carry on National Guard units.

Horner to Review Troops.

Gov. Henry Horner, who is commander in chief of the state troops, will arrive at the encampment by air about 10 a. m., accompanied by his two personal aids, Col. Lawrence P. Bonfoey and Col. Robert Straus.

Following inspection the troops will assemble on the main parade ground and at noon will march past the reviewing stand to salute their commander.

The rest of the afternoon will be spent by the governor visiting the regimental and smaller units.

Today at noon Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, acting division commander, was host to a delegation of sixteen members of the Illinois Manufacturers' association.

Division Has War Game.

Earlier in the day the entire division maneuvered over the southern part of the military reservation in mimic warfare.

For the purposes of the tactical problem the forces were divided into two armies, the "reds" to the south and the "blues," with superior numbers, to the north. The 106th cavalry saved the day for the "blue" army with an encircling movement and captured the communication center of the "reds."

HISTORIC PISTOL CHARGE RETOLD AT VETS' REUNION

How the crack Astor battery in its historic pistol charge took a leading part in the capture of Manila on Aug. 13, 1898, was recounted by two Chicago members of the New York outfit at a banquet in the Hotel Sherman last night celebrating the battle's 37th anniversary.

The banquet was a highlight of the reunion of the Eighth Army Corps Veterans' National association. Oscar E. Carlstrom, past commander of the United States Spanish War Veterans association, was a guest of honor.

Ernest G. Dahl, wholesale flour dealer, and George S. Geis, real estate man, were the two Chicagoans in the battery sponsored by Col. John Jacob Astor.

"As we advanced through the rice fields and swamps during the drive on the city," said Dahl, "our guns became jammed with dirt. We continued fighting with our pistols."

Frank S. Lawrence, Glendale, Cal., was elected national commander of the National society, Army of the Philippines, at their annual reunion in the Stevens hotel.

Doctor's Wife Asks Divorce on Grounds of Cruelty

Dr. Martin Schupman, a physician at 514 Fullerton parkway, was sued for divorce yesterday by his wife, Lillian, who charged cruelty. She also alleged that her husband had associated with an unnamed woman for three years, despite her protests. Attorney Benjamin Davis obtained an injunction from Judge Charles A. Williams restraining Dr. Schupman from disposing of $100,000 in securities which his wife claims he possesses.

MAIL THEFT SUSPECT FINED.

Hallic Minnick, 33 years old, of St. Louis, arrested on Aug. 7 as a suspected mail box thief, was fined $190 by Judge Frank M. Padden in the South State street court yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct. He has served a prison term for rifling mail boxes.

MAP OBSERVANCE OF CONSTITUTION WEEK SEPT. 15-21

A committee of 250 Chicago leaders applied yesterday to the park board for a permit to use Soldiers' field on the night of Sept. 17 for a mass meeting commemorating the 148th anniversary of the approval of the United States constitution by the convention of 1787.

The 250 leaders plan to finance the celebration by voluntary gifts. They say the gathering will be "noncontroversial and nonpolitical."

Another constitution week ceremony will take place on Sept. 15 in the Chicago Historical society, North avenue and Clark street. This program, according to L. H. Shattuck, director of the society, is to include the presentation of the Board of Trade post of the American Legion of a French flag and the regimental colors of the section sanitaire unit 623, 61st infantry division of the French army. M. Rene Weiller, French consul general, will present the colors and then decorate them with the croix de guerre. The outfit contained many Chicagoans.

VETS AT CAMP FRIGHTEN TOWN; WOMEN ARMED

Coddled by New Deal, Men Are Problem.

Blaney, S. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—In this little village of less than 200 citizens and in the surrounding cotton section women go armed and men are reluctant to leave their homes, for fear that some of the 265 war veteran "bonus marchers" encamped about three miles from the town, will invade the farm homes and insult or attack the women folk.

These "bonus marchers," bedraggled veterans picked up from the streets of Washington by the Federal Emergency Relief administration and shipped away to prevent a mass concentration that might create another "bonus march," are coddled and entertained in their camp. Outside the camp, particularly when they have money from the relief coffers—they get from $30 to $47 monthly—they are a problem to police—and a threat to the safety of the community.

Another Evil Looms.

There is another evil, too, citizens say, which is more ominous than that which followed the civil war.

The camp here is the fourth one in South Carolina. Its population brings the total for the state to 964. They cost the government $53 per month per man.

In the camps near Charleston the men "work at" grading a road between the white and Negro camps. Near Kingstree, the men are constructing a golf course for a white population of less than 1,500.

It is even stranger here. The sole occupation of the 265 men is devoted to making themselves an old fashioned "swimming hole." At times they must of neeessity dig a new latrine. They play baseball and go into Camden, about 13 miles away, in groups of twenty-five to see picture shows.

Originally CCC Camp.

This camp was originally a CCC camp. The younger men completed their job of reforestation and moved away. The swiming hole was first a private fishing pond, and the CCC boys left it as it was found.

The veterans, however, drained the pond by breaking the earth dam, pulled up numerous stumps and built themselves a diving stand in the middle of the area. Then they rebuilt the dam. About 1,000 gallons of water flows through the spillway per minute.

Boughs from the pine trees which surround the area were used to build rustic benches on the hillside about the pond. Only electrification is needed to transform the place into a beautiful nocturnal lagoon which any city would be proud to have in its center.

Sandy soil of the roads leading to the camp retard trafic in dry weather and become quagmires after rains.

But there is but little trafic except on pay days and for a few following days when the penitent veterans return to their haven. During the rest of the month the veterans "foot it" to a nearby beer shack and to the homes of "brass ankle" girls.

DIXMOOR TRAFIC ARRESTS BRING ON NEW INQUIRY

Charge Police Fix and Collect Fines.

Unusual methods employed by Policeman Robert Greco of the Dixmoor department in arresting motorists and, it is alleged, "fining" them without taking them to court came under scrutiny yesterday.

Dixmoor is the bailiwic of Mayor Charles Special. The town, formerly called Specialville, was the target of a speed trap investigation last year by the state's attorney's office. Last year's inquiry followed the discovery that Mayor Special's policemen were arresting motorists for alleged violations of a stop sign that stood in Harvey, near the Dixmoor boundary.

Policeman Greco was formerly a deputy sherif. He and Edward Seliga now comprise the Dixmoor's police.

Flossmoor Farmer Complains.

The complaint that brought the inquiry into Policeman Greco's methods was made by Richard Van Loo, a Flossmoor farmer, who charged Greco arrested him for speeding through Dixmoor last month. Van Loo said Greco promised to drop the case, but that on Aug. 5, Greco phoned his home saying a warant had been issued against him and that a $5 fine would have to be paid to settle the case.

Van Loo said that Roy Frankworth, a hired hand in his employ, took $5 to a gasoline station in Homewood, outside Greco's jurisdiction, and paid the "fine" to Greco.

"I noticed," Frankworth said, "that the warant Greco carried looked as if the name of the defendant had been erased and Van Loo's written in. It was not signed by a judge."

Explain About Fine.

The receipt Greco gave Frankworth for the $5 bore a notation on the back that the money was in satisfaction of a speeding fine before Police Magistrate Charles A. Braun of Dixmoor. Magistrate Braun said yesterday that he had not issued a warant for Van Loo's arrest, and that he had not received the "fine" money from Policeman Greco.

"I can explain that," Greco said. "The warant was issued by Justice of the Peace Anthony F. Heintz of Blue Island, and I paid him the money."

"Yes," said Justice of the Peace Heintz. "I issued the warant and I got the money."

Quiz Suspect on Deaths of Two Boys on Highway

John Bornet, 49 years old, a farmer who lives near Mokena, was held last night at the Chicago avenue police station as a suspect in the deaths on July 22 of John Pitzmeyer, 14 years old, 6853 Ridgeland avenue, and George Maloney, 12 years old, 6736 Ridgeland avenue. They were killed by a hit and run motorist on the Southwest highway near 131st street.

'NOT INTERESTED' IN ALEXIS' WILL, BARBARA SAYS

Leaves Denmark to Meet Mdivani Family.

WARNEMUENDE, Germany, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Countess von Haugwitz-Reventlow, the former Barbara Hutton, said today she had "little interest" in the will of her late first husband, Prince Alexis Mdivani.

The Woolworth heiress, passing through here en route to Paris and Venice with her second husband, was pale but smiling.

"I haven't seen the will," she asserted, "and of course I have no knowledge of what is in it if there is one. What is more, I have little interest in it."

She had been told of a report that Alexis, killed Aug. 1 in an automobile accident, had left her from $400,000 to $1,000,000.

Back to Denmark Some Time.

Barbara said she did not know how long she would remain in Venice—"it may be a month or so, perhaps longer. It all depends"—at this she smiled and broke off the sentence. Count Kurt von Haugwitz-Reventlow smiled. The couple arrived from Denmark, where Barbara paid her first visit, lasting two weeks, to her husband's estate.

"Of course we are happy," she said, "and we are happy to be going to beautiful Venice. Beyond that our plans are indefinite. . . . Denmark is lovely; I am looking forward to going back some time."

In Paris Barbara will meet brothers and sisters of the late Prince Alexis. It was understood they would decide upon division of his estate.

Barbara wore a blue, tailor made outfit and appeared happy. Seven servants and 67 pieces of luggage accompanied the couple. An unconfirmed rumor was that Barbara tipped servants at the Hardenberg castle of her husband $2,000.

"Fortune Intact."

GERONA, Spain, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Jose Maria Sert, artist and brother-in-law of the late Prince Alexis Mdivani, said today the prince's fortune, variously estimated at from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000, was entirely intact.

JAIL CHURCH ORGANIST AND 2 OTHER AUTOISTS

Judge Frank M. Padden in the South State street court yesterday found three men guilty of reckless driving and sentenced them to terms in the Bridewell.

Joseph Kapustka, 38 years old, 2101 East 83d street, a church organist, was fined $100 and sentenced to serve 30 days as the result of an accident on April 17 when his car crashed into that of Fred Busse, 1803 West 47th street, at 56th street and Ashland avenue. Charges of driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident were dismissed.

Lester J. Meyers, 28 years old, 7413 Kenwood avenue, was fined $50 and given a 5 day jail sentence. On July 27 his car struck and injured Edward J. Pinkowski, 1412 West 51st street, as he was crossing 55th street at Winchester avenue.

A 5 day sentence was imposed on Vincent Higgins, 35 years old, 4211 Ellis avenue, who was arrested July 28 for driving his car on the wrong side of 53d street near University avenue.

John Rosseter, Former Head of Shipping Board, Is Ill

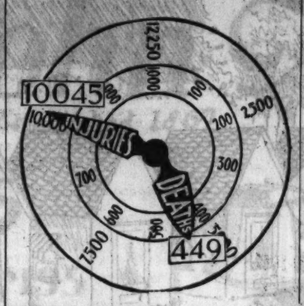
THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1935 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

7 HURT AS AUTO, HIT BY ANOTHER CAR, JUMPS CURB

Four of Victims Struck on Sidewalk.

Seven persons were injured, one critically, in the crash of two automobiles at Clark street and Bryn Mawr avenue yesterday. Four of the victims were standing on the sidewalk as one of the cars careened over the curb and struck them.

Mrs. M. J. Perkins, 26 years old, 5627 Wayne avenue, was the most seriously injured. Her left leg was crushed so badly that amputation may be necessary. She was hurled against the front of a drug store by the automobile that climbed the curb.

One of the cars was driven by Mrs. Marjorie Wilson, 52 years old, 5905 North Hermitage avenue. The other was driven by M. J. Clark, 45 years old, steward in a Civilian Conservation corps camp near Lemont.

Woman's Car Blamed.

Witnesses said Mrs. Wilson's car struck that of Clark, sending it lurching over the curb. Morris Levine, his wife, Sarah, and Joseph Eder, all of 5705 North Clark street, also were struck by Clark's car.

John Sherman, 45 years old, 1839 West Erie street, a passenger in Clark's car, incurred fractures of several ribs.

Clark and Mrs. Wilson, after receiving first aid, were charged with reckless driving on complaint of Maxwell Perkins, husband of the injured woman, and will appear in the South State street court today.

Three Die of Injuries.

Three persons died in Chicago yesterday of injuries incurred in automobile accidents Monday. Their deaths brought the 1935 automobile toll for Cook county to 564. Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 449 persons had been killed in automobile accidents within the Chicago city limits, and 10,045 had been injured. The deaths:

Miss Doris Kettlecamp, 23 years old, a maid in the home at 1001 South Home avenue. She died in the West Suburban hospital in Oak Park of injuries sustained when she was struck while riding her bicycle at 1212 Oak Park avenue, Berwyn, by an automobile driven by Irving Learn, 19 years old, 1018 South Wisconsin avenue, Oak Park.

Stanley Koziol, 26 years old, 2336 South Troy street. Died in the county hospital of injuries incurred when he fell beneath the wheels of a truck driven by Kiren Callahan, 35 years old, 2325 South Troy street, on which Koziol had hitched a ride.

Frank Kulik, 50 years old, 1501 Superior street. Died in the county hospital of injuries received when he was struck while walking in Ashland avenue near Erie street by an automobile driven by Arthur Olsen, 1653 North Central Park avenue.

SAFETY REPORT FAVORS TURNS ON RED SIGNALS

Detroit's Stop First Idea Appears Better.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Leslie Sorenson, trafic engineer for the city of Chicago, and George Barton, engineer for the Chicago Motor club, are gathering great volumes of statistics here. Those may be interpreted to support their objections to Chicago's adoption of a right turn at a red light as practiced here. But tonight, after three days of such research, they were unable to discount entirely a current bulletin from the national safety council listing New York's annual automobile death rate at 11.5 per 100,000 population, as compared with Chicago's rate of 21.0 per 100,000 population.

"On a gasoline consumption rather than a population basis," said Mr. Sorenson, "Chicago would make a much better comparative showing. Chicago's 480,000 motor vehicles travel many more miles per car than do the 736,000 vehicles in New York, where congested streets encourage greater use of common carriers such as the subways and the elevated lines."

"Congestion is so acute on the island of Manhattan," added Mr. Barton, "that it holds the speed of trafic to a safe crawl, just as the loop is about the safest place to drive or to walk in Chicago.

"The elevated highway here has helped by taking a large volume of express trafic off the surface streets, isolated from pedestrian and from cross-town auto trafic. The recent favorable accident report for New York is in spite of its right turn on the red light."

New York police permit a right turn on the red without a preliminary stop. Detroit requires the preliminary stop, as has been proposed for Chicago.

NEW YORK STATE MORE THAN 97 MILLION IN RED

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 13.—(AP)—New York state is more than 97 million dollars "in the red," records of the state controler showed today. On June 30, last, when the fiscal year of 1934 ended, the deficit was $97,029,788.31. The deficit, it was stated, was due "almost entirely to a falling off in revenues."

STEVENS COLLEGE WARDROBE STEVENS

The candid camera catches these College girls who play star parts at the opening of our College Wardrobe!

BARBARA BISCHOFF, Illinois, looks ready to dash back to school in this two-piece suit of angora wool with lapin top coat. All for 69.75.

JUNE WILSON, Northwestern; ALICE HOLMES, Chicago, look pretty pleased about something. June wears a tweed coat with lynx, 69.75. Alice a monotone tweed coat with grey persian, $58.

MARIJO HOLLAHAN, St. Mary-of-the-Woods; CATHERINE HEPBURN, Vassar, must be an airplane they're looking for! Marijo has a silk crepe jacket frock, 29.75. Catherine a wool jacket frock with flying squirrel, 22.75.

OUR College crowd has been at work all week preparing for this gay opening! Now they're all ready to tell you about the new fashions to take back to College!

THEY'LL advise sweaters and skirts of course, and knockabout clothes to make you look like a Junior instead of a Freshman. BUT, they're up on the new things, too! They're vitally interested in the new silhouette with pinched-in waist, wide belts, smooth hips and the new swing to the skirts that does so much for a College girl's figure. They're all agog over the Renaissance influence! In fact, they won't let you miss a single fashion trick!

The College Wardrobe—Fifth Floor

JANE McINTOSH, Northwestern, shows how becoming the new Halo Hats can be. This one is felt, 5.95. We wish you could see more of the dress, it's so smart—a two-piece velveteen, 17.95.

JANE LUNDAHL, Wellesley; CATHERINE HEPBURN, Vassar. Some fun, judging by the grins! Jane wears one of our exclusive Valcuna sweater frocks, 12.95. Catherine a Good Shepherd shetland slipon, $5; cardigan, 6.95, and tweed skirt, 6.50.

KILL DESERTERS ON SIGHT! ITALY ORDERS GUARDS

33 Reported Slain, 500 Seized Along Frontier.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NICE, France, Aug. 13.—Desertions into France of Italians seeking to escape military service in Ethiopia have become so numerous that customs guards and carabinieri have been reinforced by detachments of Fascist militia with orders to shoot without warning any one found crossing the border or prowling along it, according to increasingly insistent reports from anti-Fascist sources here.

According to figures given to THE TRIBUNE correspondent by anti-Fascist leaders, nearly five hundred deserters have been captured on the Italian side of the border and interned and thirty-three have been killed trying to get across in the last two or three weeks. Not only deserters, but also money smugglers have been the object of the recently sharpened frontier surveillance.

Since the strengthening of the guards on the Italo-French border, the stream of Italian deserters is said to have been diverted to the Swiss frontier.

Big 3 Envoys Gather in Paris.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—(AP)—A three cornered effort to settle the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel without war was ready to start tonight with the arrival of Capt. Anthony Eden, Great Britain's minister for league of nations affairs.

Eden is reported to have brought with him a plan to give Premier Mussolini control in effect but not in name over Ethiopia.

A reconciliation of French and British views is the first step in the negotiations, which will begin formally Friday when Premier Pierre Laval of France, Baron Pompeo Aloisi of Italy, and Eden meet. Eden and Laval will talk tomorrow and Aloisi and Laval Thursday to smooth out the rough edges of their conflicting arguments.

Emperor Haile Selassie, whose throne and country are at stake, has not been invited but will get occasional news through his minister to France, Tecla Hawariat.

More Italian Troops To Africa.

ROME, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Three more ships laden with troops, war materials and workmen sailed for Italy's east African colonies tonight as the government completed arrangements to send its delegation to the tri-power conference in Paris.

Well-informed circles believe Baron Aloisi, the Italian delegate, will listen politely to all suggestions for solution of the Italo-Ethiopian problem advanced by France or England, but in the end will maintain the Italian right to deal with Ethiopia in Italy's own way.

Lord Cecil Assails Italy.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Lord Cecil, former undersecretary for foreign affairs, said today "only plain speaking can save us from repetition of the fateful blunders of 20 years ago.

"We must tell Italy in plain, decisive words we are not bluffing and that we are ready to carry out our solemn obligations to the league covenant, no matter how drastic an action may be required," he asserted.

"Our path is clear. First England must exercise economic and diplomatic measures to prevent hostilities. If those fail, we must call on the league members to unite to halt force by force if need be."

France Mounts Guns in Africa.

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, Aug. 13.—(AP)—France is taking precautions to protect its interests in French Somaliland. Large long-range naval guns have been mounted on islands off the coast from Djibouti. The French cruiser Dumont-Duville will arrive on Aug. 18 and will remain during the period of expected Italo-Ethiopian hostilities.

New airplane hangars are being constructed and additional airplanes are en route here from France. Djibouti is being enmeshed in barbed wire. The present Sengalese garrison will be reinforced by 1,000 additional troops.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

Gay Wild Flowers

Aug. 13, 1935.

THE wild flowers on the Wheaton experimental farm seem to be holding a sort of late summer carnival these days. When I walked over part of the farm yesterday it seemed as if every field had dressed up for this gay affair, each flower or flowering weed now in blossom trying hard to outdo its neighbor in the competition for color and attention.

Walking through the east woods I found three of the most striking of all of our August flowers teaming it up to lend an air of gayety to the place. First in color and beauty is the cardinal flower with its brilliant scarlet blossoms. The cardinal flowers are numerous in a moist ditch—the kind of location that they like. Looking at the vivid scarlet blossoms of this plant you can't help but think how it excels the red bird or cardinal [its namesake in birddom] which I heard whistling in the woods while I was hiking along the old creek bed.

The cardinal flower is keeping strange and interesting company in the east woods. Without moving from one spot near a clump of green willows I saw scores of four and five foot high flowering ironweeds that are a rich, deep purple in color; many clumps of monkey flowers, those small blue blossoms not more than 18 inches or two feet above the ground, each curious flower with two tiny dabs of yellow in it; that annual favorite, the blackeyed Susan, and several small members of the mint family, which bear small inconspicuous white flowers. These have such a pungent unmistakable scent that you can smell them before you even see them.

The ironweed, each stalk bearing many purple blossoms, is an August flower that commands your attention because of its size and color. The rich purple tints in its flowers can be matched only by the vervain, another August flowering weed now in blossom. Vervain is easy to identify because it has long, spikelike blossoms that look like the upper arms of a small candelabrum.

I found one fence row near an alfalfa field that now is a mass of colorful wild flowers. Here the wild sunflowers [tall yellow blossoms with yellow center instead of brown as you see in the blackeyed Susans] were fighting it out with the lacy wilk carrot flowers. Then when the sunflowers lost out along the fence row the blackeyed Susan [the vagrant that has hoboed its way into Chicagoland from the west] took up the banner and carried it along. As if these two yellow flowers were not contributing enough autumn tinting to the green fence row, the early goldenrod is growing there. I also found along this fence a beautiful lilac or purplish flower that now is common all through Chicagoland—the wild begamot. It has a kind of a cluster of blossoms at the top of its stem and grows two feet or more high. Sniff the aromatic plant and you can guess its family connections very quickly, because its relatives are the peppermint, catnip, and other members of the mint family.

Down by the pond where the Muscovy ducks are enjoying life I looked out on a field of yarrow, a flat topped flowering weed with a cluster of small white blossoms, while around the edge of the pond is a heavy growth of monkey flowers shyly hiding their blossoms.

Of all the wild flowers on the farm, I doubt if any has more names or more history behind it than the common yarrow. It even has the name "soldiers wound-wort" because it is supposed to be a remedy in the treatment of wounds, and this same plant has been used as a love charm.

STATE TO SPEND 5 MILLIONS FOR FARM PROMOTION

Report Shows Where Money Goes.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13.—(AP)—The state government will spend approximately 5 millior dollars in the promotion of agriculture in the next two years.

The 1935 general assembly, which appropriated $388,999,244 for all phases of the state's activities in the current biennium, allotted $4,207,580 to the department of agricultural as well as numerous smaller sums to allied endeavors.

Included in the department's appropriation is one item of $197,500—the state's share of the salaries paid to the county farm advisers. There is another $50,000 representing the state's contribution to the salaries of county home advisers and still another of $400,000 which is the sum set aside for state aid to county fairs.

$80,000 for 4-H Prizes.

For the payment of premiums to 4-H clubs there was appropriated $80,000 as well as $45,000 for the payment of general county fair premiums.

The Illinois state fair, which gets underway at Springfield Saturday, was allotted $517,010 for operating expenses the next two years as well as an additional $268,000 for premiums.

Other sums appropriated to the department, which are included in its $4,207,580 allotment, include: $135,810 for its general office; $61,400 for seed inspection; $1,046,400 for its division of animal industry; $32,500 for apiary inspection; $89,140 for the division of plant industry; $388,440 for food and dairy inspection; $17,200 for dairy husbandry; $66,900 for poultry husbandry; $38,640 for the division of markets; $34,760 for the compilation of agricultural statistics; $601,560 for grain inspection; $88,060 for the division of standards which inspects weights and measures.

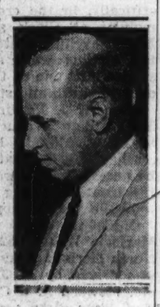
Depend on Race Money.

Many of the activities in which the department of agriculture is engaged are contingent on the receipt of monies from pari mutuel betting—the license fees paid by the race tracks being placed to the credit of the department for much of its work.

Somewhat akin to the department of agriculture is the department of conservation for which the assembly appropriated $1,003,560 for the biennium. With the exception of the division of forestry, this department is operated entirely on the receipts of hunting and fishing licenses.

Study Will Drawn in 1595 to Blast "Estate" Bubble

Photostatic copies of the will of Sir Francis Drake, dated August, 1595, were being studied by Assistant United States Attorney Austin Hall yesterday as the federal government prepared to send representatives to Devonshire, England, to establish, for all time, that there is no fabulous undivided Drake estate. The prosecutors say the Drake estate swindle has been carried on in some form in this country and in Europe for more than 200 years, and thousands still are being defrauded on "investments" in promoting claims to the mythical fortune.



AUSTIN HALL.

Next Monday 43 defendants accused of mail fraud in an attempt to raise a legal jackpot to obtain control of the Drake estate will be arraigned before Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan, and Prosecutor Hall is expected to ask that they be placed on trial in November.

One Defendant in Prison.

The principal defendants include Oscar M. Hartzell, a former Iowan now serving a ten year sentence in Leavenworth prison for a similar "Drake estate" swindle; Canfield Hartzell, who carried on after his brother was sent to prison; Otto Yant, 616 Rust street; Lester Ohmart, and Delmer C. Short, both of 19 East Bellevue place.

Yesterday, from Washington, Chief Postal Inspector K. P. Aldrich assigned Robert E. Lewis, a Chicago inspector, to go to England to gather evidence to show that no unclaimed estate was left by Sir Francis. If Attorney General Cummings decides that it is necessary, Mr. Hall will make the trip with Lewis.

It is believed that Hartzell and the other defendants collected more than a million dollars from 70,000 persons who, during the last ten years, have followed the will-o'-the-wisp trail to riches that led nowhere. Newspaper files are filled with other fraudulent "Drake" operations during the last two centuries, which makes it almost as famous as the "Spanish prisoner."

Warned of Fraud in 1910.

There have been many revivals of the swindle in recent years. As long ago as 1910 Robert T. Lincoln, who had been minister to Great Britain back in the '80s, repeated a warning he had given when in London, that the Drake estate was a fraud so far as any American heirs were concerned. He said he had repeatedly warned prospective victims of this hoax, but that it nevertheless was being worked year after year to the grief of American "suckers'" pocketbooks.

British records show that the real Drake estate consisted only of 6,000 acres of land in Devonshire, and according to the will Hall now is studying, all of it was disposed of to living relatives at the time of Sir Francis' death. A lawful heir, Sir Francis Fuller Elliott Drake, died in 1916 and left other heirs who still possess what is left of the estate.

The curious document now on Hall's desk bequeaths the bulk of the estate to Sir Francis' brother, Thomas Drake. The widow—"Dame Elizabeth," as her husband referred to her—received property in Plymouth and a bequest of twenty pounds.

The will originally was drafted in "court Latin," later translated to classic Latin, and thence reduced to quaint Elizabethan English. The photostatic copy is of the English version.

Greek General Strike Turns Out to Be Fiasco

ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 13.—(AP)—A heralded general strike throughout Greece was only partially successful today and passed off without incident. Public service workers in Athens did not join the walkout and it failed in most other cities.

ROPER'S KIN SEES HITLER IN POWER FOR A LONG TIME

American Calls Nazi Rule Soldier-Socialism.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—"The present German government will last indefinitly because there is no force in Germany that would be able to create a new democracy."

This is the conclusion reached by Frank Bohn, specialist on international relations and son-in-law of Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper of the United States. Bohn, who has just completed a 2,000 mile tour of Germany, said the Nazi system should properly be termed "soldiers' socialism."

"Germany, far more than Russia or Italy, exemplifies the system of the soldier Socialist," he said. "The Nazis are creating a strictly disciplinary, organized society, in which the last grains of political liberty and economic 'laissez faire' have been torn off and discarded."

Baffled by Jewish Problem.

Bohn, seeking to investigate the Jewish problem, conferred with the assistants of Julius Streicher, anti-Semite leader, in Nuremberg, but admitted that he "is still hunting for light on this perplexing question."

To strengthen the position of official Nazi newspapermen Minister of Interior Frick today ruled that preferential treatment must be accorded to journalists wearing the Nazi press badge.

Through iron bars reinforced with a double thickness of chicken wire, the English consuls in Munich today were allowed to speak to a Canadian citizen, Gebhard Mosl of Ontario, an official of the Ontario Silk Net corporation. Mosl was arrested by the G. S. P. [secret police] for criticizing the anti-Jewish drive during a conversation with a person whom he believed a friend.

Mosl is not a Jew. He was naturalized in Canada in 1933. He went to Munich to visit his father. On Friday night he told a friend he had found the anti-Jewish drive "barbaric."

Best Friend a Jew.

"My best friend in England," he said, "is the Jew who is my employer."

The G. S. P. arrested Mosl Saturday noon. The British consulate learned of the arrest today. It immediately made representations, and the consuls were allowed to speak to Mosl.

The British authorities induced the Nazis to move him from the G. S. P. prison to an ordinary police prison. The Nazis refused to release Mosl.

PEER DEFENDS SELF IN COURT ON THEFT CHARGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Lord Edward Montagu, son of the duke of Manchester, who himself was convicted recently of pawning jewels which did not belong to him, but was released on appeal, was examined today in West London police court on a charge of stealing a check for £13 [$64.61] and forging an indorsement.

The plaintif was Mrs. Violet van der Elst, a rich woman who has attained the limelight by campaigning against capital punishment. The check was one paid to her by David Cope, a bookmaker.

Montagu denied stealing the check, saying Mrs. van der Elst gave it to him and signed the indorsement. Police today produced a photographic enlargement of the indorsement, which they claimed showed plainly that it had been inked over a carbon tracing.

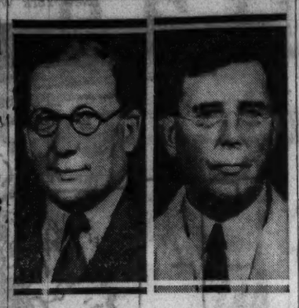
Mrs. Van der Elst said Montagu had been employed by her as secretary and was "always wanting money."

The examination was adjourned for a week.

BANK ACCOUNTS FOR S. M'CORMICK ESTATE SPENDING

The sixth annual accounting on the handling of the Stanley R. McCormick $25,000,000 estate was filed yesterday with M. C. Robin, clerk of the Probate court, by the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, the managing agent. The 88 page report for 1934 lists a total of $1,418,849 in receipts, and $711,676 in expenditures for the personal needs and care of Stanley McCormick and for maintenance of Riven Rock, the McCormick estate at Santa Barbara, Cal. Among the items are $373,418 for the maintenance of the Riven Rock estate, $149,624 for medical attendance, and $183,984 for servants and household expenses. Conservators are managing the affairs of Stanley McCormick, who was declared incompetent several years ago.

CHICAGO VISITORS



F. LLOYD DUMAS. [TRIBUNE Photo.] DELAMORE McCAY. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Editors of two Australian newspapers paused in Chicago yesterday on their way home from London, where they attended and reported the jubilee year festivities. They are F. Lloyd Dumas, managing editor and director of the Advertiser, Adelaide, and Delamore McCay, editor in chief of Sun Newspapers, Ltd., Sydney.

During the day they visited the plants of the Goss Printing Press company and THE TRIBUNE. Mr. Dumas' paper has ordered two Goss presses identical with those used by THE TRIBUNE. They mean a $500,000 expenditure in Chicago.

The two men left Australia seven months ago, first traveling to Cape Town, South Africa, to attend the imperial press conference which is held once every five years.

GOVERNOR ADDS HIS REBUKE ON TACTICS OF NAZIS

Curley Answers German Consul's Protest.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Baron Kurt von Tippelskirch, German consul general, tonight politely advised Massachusetts' legislators who had charged Germany with religious persecution to mind their own business. He was told by Gov. James M. Curley the legislators had expressed the "secret opinion" of most Americans.

Von Tippelskirch had written to Leverett Saltonstall, speaker of the house of representatives, that yesterday's passage by the house of a resolution protesting racial and religious persecution in German was "unwarranted and unpardonable interference with the domestic matters of my country."

Governor Rebukes Consul.

The German consul sent a copy to the governor. Gov. Curley was quick to respond.

"Personally I do not find myself in accord with you in your views with reference to the action as taken by the general court [legislature] of Massachusetts," retorted the governor, "believing as I do that the protest is timely and represents an honest and open expression of the secret opinion of Americans generally.

"Massachusetts from the beginning of our government has been regarded as one place in the world in which the public could assemble and give honest expression to what they rightly regarded as oppression or persecution upon the part of any nation in the world.

Attacks Tactics of Nazis.

"In my opinion the adoption of the resolution may serve a dual purpose:

"First, in ending persecution and oppression, and, secondly, in emphasizing in no uncertain terms that a pursuance of the program that has been followed during the past year by the Nazi government is abhorrent to right thinking women and men the world over and not in keeping with the spirit of the times and must inevitably work greater injury to its proponents than to those against whom the persecution and opposition are directed."

A DEFICIT TOO BIG TO MEET.

On Saturday the senate finance committee for the first time faced the fact that the government is spending 4 billion dollars a year more than it is receiving in taxes. Accordingly, the committee voted large increases in the taxation of all classes of incomes. The rates on big incomes were advanced sharply. The exemption for married men was to be reduced from $2,500 to $2,000. The exemption for single men was to be reduced from $1,000 to 800. The surtaxes were to begin to bite incomes as small as $3,000 a year.

The gap to be closed was 4 billion dollars wide. The senate committee saw clearly that the 270 million dollar soak-the-rich bill which the house had approved was a ridiculous futility. It threatened the economic life of the country but didn't begin to bridge the gap between income and outgo. Let us face the fact, said the senators [on Saturday], that we cannot squeeze what we need from the rich alone even if we take all their incomes. Let us balance the budget in the only way it can be balanced, namely, by soaking the small and moderate incomes as well as the big ones.

That stern resolution lasted until Monday. Over the week-end the members of the committee had a chance to cool off and view their work at leisure. What they found was this: The increases they had recommended, amounting roughly to a doubling of the taxes on small and moderate incomes, would yield only 175 million dollars, all told, of added revenue. Turning the screw farther than it ever before had been turned, they could squeeze only 400 or 425 million dollars more from the taxpayers, rich and poor together, than is now obtained.

The house, obeying the orders of Mr. Roosevelt to soak only the millionaires, had been able to find only 7 per cent of the deficit. The senate committee laughed at that piffling effort, but when it adjourned [on Saturday] it had met only 10 per cent of the deficit. To raise even that much money it had been obliged to recommend crushing burdens upon several million taxpayers already irritated by the rising living costs imposed by the New Deal.

The senate committee's schedules were scarcely less futile than those of the house and politically were ruinous. That is why the committee on Monday abandoned its recommendation of Saturday.

All of this maneuvering is contributing greatly to the education of the American people. They are learning that at the rate at which the government is now spending money the budget cannot be balanced no matter what the tax rates may be. The richer can't pay the bill, the poorer can't pay the bill, and neither can the richer and the poorer together. As there is no slightest reason to suppose that the spending is going to be abated as long as the present administration is in power, the conclusion that the Roosevelt spending means bankruptcy cannot be escaped.

Bankruptcy, in turn, means repudiation. Inflation is one method of repudiation, but whatever form it takes, repudiation will impose a capital levy which few, no matter how clever, can avoid. Some shortsighted taxpayers may think that they have escaped something, now that the senate committee has changed its mind. There has been no escape; there has been only a postponement.

MICHIGAN CITY'S HARBOR.

Michigan City's request for $80,000 of federal easy money for harbor improvements has been turned down. The official explanation was that the work wouldn't employ enough men; too much of the money would go for materials.

The east gets the breaks. Every little indentation of the Atlantic coast receives its harbor improvements at federal expense as a matter of course. The theory is that the little harbors are useful in international trade. The pretense is that you never can tell when the Normandie, the Europa, or the Manhattan may decide to land passengers and cargo at Kennebunkport instead of New York.

The fact, of course, is that the harbor improvements on the coast are intended primarily for pleasure yachts. Once in a while a coal barge or a fishing schooner in distress is accommodated, but for the most part the ports are maintained for sportsmen. The existence of plenty of harbors where yachts can obtain supplies and take refuge in emergencies makes of the Atlantic coast a yachtsman's paradise.

The Chicago region has been given no comparable improvements. The four or five yacht harbors in Chicago are overcrowded. To the north, south, and east the ports are widely spaced and are essentially industrial in character. Michigan City offers an ideal objective for a run from Chicago, but the government which does everything to encourage yachting in the east does little to encourage it on the Great Lakes.

THE O'CONNOR BOYS IN WASHINGTON.

Brother Basil and Brother John J. of the New York O'Connors are working opposite sides of the street in Washington. Basil is attorney for the Associated Gas and Electric utility. John J. is chairman of the rules committee of the house of representatives. When Mr. Roosevelt was in a law firm Basil was his partner. John, as committee chairman, has charge of a lobby investigation.

There is a difference of opinion in the family. Except for fraternal affection Basil is bound to think that John is Public Enemy No. 1 and John must think that of Basil. John's investigation, along with a similar one in the senate, is intended to put several million investors in their place, which is to be a tight one. These are the thrifty. They are also the meek. When the meek cry out against injustice congress must find a noise louder than their cries. Yelling thief at a utility makes a loud noise. Brother Basil's utility obliged Brother John by doing the politically foolish things that a foolish politician can make the most noise with.

Brother Basil should have known better, but probably it was not his fault that Mr. Hopson of the Associated Gas and Electric company brought Brother John's spirit to the boiling point. John boils easily, as Dr. Magill discovered to his amusement. Mr. Hopson thereupon became Washington's most sought after hideout. The committee secret police, the congressional GPU, the bloodhounds of the New Deal, took up the scent and led the chase to every tree but the right one. The baying filled not only the district but the hills and dales of Virginia and the green sloping fields of Maryland.

Mr. Hopson is probably the most astonished man in the country. How could he get in bad, whatever he did? Basil was one of his attorneys, the former partner of Mr. Roosevelt, the brother of the chief inquisitor. Mr. Hopson thought he was wired, as the quaint saying has it, both to the White House and to Capitol Hill. He also has as another attorney Mr. Patrick J. Hurley, Republican secretary of war under Mr. Hoover, just in case of the improbable event that a Republican could do any good. Mr. Hurley says that any one who thinks so is crazy.

All is not bitterness, however, in this fraternal strife. John sent his special agents on a domiciliary visit searching for Mr. Hopson, not to Basil's residence but to raid Mr. Hurley's house in Leesburg, Va. John is not the sword which knows no brother. Blood is thicker than water, if we may believe the adage, although there is no innuendo that Mr. Hurley is water. If so it was hot water when the ex-man of war saw the lean visages of the O'Connor scent hounds at his Virginia windows. We'll credit him with unprintable thoughts.

We hope Basil and John will not fix themselves so they can't eat their Thanksgiving dinner together. Neither one of them will get any of Mr. Hurley's. What is all the big noise about? At this point we return to the meek. They are to be robbed of their savings, and their cries are smothered while John shouts havoc and urges the scent hounds in all directions. He is one of several reasons for referring to it as the new heel.

WHEN MR. LOUIS MEETS MR. BAER.

Joe Louis of Detroit is regarded as at least a part time Chicagoan. He is an alumnus of the Golden Gloves. They certainly were. Joe borrowed car fare to come to his first Chicago tournament. Last week he got $47,000 for practicing his art for two minutes and twenty-one seconds on King Levinsky. If there had been more rubber in the King the remaining thirty-nine seconds might have been occupied. It may otherwise be true that art is long and life is brief, but not in Joe's case.

What Joe did to Carnera has not been referred to the council of the league of nations along with the Ualual incident, but Carnera, who for a while was the answer to a Fascist prayer, has been humiliated by the Italian director of sports. For being untrue to Fascist athletics he has been given the imperialistic frown, as an encouragement to the others.

Joe and Max Baer have been matched for more art to be exhibited some time in September. A Chicago or a New York gallery will be selected. The thing is a natural for Chicago. Here is where Joe started making gloves golden. The trip here is an easy one for the Detroit populace. Almost any tires can last it out and for the return the Detroiters may be able to buy new ones.

The men backing the fight business in Chicago and New York have reputations, but they are not identical. They are different. New York has had more experience in promoting fights the wrong way. The best one could ever say of a New York fight was that it might have been on the square. Maybe the gamblers or the gangsters had nothing to do with it.

Out here no one is up to tricks. The facilities are better than New York's. The money is here. The fight should be. This is where the exhibition of the art of Mr. Louis and Mr. Baer can best be offered to the public.

STAMP OUT THE DEFICIT.

[Beloit, Wis., News.]

Now that congress is in a scramble over ways to raise more money and cut down the deficit, it isn't well to pass up this one.

It seems that the postoffice department sold, from March 15 to June 15, around $1,600,000 worth of a special series of stamps.

Now these weren't ordinary stamps. They weren't perforated, and they weren't gummed. They were never meant to go on letters, and no postman was ever to walk a mile on account of them.

They were sold to collectors who put them in albums. There is something in stamp collectors that makes them buy such stamps and keep them. The rest of us will never know what it is, but it's there.

Now the profit to the government must have been around $1,500,000. That means that this performance needs only to be repeated about 18,000 times to pay off completely the public debt.

Talk about living by taking in one another's washing! All we need to do is become stamp collectors and buy one another's stamps!

THE TOY EXPRESS.

The engine starts, the coaches clink,
An elfin whistle blows;
All aboard for passage East,
Or maybe West—who knows?
The tickets cost no money,
There is no dust nor care,
No dull fixed destination—
This train goes everywhere!
To Bagdad or to Shanghai,
To Persia or Japan—
To gather cherry blossoms
And buy a painted fan.
Oft travelers to So and So,
With noise and steam and stress,
Seek goals no less fantastic
Than by a Toy Express.
It winds through paths enchanted,
And you find it looking back
To bitter herbs of memory
Along the primrose track.
The engineer, in overalls,
Makes light of magic things,
Like trips in ships around the moon,
For all his thoughts have wings.
He's seeking gnomes and giants,
And princesses in thrall;
It's nothing for a Toy Express
To climb a castle wall.
The sun strikes out a track of gold,
The sky's a silvery blue—
Oh, little boy in overalls,
I'd like to go with you! Don Meredith.

MEXICO CLOSE UP.

Harvey: Recently returned from a month spent in and around Mexico City. Was there during the rainy season. Because Mexico is a mountainous country furnishes the reason for so many disastrous washouts along the railroad lines, making travel uncertain and hazardous.

There is very little unemployment in Mexico and far more building of all kinds than here at home. They have strikes, too, but seldom violence. It looks to me as if the government is doing a good job. They settle local disturbances with neatness and dispatch.

Policemen and soldiers are encamped wherever you go and a bandit never has a chance to break jail. He simply digs his own grave and the soldiers fill it up with him in it. There are few traffic regulations and few accidents because police make it tough for the man who failed to have his brakes adjusted.

It soon will be possible to drive to Mexico City over a good road. Then the people of this country will discover Mexico and go there in increasing numbers. C. A. K.

Of her smile, of her flash, of her wit!
There are rumors of what a grand life she has led,

And I take up a picture serene.
She is sitting there quietly day after day
Just the same as she always has been.

For she dazzles my breath quite away,
But I linger here long with another instead,
For I love the sweet Lady in Gray.

TUBERCULOSIS OF THE SKIN.

In our study of disease we are realizing more and more that few infections are purely local; that is, a scratch on the finger may lead to a blood stream invasion with destruction of tissue in all the important organs of the body. Furthermore, specific types of bacteria may affect more than one tissue. This is particularly true of tuberculosis. We recognize tuberculosis of the lungs, the kidneys, the bones, the liver, the intestinal tract, the skin, and many other parts of the body. We also know that tuberculosis attacks birds, swine, and cattle.

One of the most stubborn forms of human infection with this widespread organism is tuberculosis of the skin, called lupus vulgaris—the word "lupus" meaning "the wolf."

When the cause of tuberculosis of the lungs was discovered by Robert Koch the possibility of the organism affecting the skin was not considered. It was not long, however, before the butterfly-like eruption on the face with a wing on each cheek was investigated and the tubercle bacillus found in the crusty eruptions.

The bacillus gains entrance to the skin through abrasions or breaks in the outer layer, although the disease may be spread from tuberculous glands or sinuses. Not infrequently a blood stream infection carries the organisms to skin capillaries.

Lupus vulgaris is more common on the face, although the skin of the extremities and various parts of the body may be involved. The disorder begins on the cheek or about the nose, and the first evidence is often a minute, dark appearing nodule or a purplish area. The patch gradually extends, absorbing tissue as it goes. Because of destruction of the tissue beneath the skin the face may be distorted and deformed. At first there is considerable swelling, later followed by the appearance of crusts, and unless prompt treatment is instituted marked deformities of the features usually result.

Extensions of the disease from the skin to the mucous membrane of the nose, lips, mouth, palate, and tongue sometimes occur. As a rule the infection is chronic and some cases have been known to exist for thirty or more years. Occasionally the condition will apparently heal, only to take on a new lease of life and extend to fresh areas.

The diagnosis is based upon the existence, past or present, of tuberculosis in organs other than the skin, particularly the glands and the joints. Confirmation may be secured through guinea pig inoculations or by a laboratory examination of a small portion of the diseased area.

Only within recent years has treatment been reasonably successful. Following the brilliant discoveries of Niels Finsen on the importance of ultra-violet light in the cure of skin tuberculosis, new hopes were aroused. The objective in the light treatment is to bring about an inflammatory reaction designed to destroy the disease process and promote healing. Ultra-violet from the carbon arc lamp is most effective. Large doses will be required and the period of treatment is six months or longer.

In a long series of cases in which the Finsen light was used 60 per cent were permanently cured; that is, the treated patients had been free from the disease for several years.

Of the utmost importance is the maintenance of good hygiene and the building of body resistance. Cod liver oil [illegible] thyroid extract are used. Sunshine, fresh air, and hygienic surroundings are essential.

We must recall that the disease generally begins in childhood and is more frequent in girls than in boys. Insufficient food, a poorly balanced diet, and lack of sunlight are important factors. Prompt recognition and early treatment are necessary if we would avoid deformities and unsightly scarring.

ILLS OF ELDERLY.

K. L. writes: What are physicians doing for diseases that affect elderly people?

REPLY.

Medical science is now called upon to direct considerable attention to the care and treatment of those who are chronically ill. As the conquest of contagious diseases becomes more perfect, a still larger proportion of our population will survive to the decades in which degenerative diseases become manifest. Even now the span of life has been considerably lengthened, and this perhaps accounts for the apparent increase in diseases of the heart and blood vessels. Nervous disorders, kidney troubles, gland disturbances, arthritis, diabetes, and cancer must also be included. Members of the human family have become accustomed to life adjusted to a certain speed. If we are to live longer in comfort, we must lessen the speed; in other words, with advancing decades we must proceed with reduced acceleration.

EARDRUM THICKENS.

M. B. writes: What kind of a condition is hardening or thickening of the eardrum? Is it serious? Will it lead to deafness? Is there any treatment?

REPLY.

Thickening of the eardrum is the result of chronic inflammation in the external or middle ear. This inflammation may be caused by various diseases of the ear. Thickening of the eardrum is a serious condition and may lead to deafness. It might cause dizziness. In some cases treatment proves beneficial. The type of treatment used depends on the cause and location of the inflammation. If it is in the external ear, drugs are often used; if the seat of the disease is in the middle ear, inflation is indicated. If there is a discharge of some sort, treatment is directed toward healing the infection.

NICOTINE POISONING.

J. F. E. writes:

1. Is there such a thing as nicotine poisoning?

2. If so, what are the symptoms?

REPLY.

1. Yes. The alkaloid derived from tobacco is known as nicotine. It is a dark, reddish-brown liquid, and is poisonous.

2. The symptoms are twitching of the muscles, abdominal cramps, convulsions followed by severe prostration, vomiting, diarrhea, etc. The pulse is slow at first, then rapid and weak. Death, when it occurs, is due to respiratory paralysis.

The antidotes are tannic acid solution and powdered charcoal. The stomach is washed repeatedly, and stimulants are given. Artificial respiration and oxygen may be useful.

ALLERGY FROM SUTURES.

B. A. writes: Can symptoms of allergy, that is, hives, asthma, etc., result from catgut used in the course of a surgical operation?

REPLY.

A few cases have been reported in which the use of "catgut" manufactured from sheep's intestine has been followed by severe asthmatic attacks. The attacks continued until the catgut was entirely absorbed. Experiments by G. H. Pratt and A. B. Small on surgical sutures have shown that the reaction to the material varies with different individuals. In some cases urticarial wheals [hives] appeared within twenty-four hours. This type of allergy, however, is not common.

CANDY AND HEADACHES.

V. N. writes: Is it possible to get a headache in less than five minutes after eating a piece of candy?

REPLY.

Possibly.

Candy raises the sugar level in the blood rather quickly. It may be that the metabolism of the individual does not handle this additional sugar properly, with a resulting head pain.

Many people on drinking a glass of cold water develop an intense pain over the forehead lasting for five minutes or even longer. This is a reflex pain from the stomach area.

THE DEBUNKER

By [illegible] Harvey Furbay, Ph. D.

When water freezes it gives off heat rather than cold. Physicists state that seventy-nine calories of heat are given off by every gram of water converted into ice. Likewise, when ice is melted it absorbs an equal amount of heat. It is because of this fact that your icebox is kept cool. If the ice did not melt there would be no absorption of heat.

YANKEES IN NEW ENGLAND.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—The heading in this morning's TRIBUNE reads "Yankee Votes Beat New Deal." Your heading writer could evidently learn much by looking into the pages of the last U. S. census. The "Yankee" element in the population of New England has long since ceased to be anything more than a small minority of the whole.

Take Rhode Island where this congressional vote occurred. It is typical. The 1930 census places its total white population at 677,016. Of this number only 30 per cent, or 210,963, were native born of native born parents. There were 24 per cent foreign born, while 43 per cent were born of foreign born parents. In other words, about 70 per cent of the present population of Rhode Island is either made up of foreign born or the children of foreign born. Of this 70 per cent about half are of Italian, French-Canadian, Polish, and Portuguese stock.

You mention the return from the old "Yankee" city of Woonsocket. The census figures will rudely awaken your dreams. Yet it is a typical New England city. Of its 49,371 people, only 20 per cent are old American stock; 80 per cent are either foreign born or children of foreign born parents.

It is true, though it comes as a surprise to many, that you must come to the middle west, the south, and west to find states where the old American stock is in the majority. Madison Grant, after reviewing the 1930 census figures, says in his "Conquest of a Continent," "New England and the middle Atlantic states are lost to the old American stock. They scarcely form a third of the population in this area, and even this percentage is rapidly disappearing. . . . Rhode Island like Massachusetts is only one-third old American stock. Its city politics is frequently controled by French-Canadians."

Massachusetts with its 30 per cent old American stock is much more foreign than Illinois with its 50 per cent old American stock. Indiana with 80 per cent old line American stock takes a high position in the country as an old American state.

Yet many still think of New England as a "Yankee" stronghold.

HARRY ANDERSON.

IS RHODE ISLAND IN WEST?

Chicago, Aug. 7.—According to your newspaper Rhode Island constitutes the entire east, for the headline of Aug. 7 reads: "The New Deal Is Licked in East." I suppose you have heard at one time or another that the state of Rhode Island is the smallest in the Union with a population of just about 690,000, of which about 100,000 are eligible to vote. So the 100,000 speak for how many million? R. B. KELLAR.

MAYBE HE'S GONE TO SWEDEN.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Has anybody here seen MacCartie? JOE EICHBERGER.

THE PENALTY FOR MURDER.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—The life sentences meted out to the "torso" murderer, despite the law of Illinois which specifically provides the death sentence for crimes of such atrocity, make rather inane your recent editorial condemnation of the state of Michigan for abolishing capital punishment.

That the people of Michigan were unwise in voting against the death penalty for murder is freely conceded by many straight thinking citizens. But in the case which provoked your comment the murderer, Goodrich, received the extreme penalty provided by the present law; whereas a judge in Illinois ignores the state law and decrees the lesser penalty for a crime more atrocious in that it was deliberately premeditated over a considerable period of time. If, as Judge Harrington claims, his purpose was to inflict the greatest possible "punishment," why were these two women sent to Dwight instead of to Joliet?

The purpose of a reformatory, in my understanding, is to rehabilitate offenders against the law who have a reasonable expectation of being ultimately returned to society; not to be a refuge for lifers who will be comfortably housed and fed at the expense of the taxpayers of the state. Why send the Baileys and the Bateses, convicted of kidnaping and extortion only, to Alcatraz, where they are practically buried alive, and send cold blooded murderers like the Dunkel and Smith women to "a cottage home, without bars, in delightful surroundings"?

Equality of sex should mean equal responsibility as well as equal opportunity before the law, and when one considers the inconsistency of the action in Illinois as compared with that in Michigan, "it is to laugh." MICHIGANDER.

PREJUDICES.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Protests from members of races and religious cults in this country as to the regrettable treatment of their brethren in other nations cause us to forget that one of the most disgraceful examples of social and racial discrimination—namely, that against the Negro—exists in this country. When we have placed our own house in order—removed racial and religious discrimination within our boundaries—then and only then should the policies of other countries toward certain minorities concern us to a protest.

TRAVEL BUSINESS WILL BEAT 1934 BY 320 MILLION

Helps Other Industries to Revival.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.

The travel business, now becoming one of the major industries of America, this year will eclipse by $320,000,000 the five billion dollar expenditure accredited to 1934. That is the prediction of Douglas Malcolm, head of the Travel Service and authority on tourist conditions.

Not only that, but the industry is helping others in a nation-wide revival. Summer vacations are proving a stimulant to domestic trade. Everywhere there is a striking parallel between tourist purchases and regional business.

"Outside of hotel revenues, food sales and the stock turnover of wholesale and retail stores show a direct relation and penetrate into nearly every avenue of commerce," said Mr. Malcolm yesterday following his monthly survey of travel tendencies at home and abroad.

Cites Middle West Resorts.

Illustrating his point, he set forth that the middle western resort areas, which have been having their best vacation business since 1929, are likewise reporting the largest merchandise sales in five years, and that the Chicago supply houses are receiving more telegraphic re-orders than at any other time since 1930.

In five New England resort districts, which this summer are scoring a 35 per cent gain in tourist numbers, the sweater, camera, sport goods, and confectionery sales have increased from 25 to 30 per cent and have been nearly 200 per cent above those of the non-tourist months.

Showing how the business can be of direct aid to any community, Mr. Malcolm pointed out that the 1,395,650 motor tourists in Florida last winter spent $90,458,000 there, and their purchase of 36,786,000 gallons of gasoline netted the state $2,375,000 in taxes. The Florida hotels alone benefited by nearly $30,000,000.

Railroad Business Is Better.

Figures given out by the western railroads this week indicate that the nation is returning to the rails for long distance journeying. The travel to California has been the largest in six years. The closing week of July saw new records hung up in the national parks, and the advance reservations for August exceeded by 40 per cent those of last year.

In Yellowstone the rail travel so far this year has been three times that of the corresponding period in 1933. By Aug. 4 a total of 183,857 visitors had been registered in that park, as compared with 159,349 on the same date in 1934. This indicates that last year's record breaking attendance will be topped by around 30,000.

The tourist trafic in Nova Scotia in July was 40 per cent greater than last year's. Permits to enter Mexico have nearly doubled, and it is figured that visitors from the United States will spend more than $70,000,000 there in 1935.

Southern Cruises Popular.

This month there are 85 cruises to the Caribbean, West Indies, gulf ports, South America, and Canada, and many of them are booked to capacity. The Mediterranean cruises are doing the heaviest business since 1929; the advance bookings for world cruises are 30 per cent higher than those of last year.

Trans-Atlantic travel from the three major ports shows the best lengthening season in years. The September hotel reservations in both England and Italy are unusually heavy. Tourist and transportation officials report the largest number of Americans in London in seven years, and in the provincial districts the largest American attendance in history.

The Yankee invasion of the British Isles reached its climax in July, when 3,500 visitors from this country were counted in the Shakespeare country over a ten day period. Throughout the summer there have been long queues of tourists booking passage from England to Scotland, Ireland, Wales, and the continent.

Robert Shaw Touring World.

Among the Chicagoans now on the move is Robert Shaw, who sailed last Saturday on the Conte Grande for Naples. His trip might be described as a tour of the world rather than one around the world. On a previous journey he saw all the well known places; this time he is going to regions not so often reached by travelers. He will remain in Europe until October and then proceed, partly by ship and partly by rail, down the west coast of Africa to Cape Town and thence up the east coast. From there his itinerary will include Iraq, India, Siam, Indo-China, the Dutch East Indies, the south sea islands, Australia, New Zealand, and South America.

Others leaving on the Conte Grande were R. C. Fusson, professor of chemistry at the University of Illinois, and Miss Catherine DeVoy, who will study at the University of Perugia.

Prof. Walter E. Loehwing, William Schweizer, and Miss Virginia Cassidy will be aboard the Champlain when it sets sail for Europe tomorrow. Frank J. Breen and Michael J. Sullivan, Chicago attorneys, are leaving today on the Manhattan for a tour of Ireland and England. Fellow passengers will be E. L. Dunbar, F. Bronner, John M. Treveiler, Thomas Fraser, Mrs. Fanny Kealer, Miss Mary Cory, and Lawrence Scanhan.

Bound for a three month vacation in Scotland, England, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Italy, and Switzerland Mrs. David P. Scobie of Lake Forest and Mrs. Scott Mitchell and Mrs. Max Giebert of Chicago departed last night on the Bremen.

Sailing on the Eastern Prince last Saturday for east coast ports of South America were F. S. Hirsh, S. A. Douglas and the Misses Annie Shafer, Janet Jenkinson, and Elsie Huntley, all of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Rumpf and Miss Elinor Fowler of Evanston.

Both the Washington and the Aquitania will leave Southampton today with throngs of returning vacationists. On the Washington will be Mr. and Mrs. Ozburn and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Abston, all completing a trip around the world; Mrs. Albert E. Schultz, Mrs. Amos G. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Oberlin and their children, John and Gail; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hamer and their son, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Milton G. Wood, and Miss Marion Porter. On the Aquitania will be Mr. and Mrs. John Marzall, Mrs. Catherine M. Dwyer, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hart, Mrs. Nathan Bergstom and her daughter, Alice, and the Misses Margaret and Katherine Frankhauser.

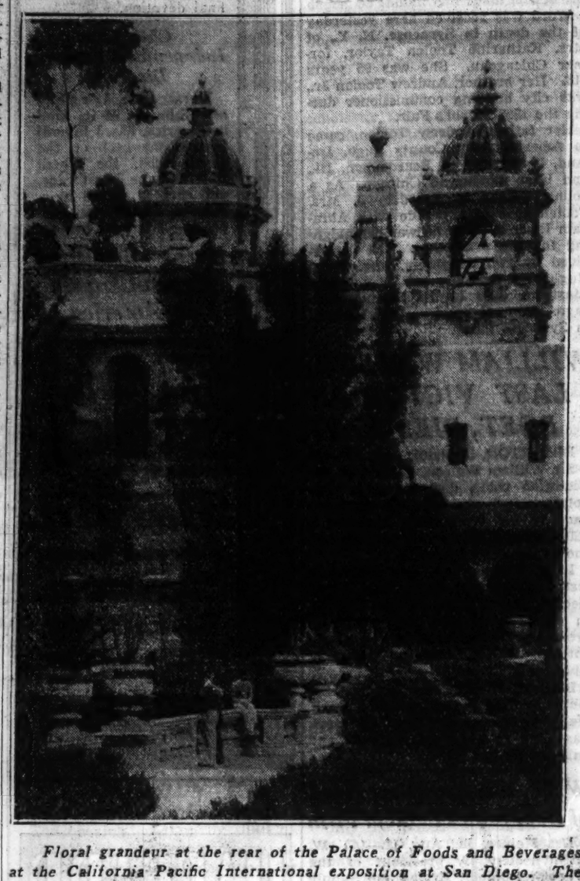
The Beauty of the San Diego Fair



Floral grandeur at the rear of the Palace of Foods and Beverages at the California Pacific International exposition at San Diego. The exposition, now attracting large crowds from all over the country, will remain open until Nov. 11.

REDUCED FARES BRING BIG HIKE IN RAIL TRAVEL

Tours to West Coast Help Double Trafic.

How far the cost of railway transportation between Chicago and the Pacific has been reduced is shown by the fact that western roads this summer are taking tourists on a round trip of more than 5,300 miles for $125, this price including rail fare, sleeping car charges, hotel accommodations, sightseeing, and meals en route. One result of the reduction has been an almost unprecedented travel business to the Rockies and the coast. On several of the roads the westbound trafic has been double that of a year ago.

One tour calls for a short line trip from Chicago to the San Diego exposition, with a side trip to Old Mexico on the way out, and visits to Los Angeles, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver, Colorado Springs, and the Pikes Peak region on the way home. The two weeks' journey extends through twelve states and the rate is less than half a cent a mile.

Leaves Here Sunday Night.

Leaving Chicago at 8:45 p. m. Sunday, the traveler arrives in El Paso Tuesday morning, and from there crosses the international border into Juarez, where there is a program of dining, dancing, and entertainment. At midnight he resumes his trip to San Diego, arriving there early Thursday. Two days at the fair are followed by three days at Los Angeles, with excursions to Hollywood and the beaches.

A day's tour of San Francisco embraces Golden Gate park, the Presidio, the Seal rocks, the museum, Twin peaks, and the civic center. There is a brief stop at Salt Lake City, and then comes the trip through the Colorado Rockies. Tours of Denver and Colorado Springs precede the spectacular climb of Pikes peak. The return home is set for 7 a. m. Sunday.

Tour Includes San Diego Fair.

This tour differs from others in that the traveler goes directly from Chicago to San Diego. There he views an exposition reviewing the story of mankind and of the progress made in science, industry, and research. He finds the life and manners of the Asiatic and South Sea island peoples depicted in an ideal setting—the 1,400 acres of landscaped garden known as Balboa park. Many of the buildings are permanent structures, modeled after the architecture of sixteenth and seventeenth century Spain. The exposition will remain open until Nov. 11.

The $125 rate is based on two persons in a lower berth. The charge for one person in a lower is $135, for one person in an upper it is $130.40, and for one person in the coaches it is $99.75. For persons wishing to travel independently the round trip fare to San Diego is $86 in standard sleepers, $68.80 in tourist sleepers, and $57.35 in the coaches and chair cars.

For the name of the railroad operating these tours, or any further information concerning them, call the Tribune Travel bureau, Superior 0100, local 707 or 734, or write the bureau at 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

TRAVELERS' CALENDAR

In Cheshire, Staffordshire, and Shropshire, England, the children go around "souling." Services for "all lost at sea" are held at Gunwalloe, England. In Italy sacristans, carrying bells, go about begging offerings for the dead. In Venice a pontoon bridge is built to San Michele, the isle of the dead, over which bridge the people proceed to decorate graves.

NOV. 3—St. Hubert's day observed at Liege, Belgium. The celebration is in honor of the conversion of the patron saint of the huntsmen.

NOV. 3—Formal commencement of the hunting season in France. In some rural districts the dogs are taken to low mass. Afterward the priests give them a pat and a portion of wafer, along with a blessing.

YANK IN ENGLAND DID NOT REGISTER; TO BE DEPORTED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The twenty-one day prison sentence against Howard Kronick, American, who claims to be a representative of the Bellanca Aircraft corporation, for failing to register with police as an alien was quashed on appeal today. But the Appeal court upheld a deportation order made against him at the same time.

It was stated that Kronick first came here in connection with a film venture and persistently refused to register. He traveled from England to France and Ireland several times and failed to register each time he returned, officials said.

Police declared he was obstinate, but his lawyer maintained he was only fighting for what he thought was his right to remain in the country. It was also stated he had applied to the home secretary for permanent residence in England but was refused.

John Boles Hurt Acting in Real Life Hero Role

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 13.—(AP)—John Boles, the tall, dark movie actor, played a hero rôle in real life today and suffered a lacerated hand and a burned arm as a result. The actor and Gladys Swarthout, celebrated opera singer, were lunching together at Malibu lake when their table suddenly tipped over. Boles stopped an avalanche of dishes and a pot of scalding coffee from engulfing the singer. He was treated at the Malibu hospital.

'L' Plans Beach Bus Service from Stony Island Station

Motor bus service from the Stony Island terminal of the Jackson park division of the elevated system to the Jackson park beach will be inaugurated Friday, company officials announced yesterday. The new service will be operated from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. during the beach season. Free transfers will be given to users of the elevated. Authority for the new service was recently granted by the Illinois commerce commission.

BRITAIN PLANS REORGANIZATION OF AIR SERVICES

To Establish Big Base at Portsmouth.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Three great plans for the reorganization of all British empire air services are under consideration by the air ministry and Imperial Airways.

It is proposed to establish a vast air base for flying boats and air liners near Portsmouth. The site will not be the Portsmouth municipal airport, because it is considered essential that flying boats and land planes must operate from the same base. The site must, therefore, be adjacent to open water. It will be outside the present prohibited naval area surrounding Portsmouth harbor.

Croydon Reaching Saturation.

Croydon, London's airport, is reaching trafic saturation. All the empire services and the coming Atlantic service will be transferred to the new base.

British and European services will continue to operate from Croydon. Air services to India, Singapore, Australia, and Capetown, which are at present operating land planes on their major stages, in the future will change to flying boats.

Seek to Coördinate Service.

The third plan proposed is that Imperial Airways, the Railway Air Services, and Whitehall Securities—a powerful group interested in land air lines—coöperate to develop in Great Britain a complete internal system of day and night flying. Plans will necessitate resurveying all air routes.

MINIMUM WAGE ACT FACES BATTLE OVER CONSTITUTIONALITY

A court test on the constitutionality of the new state minimum wage law for women and minors appeared certain yesterday as department of labor officials prepared to impose a "code" on the beauty culture industry and Illinois laundries struggled through their third week under similar code regulations.

Under the law, which some lawyers regard as invalid, the state director of labor may appoint a special board to determine wages, hours, and conditions for women and minors in various Illinois industries.

Hearings on beauty culture in Chicago began Monday night in the Engineering building before a special wage board amid cries of "unconstitutional" from protesting shop owners. Another hearing was held yesterday in Peoria and a third will follow today at East St. Louis.

In a recent bulletin of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, of which David R. Clarke is counsel, this action of the legislature was referred to as follows: "In the opinion of our general counsel the measure is invalid." Yesterday Attorney Otto A. Jaburek issued an opinion drafted for the Laundry Owners' Association of Illinois. He declared the law "manifestly unconstitutional."

Jaburek said the court test would come when the state officials attempted to punish the first laundry owner. The law provides fines of not less than $25 and not more than $100 for violators.

Bound by Bandits, He Dials with Tongue to Call Police

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13. — (AP) — Thomas W. Centanni, president of a brewing company, bound hand and foot today by two men who took $500 from his office safe, wriggled to a telephone, knocked the receiver off the hook and dialed "O" with his tongue. "Tell police there's a holdup here," he said.

SO. SIDE WATER METER PROJECT MAKES HEADWAY

Little Opposition Offered at Public Hearing.

For the first time in the long history of Chicago's efforts to stop water waste by general use of meters, there was little objection from consumers yesterday at a hearing on the plan to meterize all water south of 39th street. Action on meters has been forced by a decision of the government not to accept the city's application for $21,000,000 to build a south side filtration plant unless it is accompanied by an ordinance requiring meters for the area.

Only eighteen owners of flat buildings in the area to be affected appeared before the subcommittee of the finance committee yesterday at the public hearings on meters, and these merely requested that any meter ordinance approved insured that tenants of buildings be required to pay for water so that they will not needlessly waste it at expense to the landlords. This point was taken under advisement by the subcommittee, which announced that future hearings will be held before final action is taken.

Arvey Suggests a Penalty.

Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th] suggested that an ordinance providing a penalty for wasting water might solve the problem. H. L. Mertes, water superintendent, estimated that Chicago wastes a half billion gallons of water annually.

Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, told the committee that approximately 115,000 meters must be installed on the south side if the government is to lend aid in the filtration plant program. The city would bear the cost of meter installation, and the minimum water charge would be 60 cents per 1,000 cubic feet and a 60 cent monthly service charge, an amount similar to the rates now paid, he said.

According to plans approved by the city council the city will seek an $8,000,000 grant from the government and will post water certificates as security for an additional loan of $13,000,000.

Plant to Be on Lake Front.

The filtration plant will be situated on the lake somewhere between 71st and 79th streets, Mr. Hewitt said, and will be of a type to enhance the beauty of the lake front.

C. W. Riesback, 5717 South Campbell avenue, a consulting engineer who acted as spokesman for the eighteen property owners, declared that treatment of water by ozonation [forcing pure oxygen through it] rather than by filtration as now planned was superior, and he urged that the filtration plant plans be revised.

A. E. Gorman, water filtration engineer for the city, declared that filtration was found to be the best method for Chicago and that it is less expensive than ozonation.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Graham McNamee and Tom Manning, NBC announcers, are in an Akron hospital as a result of a soap box scooter crash on Monday. McNamee and Manning were on hand to broadcast the all-American soap box Derby when struck by a scooter piloted by Paul Brown, an Oklahoma City lad. The wagon got out of control near the finish line, running into the NBC remote control setup, striking both announcers. McNamee was knocked unconscious for five minutes, when his head struck the pavement. Manning had two vertebrae broken and both legs severely bruised. The injured pair will be confined to their beds for several days, physicians announced.

Frank Parker and Don Bestor will be missing on the Jack Benny program when it returns to NBC Sept. 29. Michael Bartlett, Grace Moore's handsome new leading man, will replace the popular tenor and Johnny Green's orchestra will be used.

Attilio Baggiore is doing a Paul Whiteman. In three months the W-G-N tenor has reduced his weight from 245 to 197. He has set 175 as his goal. Exercise and diet, he explained!

Alice Hill will be out of the Painted Dreams cast for a few days. The W-G-N actress is leaving today for West Point where she will visit her brother, Robert Hill, a cadet there.

When Helen Hayes launches her radio serial in a few weeks she will portray a modern young woman in plenty of modern situations. Edith Meiser, one of the best known of radio dramatists, is writing the story.

Leo Reisman, the society orchestra leader, had 14,000 fan letters analyzed by a psychologist recently. The expert said the fans had an average mental age of 17 years, 5 years higher than usually given by critics of radio audiences! Reisman was flattered.

Moissaye Boguslawski, WIND pianist, is offering the William Rockhill Nelson piano scholarship, valued at $1,000, to the youth or girl adjudged winner in a contest to be held Sept. 8. The age limit for contestants is 21 years. Details may be obtained from Winifred Konigsmark, 323 South Wabash avenue. The scholarship was endowed in honor of William R. Nelson because he befriended Boguslawski as a youth.

Ted Fio-Rito will leave the Edgewater Beach and Chicago this fall for the Hotel New Yorker in New York.

MRS. KATHERINE TOOLEN TAYLOR, 95, DIES IN EAST

Word was received here yesterday of the death in Syracuse, N. Y., of Mrs. Katherine Toolen Taylor, former Chicagoan. She was 95 years old. Her brother, Andrew Toolen Jr., was city building commissioner during the 1893 World's Fair.

Her father, Andrew Toolen, came to America from County Sligo, Ireland, living first in Beardstown, Ill., and later moving to Chicago. As a young woman in Beardstown, Mrs. Toolen rode in a parade with Abraham Lincoln when he was campaigning for the presidency. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mary Hughes of Syracuse and Mrs. Adele Linstrom, 1000 Loyola avenue, Chicago. Funeral services will be held in Syracuse today.

WILLIAM WATSON, LAST VICTORIAN POET, DIES AT 77

BRIGHTON, England, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Sir William Watson, 77, last of the Victorian poets, died today, a "forgotten man" who eked out an existence in his later years through a £200 [about $1,000] yearly pension and the generosity of friends.

Lady Watson said her husband's last work brought under £10. Lloyd George, one of Watson's best friends, in recent years sent generous gifts from his Churt farm to the poet's cottage. Burial will be Friday in Liverpool.

Rudyard Kipling said today of Sir William: "He did magnificent work. He never wrote a bad line. His work has gone to a general account and will not be lost."

HARRY H. HUNTER DIES IN EVANSTON OF LONG ILLNESS

Harry Holland Hunter, 47 years old, 427 Campbell street, Geneva, died yesterday in Evanston after a long illness. Mr. Hunter was secretary-treasurer of the Colonial Land company, the Ready-Made Farms, and the Farm Land company.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fowler Hunter, live in Evanston. Other survivors are his widow, Hester Walrath Hunter, and their children, Holland, Jonathan and Henry. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the chapel of St. Luke's pro-cathedral, Evanston. Interment will be private.

Kelly Sisters Will Bow at Holiday Party

Miss Anne Dinsdale Will Be Debutante.

BY JUDITH CASS.

WITH two debutantes in their household the approaching autumn and winter season promises an abundance of festivity for the Carl Kellys of Winnetka. At a reception at their residence, 35 Indian Hill road, late in the afternoon of Dec. 29 they will introduce their daughters, Marjorie and Patricia, to society.

Previous to the party, however, the girls are to be separated for their scholastic interests are taking them to different parts of the country. Last night Miss Marjorie left to enroll as a student at the University of California in Berkeley. This will be her junior year, she having completed two years at Sarah Lawrence college. Miss Patricia was graduated from Westover last June and will enter Sarah Lawrence in September.

Another party is added to the Christmas debutante calendar this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Harding. They will introduce their daughter, Miss Anne Dinsdale, at a tea-dance on Dec. 27 at the Indian Hill club.

Miss Dinsdale will be a sophomore at Sarah Lawrence this fall. Mr. and Mrs. Harding and their daughter are spending the summer in Winnetka, but they may have a trip to New Mexico before Miss Dinsdale goes east to school.

Ewing-Breasted Nuptials Today.

One of the most interesting weddings of the summer is to be solemnized this afternoon when James Henry Breasted Jr. takes Miss Helen Ewing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hull Ewing, as his bride. Providing the weather is clear and pleasant the services will be read at 4:30 o'clock on the terrace of the Ewing home at 620 North Waukegan road in Lake Forest. Otherwise the ceremony will be indoors.

Only the immediate families and a few intimate friends will hear the young couple exchange their wedding vows, for, in keeping with the bride's conservative taste, the wedding will be as simple as possible. Miss Katherine Ewing has come from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where she's a member of Vassar's dramatic department this summer, to attend her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be two childhood playmates of the Ewing sisters, Mrs. Charles Eskridge Saltzman of Montclair, N. J., the former Gertrude Lamont, and Miss Jane Trowbridge of Lake Forest.

Thomas P. Cook of Kingston, N. J., a classmate of Mr. Breasted at Princeton, is to be the best man, and ushering will be Frank Allen, who is associated with Mr. Breasted at the Oriental institute, and Robert Walker of New York City.

Mr. Breasted Will Study at Oxford.

After the ceremony Mr. Breasted and his bride will leave by motor on a leisurely wedding trip. Later they will sail for England, where Mr. Breasted is to spend a year or more at Oxford completing his studies in Egyptology.

The end of this week Mr. Breasted's parents, Dr. and Mrs. James H. Breasted, are sailing for Europe, where Dr. Breasted will attend a conference in Rome. The Charles Breasteds have been unable to come from Santa Barbara, where they are summering, to attend the wedding. An out of town guest will be Mrs. Charles Crouse, a cousin of Mrs. Ewing.

The late Miss Jane Addams will be

INGOLSTADT, Germany.—It becomes increasingly apparent that this is Bavaria. Bavaria with its rivers and mountain woods; where there is a wayside shrine every few kilometers; flowers overflowing the window boxes of the pink, and green, and blue stucco houses; flocks of geese in every village and along the road, and wayside travelers resting in the shade of the trees. The church bells, the bands of singing youths, the men and women on walking trips, with their rucksacks on their backs, the monasteries with their adjacent breweries, the omnipresent plaster saints all give evidence that this is Bavaria, once the land of the Wittelsbachs. Now the greeting, "Heil, Hitler!" varies the "Grüss Gott" of the peasants we pass.

* *

HERE the Wittelsbachs ruled for a thousand years—from the time of Luitpold, in 908, until that night in 1918, when, honest, homely Ludwig III., his queen, and the princesses stole out of a side door of the residenz in Munich and fled for safety, after the Socialist uprisings in Munich. This morning, on our way to see a German rococo church—an interest that is delaying considerably our arrival in southern Bavaria and Austria, which are the real destination of this holiday, we saw a great edifice that brought to mind one of the fascinating and eccentric Wittelsbach rulers. It was the great Walhalla—the Teuton Hall of Fame — that Ludwig I. ordered built. A classic rotunda in the antique style, built on a high promontory overlooking the Danube near the little town of Kelheim. Ludwig, you will remember, was afflicted with that mania for building that also—in a different form, seized the second Ludwig—the mad king of Bavaria. He was one of the greatest patrons of art German ever had, and it was he who made of Munich a "second Athens" and a "modern Florence."

We took the motor road up the hill to the Walhalla, and as we arrived at the broad steps, the shouts of children, climbing up the foot path, echoed up the hill. They came into view—two separate groups of them, in charge of a guide or mentor, and trooped up the steps and into the great rotunda to gaze at the figures representing German victories, in Carrara marble, holding bronze shields made from captured French guns.

* *

WE have heard much group singing in Bavaria. This morning as we left Kelheim we heard young voices coming from a blockhouselike structure, and going in, we found another group of young people on tour. This round edifice was Kelheim's memorial to her soldiers killed in the great war, and the children who had been brought to see it were singing a song in honor of the dead heroes.

* *

LAST night, too, we heard a company of singing boys go past the window of our inn—not an old castle this time—nor a hostelry where a succession of the famous have stopped, but a clean, friendly little gasthaus [guest house] with geraniums in the boxes at the window and stiff white lace curtains. The marching youths were in uniform and they sang a marching song. They were of the Reichspost-schutz. Early this morning another company of soldiers marched past, their measured tread echoing down the street, their voices raised in song. Also from the Reichspost-schutz, we were told.

Color Contrast Featured in Fall Outfits

Early Shoppers Find the Unusual.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The early bird shoppers out for unusual clothes find them in the daily incoming showings. Color, color, and artful color contrast, all the good looking new woolen weaves and new flat fur trimmings are featured! One colored dress with a contrasting colored coat is exceptionally well worked out. A lemon yellow thin wool tailored dress is worn under a forest green coat and the same dress can go out under a tobacco brown coat or under a bright blue coat and even under the right shade of rust red.

Checked woolen dresses paired with harmonizing plain wool coats with or without fur trimmings are other good ideas. Velveteen dresses in two piece or in one piece models can be substituted for the woolen checks when you want something different. One of the most stunning outfits we have seen consists of a knockout red wool dress in American beauty shade. Over it a swagger coat of civet cat lined with black wool. The fur coat is reversible, worn with the fur side out, the turnback cuffs and collar are of the dull black wool; worn with the wool side out the collar and cuffs show the dramatic contrast of the black and white fur. This spectacularly colorful outfit is most practical, as the fur coat is so simply fashioned that you can wear it with any and every dress in your wardrobe. The red dress can be worn under a fur trimmed cloth coat and as a street dress with just a fur piece.

The fashion photograph shows a two piece brown wool suit trimmed with snowflake weasel. The large collar is crushed around the neckline and the shaped trimming on the front sections extends well around the bottom of the swagger length coat. A suit for sweaters, for sports wear, for metallic tunic blouses, for dress parade afternoon events, and for dull crêpe or bright taffeta blouses for general wear. Available in a Chicago shop.

Good Morning!

"The Farmer Takes a Wife" COULD have been in the class with "The Iron Horse"—or "Cimarron." As it stands it's just a good, clean photoplay that for the first two or three reels moves like molasses in January.

The subject, dealt with so much too sketchily, I thought, is life on the Erie canal at the time when the railroads arrived to take away its business and its importance as the main aorta of merchandise transportation.

Scornfully the canal people repudiate the idea that such a thing can happen. Bitterly they fight to keep it FROM happening. Well, progress can be damned but not dammed, and so. . . .

Charles Bickford is seen as Jotham Klore, a lusty canal man. Janet Gaynor is Molly, his pretty, fiery cook—whom he some day intends to marry.

Molly has been born and reared on the canal, and no one resents the railroads' oncoming more passionately than she. It is her fate to fall in love with Dan Harrow, a man who loves the land. He is of farming folk and he takes to canal hauling for just one reason—that he may earn money enough to buy a farm.

The much heralded Henry Fonda's characterization of Dan is unremarkable. He makes the quiet, one track minded fellow TOO dull and slow a moke. The rousing fight he has with Bickford toward the end of the film helps his popularity with you a bit—but just a bit. Bickford, you see, is the boy with the personality, and, though he's no rose in this number, still, well—you get me?

The latter is the conceited, two fisted champion fighter of those parts—where a battle royal's the fondest thing the folks are of.

Janet Gaynor is sweet and peppy as Molly. Slim Summerville, Andy Devine, and Jane Withers contribute pleasing comedy touches. Other players know their business.

The film, adapted from Walter Edmond's novel, "Rome Haul," is not uninteresting, for it does give you an idea of what went on in those days. But it lacks power. In other words—it's a good movie that misses being a great one.

See you soon!

Delay Opening of City Opera at Navy Pier

The opening program by the Chicago Municipal Opera company on Navy pier, originally scheduled for Saturday evening, will be given Sunday evening instead, William Green, artistic director, announced yesterday. The postponement was caused by a delay in the preparation of the elaborate stage setting necessary for the opening performances, Mr. Green said.

Last night the company held a rehersal of the first two operas to be presented, "Pagliacci" and "Cavalleria Rusticana," in the studios of Dino Bigalli, musical director of the Municipal opera, who will conduct for the Civic opera during the winter season. Both operas will be presented Sunday evening and will be repeated Monday.

The Municipal opera season, which will continue for seven weeks, was sponsored by Mayor Kelly and Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th]. The Civic Opera company is loaning scenery and equipment, making it possible for summer opera to be produced at popular prices. Tickets will go on sale at the pier and in two loop ticket offices tomorrow.

London Stylist Says American Men Are Failures at Clothes

New York, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Miss Ethyle D. Campbell, a fashion stylist and buyer for a Regent street house in London, arrived today on the Berengaria and took American men to task for the way they dress. She said this was her first trip to this country, but that she had seen many Americans in London and Paris and that while the men were quite nice, their clothes did not match.

"You Americans never match your clothes. You never think of matching ties with your socks, as an Englishman would. No matter how hot it is an Englishman wears the proper clothes for the city."

Speaking of the object of her visit, Miss Campbell said she had come over to see what American women were wearing in the daytime.

"Paris is no longer the world's style center," she declared. "The American women lead in day clothes, especially in sports clothes, but we can still hold our own in London for evening frocks."

Clark Gable's First Wife Tells Why He's Not an Evangelist

Cadiz, O., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Clark Gable's first wife, Mrs. Josephine Dillon Gable, has a new name for what the Rev. Samuel J. Williams described as "movie madness."

The first Mrs. Gable calls it "Hollywood hypnosis."

Mrs. Gable paid a week-end visit to this small town, Gable's birthplace, visited the actor's first home and the home where he spent much of his childhood. Mr. Williams is the pastor who attempted to turn Gable into an evangelist recently.

"I wish Mr. Williams had asked me to help him in Hollywood," said Mrs. Gable. "I know he was sincere, and agree that Clark would be a mighty influence on the young people, just as Douglas Fairbanks was with the Boy Scouts.

"Clark, at heart, is religious, but he can't be himself. Mr. Williams calls it 'movie madness,' but I call it 'Hollywood hypnosis'."

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

We know how it is when you're packing your bag for a vacation or a week-end trip; you've always more stuff than you have room for. But if you have to toss out your most becoming sports dress, toss it without a qualm and tuck in a slim red box containing two items that will keep your hair in good shape while you're sunning and swimming. It doesn't cost much, it doesn't take up much room and if you use the contents thereof you won't end the summer with your crowning glory all dried out and brittle.

Both of these are for the dry-haired, those with the sort of locks that go absolutely haywire when subjected to the sun. There is a small jar of an excellent, rich scalp pomade, destined to be used sparingly and massaged in well. A bit on the split ends helps too. If the hair and scalp are very dry use it every day. Make your vacation a hair beauty building interval as well as a week or two of loafing. This pomade is especially good for use on dry, tight scalps that become even drier and tighter under the sun's rays.

Supplement this pomade with the tonic that also comes in the red box. For stubborn serious cases, where the hair lacks luster and pliability, it, too, should be used every day. When you round the corner toward normality you can use it less frequently. All you need do at the end of each vacation day is part the hair rather closely and rub the tonic in well with absorbent cotton, then use a towel to massage the scalp and remove the dust. If you want to do things up brown you'll follow this with some brushing, always remembering to use a firm-bristled, exquisitely clean brush.

The contents of the box are enough to last you for several weeks and we can absolutely promise you that if you use them faithfully your hair will be softer, silkier, and prettier than you ever dreamed it could be. You'll have saved yourself money, too—because you won't need reconditioning treatments in the fall, as your less wise sisters will.

Too Hot for Eskimos, This Arctic Island Where Daisies Grow

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 13.—(AP)—An arctic "paradise" was described today—a place where Eskimos grow forget-me-nots and bask in the sun while the butter keeps cool in underground refrigerators.

Mayor E. B. Collins of Fairbanks told of the spot, Herschel Island in MacKenzie Bay, Canada, a mile from the mainland. Just back from an airplane trip there, he said:

"It's really too hot for the Eskimos. The island, nine miles wide and twelve long, is a veritable flower bed. There are daisies, buttercups, forget-me-nots, and many others."

"Why," said Collins, "Eskimo families travel around in $5,000 schooners and pay $1 a gallon for gasoline. They make their living by trapping in the winter. In the summer they travel on their schooners, bask in the sun and enjoy life. The week I was there," he continued, "the sky was clear and the sun beat down. The temperature rose almost to 50 degrees. The salt air was warm and invigorating."

The Husband Snatcher

By Elizabeth York Miller.

SYNOPSIS.

Nancy and Dick Heritage have been married for two years and are still greatly in love. Though Nancy is hated by Edith Heritage, her mother-in-law, she has come to live with them in their little house in Primrose Dene, near London. There is a gap of four years in Nancy's life which she had not satisfactorily accounted for. Nancy is informed by Mr. Sam Digger, attorney, that she has been bequeathed £5,000 by Miss Agnes Satchell, late governor of a girls' reformatory, where Nancy had been committed for four years. Nancy had been employed by a Mrs. Lane and was accused of theft. Sylvia, Mrs. Lane's daughter, was the real culprit. Sylvia threatened to kill herself if Nancy exposed her. Nancy foolishly took the blame, though she possessed a signed confession from Sylvia. Miss Satchell believed in Nancy's innocence. Dick and his mother are displeased when they learn that Nancy is expecting a baby. Edith Heritage invites a friend, Mrs. Lane, and her daughter, Sylvia, for tea. Nancy pleads a dentist's appointment. The Lanes arrive just as Dick comes home. They are startled when they see Nancy's photograph, but Sylvia, who is interested in Dick, explains that Nancy had lived with them, and they'd had a misunderstanding, but bygones were bygones. Nancy returns home after the Lanes had left and has a quarrel with Mrs. Heritage, who threatens to leave, until Nancy apologizes. That evening Dick disappears. He returns later intoxicated.

INSTALMENT XV.

FORGIVEN TOO SOON.

Nancy decided that she would not even try to sleep any more. She went down to the kitchen and made herself a cup of tea, and the feeling of nausea she was beginning to experience passed off again. What a blessing! She started the boiler and threw open all the windows to let in the sweet fresh air. Then she went upstairs and dressed, setting her bedroom in perfect order afterwards and laying out a complete change of clothes for Dick.

Little by little her natural sense of pity was coming back. What had happened to him was capable of explanation; it had happened to other men, and a wife would be unwise to take it too seriously.

By the time Minnie descended, Nancy was making some fresh tea and preparing two trays—one for Dick and one for her mother-in-law.

"O, ma'am, am I late!" Minnie cried in dismay.

"No, it's I who am early," Nancy replied. "It was such a lovely morning and I had my sleep out, so I thought I might as well get up and start the work."

"You spoil me," said Minnie. "Let me take up those trays, please, m'm."

"No, you scrub the veranda, and that will save at least half an hour after breakfast," Nancy replied hastily.

She took the little trays, one in each hand, and hurried away with them. Her heart was fluttering and her knees knocking as though they belonged to somebody who was recovering from a severe illness. Not even Minnie must know what had happened to Dick.

"O, Dicky, you poor thing!"

"Come in," said Edith Heritage when Nancy tapped at her door. "O, it's you. I've had a dreadful night. I don't think I've closed my eyes once."

Nancy felt her lips going white.

"Why was that, mother?" she asked.

"Probably I allow myself to worry too much over trifles," the older woman replied pensively. "That little quarrel we had last evening upset me more than I would have thought."

"And you lay awake worrying about it?"

"Yes, I did. I can see I'm a burden on you and Dick. Nobody likes to feel that way."

Nancy's sense of humor almost got the better of her. Her mother-in-law was an old fraud.

"I'm awfully sorry mother. You really mustn't think such unkind things of us—of me. Perhaps some noise wakened you. Noises in the night can be startling."

"Nothing wakened me," Edith protested, "because I never got to sleep at all."

Nancy repressed a smile as she left the room. It was all right. Dick's mother hadn't heard a thing.

At the door of the little sewing room, however, her smile faded and she hesitated for a second or two. Was he still sunk in his drunken slumber?

She opened the door gently and looked in.

Dick did not see her at once. He was sitting on the divan with his head in his hands, and a more demoralized spectacle Nancy had never seen. His clothes were half off, and his face, shadowed by a growth of beard, was haggard.

Nancy set down the tray and dropped to her knees beside him.

"O, Dicky, you poor thing!"

"How did I get here?" he asked in a husky voice.

"I helped you up the stairs, dear, but you were too heavy for me to get your clothes off. Dicky, have a cup of tea. I've made it very strong."

"Thanks, old girl. I say, Nance, you're a brick, you know."

"Thank you, Dicky. How did it happen?"

"Don't ask me. I was feeling a bit fed up, I suppose, and thought I'd cut off and go into town—have a look in at the club. . . . I say, Nance, get me a couple of aspirins, will you? My head's splitting."

Nancy hurried away and was back inside of a minute.

"Well? And you drank too much?"

"That's about the size of it," Dick muttered evasively.

Had she prodded him he might have admitted that he had not stayed at his own respectable club until half past two in the morning and imbibed too freely there, but had met a fellow he knew and gone off with him to another place which called itself a club and at the present moment he had not the least idea when or how he had left that alleged temple of amusement.

But Nancy seemed satisfied with his explanation as far as it had gone and was all too ready to forgive him. It was good enough as it stood, and when Dick found that his mother knew nothing whatever of his lapse, it almost banished the headache.

He bathed and shaved and dressed and managed to appear at the breakfast table looking no more than a trifle pale, but he could not eat anything.

He was really grateful to Nancy, however, and when he told her that he had intended those roses for her but his mother had snatched them from him, she would have forgiven him almost anything.

Dick had departed for the office some two hours ago and Nancy was upstairs turning out the sewing room when she heard some sort of altercation going on downstairs, apparently at the front door.

Listening, she detected Edith Heritage's voice and a masculine one, and both of them were unduly raised.

"I tell you, my good man, you've come to the wrong house. You were probably drunk yourself . . ."

"You'll excuse me, lady, but I'm T. T. and can prove it. 'Ere's the bit o' paper what the gent gi' me, and I'll thank you to take a look at it. No, 'e didn't write it out himself, but 'e signed it. You see them there initials? . . ."

Nancy tore down the stairs.

The man at the door was a taxi driver, and his cab stood at the curb. He was a decent looking fellow, but excited.

"Mother, what is it?" Nancy asked breathlessly.

"This horrible man!" Edith exclaimed. "I really think you ought to call the police. He says he brought a gentleman here about 3 o'clock this morning. I can only gather that the so-called 'gentleman' was drunk and penniless and told him to call for his fare later in the day. He says he drove him and a party of three other people—two girls and another 'gentleman'—from some low night club in Soho. The others were dropped somewhere else and . . ."

"How much is it?" asked Nancy, her face like marble and her voice seeming to come from a great distance.

The taxi driver touched his cap and presented her with a form of I. O. U. for 22 shillings and 6 pence. Although not too clear, undoubtedly those were Dick's initials scrawled underneath.

"If you will wait a moment, I'll fetch the money," said Nancy.

Dick's mother had just enough sense to hold her tongue until the embarrassing transaction was completed.

Since the elder Mrs. Heritage took her breakfast in bed—apparently a fixed custom—she had no more than a passing glimpse of Dick when he looked in to wish her good morning and good-by. There had been no time for her to notice any signs of a late and indiscreet night about him; indeed, if anything, she would have said he was a trifle heartier than usual.

Show Her You Like Her.

"Dear Miss Blake: I love a girl who works in the same shop. How can I tell her so, as I am bashful?

"MIKE."

It would be more effective were you to show her, in the many little ways so pleasing to the girls, that you like her.

Devotion to a Career Often Brings Regret

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"It doesn't seem right that the years have gone by so swiftly," concludes the Bachelor Maid who, now 33, confides she's in a mood to grab at any straw which offers attentions she has never known. The particular straw in mind is a love of her youth which she let ride by, and who is now married unhappily.

For a picture of a woman who let the years go by swiftly in concentration on a successful career, we present the following in the Bachelor Maid's own words:

"The situation is this. When he [the married man] comes, should I act coolly and send him home or, for my own satisfaction, shall I encourage him? I do feel rather attached to him, but should he contemplate divorce I don't think I would want him. I do not meet many people through my business, and those I do meet are married.

"All the others in my family are married, and although they love and admire me, they're all tied up in their own family interests, from which I'm naturally excluded, except as the indulgent auntie. If I had other friends to occupy my mind and time, I'd probably never give this man a second thought. As it is, I am grabbing at any straw which offers attentions for which I yern. It is something new to me to have a man look at me with his heart in his eyes.

"Usually men look at me with that 'What can I say to get an order out of her' or 'she's too d—— smart for me to put anything over on.' This love business has completely passed me by, and now I am making a wild fling in all directions to taste the pleasures that, in their rightful years, held no interest for me.

"Yes, I am getting old and I do feel queer, feeling so young, and yet when I see my friends with their children of 9 and 10, I do feel queer, a cross between heartbreak and jealousy.

"Print this, Miss Blake. I see young women following my stupid pattern and giving all to my job and nothing to myself. There comes a day when you would sell all the admiration you've earned for your business success for just one tender embrace.

"I know I'll send my man scuttling back to his wife without advice from any one. That's the way I've played the game. I only wanted to talk with some one. It's lonesome. It's more lonesome having the position and the money, and the clothes, and nowhere to go with anybody."

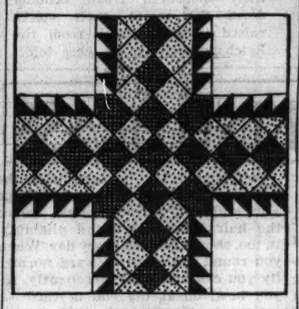
Block Favorite Among Intricate Quilt Patterns



Feather Star.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Feather star" always has been among the favorites in star patterns. It is classified as one of the older blocks and always has been outstanding in the field of elaborate quilt designs. The first "Feather Star" was pieced as early as 1825, and the favorite colors, at that time, were red, green, and white, while modern colors are more varied. The block arrangement consists of ten pieced and ten plain squares, each measuring 18 inches.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coins. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

DEFENDER.

Inspired by Oliver Herford's "Ode to Stairs," our anonymous bridge bard concocted the following:

Drink a toast to the man who invented bridge,
Whomever you may pick;
He was the first who ever trumped
His partner's winning trick.

The world would be in bed today
At fall of twilight dew
If he had not devised a game
To keep it up till two.

So let the power houses roar,
The curfew shall not peal!
What time is it? Oh, only four?
Let's have another deal.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

	NORTH ♠ A-Q-9-4 ♥ 3-2 ♦ 10-8-7-2 ♣ 7-6-5-4
WEST ♠ 7-2 ♥ K-J-6-4 ♦ Q-J-4 ♣ Q-10-9-3		EAST ♠ 5-3 ♥ 10-8-7-5 ♦ 6-5-3 ♣ A-K-8-4
	SOUTH ♠ K-J-10-8-6 ♥ A-Q-9 ♦ A-K-9 ♣ J-2

In contrast to today's hand, tomorrow's hand features a defensive slip that permits the declarer to make four spades.

[Copyright: 1935: By Ledger Syndicate.]

NORTH

	♠ Q ♥ A-K-Q-9-5-3 ♦ 8-4-3-2 ♣ K-3
WEST ♠ 5-3 ♥ J-7-6 ♦ 10-6-5 ♣ Q-J-10-7-2		EAST ♠ A-10-9-6-4 ♥ 10-8 ♦ A-Q-J-9-7 ♣ 8
	SOUTH ♠ K-J-8-7-2 ♥ 4-2 ♦ K ♣ A-9-6-5-4

Turning to more prosaic subjects, we offer the above hand. North and South reached four hearts, the bidding being:

North.	South.
1 Ht.	1 Sp.
2 Ht.	3 Cl.
3 Ht.	4 Ht.

Something told East not to overcall and he was rewarded by extremely informative bidding. A spade overcall would have gotten vulnerable East into trouble. As it was, he unhesitatingly opened a trump. North won and played back the queen of spades. East refused to win—giving up a trick, but gaining two tricks by the exchange. North cannot now avoid the loss of four diamonds. If he leads a diamond East will play back another trump.

On the other hand, if East had taken the queen of spades the declarer would have been able to get two discards on the king and jack, thus confining his incidental losses to two diamonds.

missed at the wedding today, for she was one of the most devoted friends of the Ewing family. Both Helen and Katherine taught some of the children at Hull house the winter of 1932 and Mr. Ewing has been a member of the board of trustees of the settlement for more than forty years. Charles J. Hull, the original builder and owner of the house that was taken for the settlement, was a cousin of Mr. Ewing and Miss Helen Culver, who had inherited the property from Mr. Hull and gave Miss Addams free leasehold in 1889, was the great aunt of Helen and Katherine.

Wriggins-Conger Wedding Oct. 10.

From Philadelphia comes word that the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Roberts Wriggins to Frederick Tenney Conger, son of Dr. and Mrs. Guy Farke Conger of River Forest, will take place on Thursday, Oct. 10.

Miss Wriggins, whose engagement to Mr. Conger was announced a year ago, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wriggins of Germantown, Pa., and she is a graduate of the Friends' school in Philadelphia and of Wellesley college. Since his graduation from Dartmouth Mr. Conger has been in business in Philadelphia.

Miss Elizabeth Stone has decided that her marriage to Oliver Perry Proudfoot of Milwaukee will take place on Oct. 5, but because her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roos Stone have just sold their home in Hubbard Woods, she does not know where the ceremony will take place.

It will be a small wedding, however, and the only attendants are to be her cousin, Miss Helen Vogel, and John Borden, who is to be best man. Mr. Proudfoot, who is the son of Mrs. Charles S. Proudfoot of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and his bride will make their home in Milwaukee.

A pleasant summer party is to take place this afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. Walter R. Barker in Beverly Hills. Mrs. Barker has invited a hundred women, members of the Ridge Service Guild, for tennis, swimming, and dinner. The guild contributes to the support of the Martha Washington home for Crippled Children, and is responsible for sending ten crippled children to camp this summer.

North Shore Homes Entertain Visitors.

The Langdon Pearses have an interesting young man, who is making his first visit to Chicago, as guest in their Winnetka home. He is Ogden Sutro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Sutro of New Jersey. His father who is one of the commissioners of Bear Mountain park, and Mr. Pearse were classmates at Harvard university and most of the Sutro family have visited Mr. and Mrs. Pearse. Young Mr. Sutro, who is a student at Yale, has many friends here who also stuay in New Haven.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Pearse took their guest to the Indian Hill club for dinner and to watch the diving and swimming exhibitions. Next Saturday Mr. Sutro again will be a guest of the Pearses at the club at a dinner Mr. and Mrs. Pearse will give for the junior John M. Trainers. Mr. Trainer and his Swedish bride are being fêted by his friends now, for as the wedding took place in Stockholm the Trainers' friends were unable to entertain for them at that time.

Other visitors are Miss Alice and Miss Eleanor Coonley of Great Barrington, Mass., who are staying with Miss Gwethalyn Jones in Lake Forest until the end of the week. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Coonley, former Lake Foresters. During their trip here the Misses Coonley have stayed with their aunt, Mrs. Edward Hasler, and their cousin, Mrs. John M. Simpson, and Mr. Simpson. Miss Alice also visited with Mr. and Mrs. James H. Douglas.

The Charles Garlands, who moved to Philadelphia last fall, have returned to Lake Forest for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Welles.

Bruce Thornes Go to Huron Mountain Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Thorne have gone to the Huron Mountain club, leaving the Arthur Cables' Glencoe home, which they rented for the summer, in the hands of Mrs. Thorne's father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson returned recently from a wedding trip during which they visited Mrs. Benjamin F. Taylor in Nantucket. While they were away Mrs. Stevenson's daughter, Miss Ethel Husband, one of the coming season's debutantes, stayed in Bar Harbor with Miss Pauline Palmer and the Potter Palmers, and later came out to Winnetka to spend a few days with Miss Fannie McPherson while the Stevensons were settling in the house. Miss Husband will be presented at a party in town this fall or winter, for Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson will move in to Chicago next month.

The Carl Ingrams are returning to their house on Noyes street in Evanston next week after having spent a delightful summer in the house of Mr. and Mrs. Tom R. Wyles in Highland Park. Mr. and Mrs. Wyles have been in New Mexico this summer on their Valley ranch.

In another fortnight Mrs. Ronald Chinnock and her small son, Sandy, will be at home from a long vacation at Onekema, Mich. They have been with Mrs. Chinnock's mother, Mrs. Marvin Farr, at her summer home. Mr. Chinnock has joined them almost every week-end.

Police Help Lee Tracy to Meet a New Stand In Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—A swim to Lee Tracy's yacht anchored at Santa Monica almost had some serious complications for Arthur Henry, Tracy's stand-in. With a friend Henry swam out and boarded the boat. He and his companion were seen by harbor patrol officers, who dashed to the yacht in a speedboat and detained the pair for questioning.

It seems that Lee's boat and other craft in the harbor had been pilfered of late and the officers were keeping a double watch. Henry protested his innocence and told the policemen that Tracy would identify him. Tracy was located on the pier and taken to confront Henry. He told officers he had never seen the man before in his life. Things looked dismal for Henry until he told Tracy that he was acting as his stand-in for the picture "Gettin' Smart," now being filmed at Paramount. Tracy took another look and then recognized Henry. The fact that Henry was clad only in a bathing suit threw Tracy off.

Eddie Duchin, the orchestra leader, finally falls for the lure of the movies. Paramount has signed him and his band to take part in a picture called "Coronado," an original musical by David Boehm, which will have the famous hotel and tent city at Coronado, near San Diego, as its locale.

Leroy Prinz will do the dance numbers.

Carole Lombard's next picture will be a Charles R. Rogers production, "Honors Are Even," from a story by Roi Cooper McGrew. Sylvia Thalberg is doing the screen play.

The dark days of nearly two years ago, which almost listed David Holt as an inmate of a local orphanage, will have a happy sequel tomorrow. The boy star is entertaining a group of orphans at a gala party to be given on a sound stage at Paramount. Gloria, Peggy, and Harold Lloyd Jr., Ann Harding's daughter, Jane, and other prominent film children will help David entertain. Due to straitened conditions his parents were forced in 1933 to seek aid. Then Mrs. Martha Holt, his mother, got the happy news that David had been signed for a stage play. Film scouts saw the youngster and he was singled out for a rôle in Harold Lloyd's "The Cat's Paw," which led to a Paramount contract.

M. G. M. isn't going to be left out of the swim in so far as child stars are concerned. Today Louis B. Mayer signed Baby Jane Quigley to a long term contract, and he plans to build her into another Shirley Temple.

Isabel Jewell isn't planning to marry Steve Hannagan, wealthy New York advertising man. So she said today in response to a query sent to her in the metropolis. Miss Jewell admitted that she and Hannagan are "very good friends" and that she made the trip east to see him. But there will be no marriage, she said. Hannagan was introduced to Miss Jewell on a recent visit to the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Corwin Henry Walbridge, 9606 Vanderpoel avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Nora Walbridge Hall, to Gustave Michael Hemmrich on Aug. 10 at the Church of the Holy Nativity, Beverly Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Burton of Evanston announce the marriage of their daughter, Natalie Louise Burton, to James Edward Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Potter of Jacksonville, Ill., on Aug. 5. The bride and bridegroom are visiting the latter's parents in Jacksonville, and after a honeymoon in Canada will make their home in Chicago.

[ADVERTISMENT.]

NEVER AGAIN will I be satisfied with the old "paper layer" type of sanitary napkin. The new Modess is so much softer, fluffier . . . more comfortable. And it's safer, too. It has longer tabs that can't pull loose from the pins. It can't strike through. That's why it's called "Certain-Safe."

Don't Try to Cure 'Egotism' of Adolescents

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Four subtracted from fourteen leaves only ten. And yet the 14 year old is eons away from the 4 year old as a human being.

What brought home to me the depth and length of this chasm of only ten years was two things: One, the group of four year olds that I can hear and see from my window as I write, and another, a letter [and such a nice, friendly one] from a mother who is doing such a good job with her family, but who voices the question:

"Do you think we should try to uproot the egotism of the 14 year old?"

These two—the 4 year old and the 14 year old—are experiencing two different things in life. One, the little one, is discovering the world that lies close at hand—in the shelter of his home and the love of his mother and father.

The other, the 14 year old, is at a turning point in his life—a physical, and mental, and emotional change is taking place. Unconsciously or consciously this is an absorbing matter. His thoughts are turned within. Grownups, his family, young people, the outside world don't look the same or bear the same relation to him that they did a short time before. At times some of these almost cease to exist for him.

With many young people the middle teens bring with them a great preoccupation with self. We call this phase by various names, such as selfishness or egotism.

Shall we check it? We can't much. We do have to go on expecting a certain measure of conformity and considerateness and family work, but we can't wipe out this youthful egotism of adolescence. If we do the following things, however, we shall manage to live through this phase pretty well:

Loosen the reins, especially in small matters.

Be good-naturedly firm in regard to essentials.

Be patient and tolerant.

Preserve that good old standby—your sense of humor.

They'll come out of it. And sometimes will even look back with a grin themselves at the boy or girl they have outgrown. This subject will be continued tomorrow.

We have a fully written booklet on this age called "Understanding the Adolescent" which will be sent on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tells Cosmeticians Sleeping in Nude Is Aid to Beauty

Hints on beauty sleep were given yesterday by Ruth D. Maurer, educational director of the American Cosmeticians' association, at the annual convention and trade show of the association in the Hotel Sherman. Mrs. Maurer advised women to sleep in the nude and place their pillows under the feet instead of under the head.

The nightgown is not entirely discarded, she said, but has been transformed into a lacy boudoir gown. After the "going to bed make-up" is applied, woman should doff these gowns and sleep nude.

"A person sleeps more comfortably with the pillow under the feet, not under the head," she said. "The arms should be slightly raised."

Earlier in the day Sally Rand, the fan dancer, addressed the cosmeticians. She has adopted a new coiffure and explained that the public can now see more of her as the back of her neck and ears are visible.

NATURALLY SKINNY FOLKS CORRECT IODINE STARVED GLANDS!

Add 5 lbs. in 1 Week OR NO COST!

New Mineral Concentrate Corrects Common Cause of Skinniness — IODINE STARVED GLANDS

No longer need you go around as skinny as a rail, for Kelpamalt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea, gets right down and corrects the real underlying cause of skinniness—IODINE STARVED GLANDS. When these glands don't work properly, all the food in the world can't help you. It just isn't turned into flesh. The result is, you stay skinny.

The most important gland—the one which actually controls body weight—needs a definite ration of iodine all the time—NATURAL ASSIMILABLE IODINE — not to be confused with chemical iodides which often prove toxic—but the same iodine that is found in tiny quantities in spinach and lettuce. Only when the system gets an adequate supply of iodine can you regulate metabolism—the body's process of converting digested food into firm flesh, new strength and energy.

To get this vital mineral in convenient, concentrated and assimilable form, take Kelpamalt—now recognized as the world's richest source of this precious substance. It contains 1,300 times more iodine than oysters, once considered the best source. 6 tablets alone contain more NATURAL IODINE than 486 lbs. of spinach, 1,660 lbs. of beef, or 1,387 lbs. of lettuce.

Try Kelpamalt for a single week and notice the difference. See flattering extra pounds appear in place of scrawny hollows. Notice how much better you feel. And if you don't gain at least 5 lbs. in one week the trial is free. Kelpamalt costs but a few cents a day to use and can be had at all

Hardcooked Eggs Basis of Surefire Hits

Cooking Editor Offers Some Novel Suggestions.

"Catering to Bridge Appetites," a booklet of menus and recipes for bridge refreshments, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, One South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents. By mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

Time was when people thought that hard cooked eggs were difficult, undigestible enemies of mankind with all sorts of black malice tucked under their smooth shells. But just as the poisonous "love apple" has become a universal vegetable favorite, so have opinions changed concerning the product of the hen in hard cooked state.

Baby doctors even root for hard cooked eggs [or finely mashed hard cooked egg yolks] for even exceedingly young children. All of which is handy, think we, for the busy cook and mother in the summer time. On the first of the week she may slip a week's supply of eggs into a pan—and the result is a refrigerator store of possibilities. For the children's lunches dainty sandwiches of chopped hard cooked egg or mashed egg yolks with a crisp leaf of lettuce are surefire hits. Simply minced and mixed with butter [or mayonnaise or thousand island dressing if the sandwiches are for grown-ups] they make a satisfying and appetizing sandwich filling.

Quite as well these hard cooked eggs fit into the summer menus of the adult members of the family. A sandwich salad goes over big here—with thick slices of chilled tomato pinch hitting for the usual bread, and a generous filling in between of minced hard cooked egg and mayonnaise. Served on crisp salad greens and surrounded with additional egg slices and stuffed olives, a salad like this asks only simple sandwiches to complete a tempting lunch.

As a highlight of the summer buffet table there's nothing more attractive than a large wooden salad bowl half filled with watercress or shredded lettuce and topped with well seasoned deviled eggs. If you'd like to complete the illusion of "eggs in a nest" you may skewer the stuffed halves together.

Instead of always slicing your hard cooked eggs crosswise, try making five or six lengthwise slices of each. Alternating with tomato wedges around a mound of celery and salmon salad it makes a service as attractive as it is simple.

On the cold platter stuffed egg halves [or merely halved hard cooked eggs without benefit of trimming] are more than welcome among the thin slices of cold meat and cheese.

If an occasional hot dish tempts your fancy there always is the interesting possibility of serving hot deviled eggs on anchovy toast. Simple, too—simply stuff and season the hot eggs, place two or three stuffed halves on a slice of hot buttered toast which has been lightly spread with anchovy paste, and cover the whole thing with a piping hot cream sauce, well seasoned, and sprinkle with grated cheese.

Or here's another nice one:

Diced Eggs Tartare.

4 tablespoons butter
½ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup hot water
1 bouillon cube
Salt, pepper, mustard
2 teaspoons vinegar
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
2 teaspoons hard cooked eggs
6 hot hard cooked eggs
Buttered crums

Melt the butter and cook the chopped onion in it until tender. Blend in the flour and then the water and bouillon cube. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Season, add the vinegar and parsley, and remove from heat. Dice the eggs, place them in a buttered baking dish, cover with the sauce and buttered crums, and bake in a moderate oven until the crums are browned.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Desperate Father Needs Furniture.

From a case worker: "We have a family on the far south side which needs furniture. It consists of the father, who is 25, a son, 5 years old, and a daughter, 4. The father has been deserted by his wife several times, and now she has left him. The furniture they had was taken by a furniture company when it was no longer possible to keep up the payments. This young father is endeavoring to make a good home for his children against these odds. Recently he became discouraged due to the bareness of his home, but he has a strong desire to keep his children with him. At the present time there is little furniture in the home. We would appreciate it if it were possible to obtain an old breakfast room set, some dishes, and some curtains."
—R. H.

Have you any articles of furniture which will help this man reestablish a home for his youngsters? You may be sure that a decent, cheerful home will be a great help to him and to the youngsters in their present discouraging plight.

Course in Gym Work Benefits in Many Ways

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Talking with the head of one of the better gymnasiums the other day I learned of the prevalence of nerve cases among its patrons. Not that the fact that nervousness is a common ailment was news, but the fact pleases that such women have the good sense to tackle their trouble through physical corrective work.

I talked with one woman who'd signed herself up for a course which included cabinet baths, bicycle exercise, massage rollers, body massage, and squash playing, and she tells me she's totally different today than the woman she was when she started the course. Her case is interesting in that she could not afford a vacation of any proportions this year. She felt the need of something. So she just signed up for a summer course because the rates were reduced.

She always felt that this sort of thing was a luxury. But feeling there was a vacation coming she just turned her small vacation fund into this source, and she reports it a great success. Nerves were her main trouble. She did a little reducing en route. But it is the general feeling of well being that now intrigues her. She was tired to death, what with job and domestic worries. That's all gone.

When one begins to become a bit edgy maybe it isn't resting that is needed. It's just the physical benefits which the woman cited outlines. If one can get the nerves quieted down and at the same time add a point here and there to her beauty quota why don't more of us go in for the sort of thing? The business woman, particularly, could use more of the type of corrective to be found in the well established gyms.

Evening courses are provided in a number of these places. If the demand increases more evening classes will be established.

Sally Is Sure Children Will Enjoy Movie

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

How would you like to have a pony and a duck—real live ones, of your very own? Wouldn't that be fun? Shirley Temple, as Elizabeth, a little orphan, has the cutest little pony you ever saw, and his name is Spunky. Just wait till you see them play together!

"Curly Top" which is Shirley's latest picture, is just about a perfect movie for children [and grown-ups as well]. To begin with, she has nothing and lives in an orphanage and is always getting into trouble. But by the time the picture ends she's found a fairy godfather and is as happy as can be. John Boles and Rochelle Hudson, who are also featured in the movie, take just about the best care in the world of that young lady!

After having seen the picture down at the Fox projection room I'm surer than ever that you youngsters will have a barrel of fun when we go to the Chicago theater a week from Thursday, Aug. 22. Remember, though, if you're writing for an invitation to that theater party, you'd better see that your letter is in the mail box today, because bright and early tomorrow morning I'm going to read all the requests and select my 100 guests from them. I'll take 50 boys and 50 girls with me, and they'll be the ones who write the very best letters telling me why they want to see "Curly Top."

There are three things you must remember when you write—First, that I want you to write the letter yourself; second, I must have your full name and address, and, third, tell me how old you are. Aside from that there's nothing to it—so if you really want to come to this party you shouldn't have much trouble in writing your note. If it fills these requirements, and is on my desk tomorrow you have a chance to win an invitation.

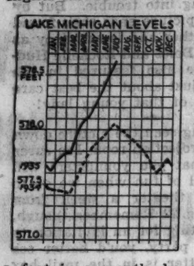
LAKE MICHIGAN .53 FEET HIGHER THAN IN JULY, '34

Rain Sends Level Up .20 in One Month.

Lake Michigan was .53 of a foot higher last month than in July, 1934, according to a statement yesterday by F. W. Huntman, engineering aid in charge of the navy department's hydrographic office here. Lakes Michigan and Huron had risen .20 of a foot in a month, he said, due to heavy rainfalls this year.



Mr. Huntman said his office was not concerned with the diversion of water from Lake Michigan into the Chicago river by the sanitary district for sewage disposal purposes, but Horace P. Ramey, assistant chief engineer of the sanitary district, said a study of lake levels in recent years shows that diversion at Chicago has little effect on the levels of the great lakes.

Peak Height in 1929.

According to a table furnished by Mr. Huntman the peak height of Lake Michigan in recent years was reached in 1929 when it was 582.4 above sea level. In 1930 the United States Supreme court ordered the diversion at Chicago cut from 8,500 cubic feet per second to 6,500 cubic feet. At the end of this year the diversion is to be cut to 5,000 cubic feet and at the end of 1938, unless the Supreme court order is changed or modified, it will be cut to 1,500 cubic feet.

The following table is compiled from Mr. Huntman's charts, showing the height of Lake Michigan above sea level during the last seven years:

Year.	Feet.	Year.	Feet.
1929	582.4	1933	578.8
1930	581.3	1934	578.08
1931	579.3	1935	578.61
1932	578.7

Trend Is Up, Then Down.

Back in 1896 [before diversion], Lake Michigan reached a low of 579.9 feet and then went up to 582 feet in 1918. After that the general trend was downward until the low of 578.5 feet was reached in 1925. Then the trend was upward to 582.4 in 1929.

Lake Superior is the steadiest, according to Mr. Huntman. Engineer Ramey said Superior is higher than it should be because its outlet is controled and if its waters were not held back Michigan and Huron would be at least 6 inches higher than they are.

PARALYTIC SAYS HE PERJURED SELF ON MOONEY

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 13.—(AP)—An aged, paralyzed man whose testimony in 1917 aided in sending Thomas J. Mooney to prison for life for the preparedness day bombing in San Francisco today testified under oath he perjured himself in identifying Mooney as the timer of the bomb which killed ten persons and injured forty.

The testimony, that of John MacDonald, now a patient in Baltimore City hospital, is the first link of a legal chain which attorneys for Mooney hope will successfully end Mooney's long fight for freedom.

It was taken before a referee named by the California Supreme court and will be submitted to the court for review before that body passes on Mooney's petition for writ of habeas corpus. The hearing probably will continue for two more days.

Chief points testified to by MacDonald today were:

That he testified falsely before a grand jury in identifying Mooney and Warren K. Billings as the men involved in the bombing.

That he first saw Mooney and Billings in jail cells.

That he told the then District Attorney Charles Fickert that he never had seen Mooney before the day he viewed him in jail.

BABSON WIDOW AND DAUGHTER TO RECEIVE MILLION

A will disposing of the estate of Fred K. Babson, 183 Addison road, Riverside, who died July 24 at the age of 58 years, was filed in Probate court yesterday. The estate is composed of about $800,000 personal property and real estate valued at $200,000.

Under the terms of the will, one-third of the estate is bequeathed to the widow, Mrs. Franc Palmer Babson, and a second third is placed in a trust fund from which she will receive the income. The remaining third is bequeathed to a daughter, Mrs. Doris Babson Merritt, 321 Delaplaine road, Riverside.

Also filed in Probate court was the will of Mrs. Mary Louise Clark, who died at her home in Brookline, Mass., on July 14, at the age of 84 years. She was the widow of John M. Clark, a Chicago lether merchant who was at one time president of the old Chicago Telephone company. Mrs. Clark's estate was valued at about $300,000, two thirds of which was bequeathed to a daughter, Mrs. Cecil Clark Davis of Marion, Mass., a former wife of the late Richard Harding Davis, war correspondent. A son, Bruce, of New York, receives the remaining one-third.

CHARGES AD MAN BEAT HER; FILES $100,000 ACTION

A $100,000 suit for damages was filed in Superior court yesterday against Lloyd Maxwell, advertising executive, by Mrs. Emily Romine, owner of a woman's apparel shop at 636 North Michigan avenue. The suit, filed by Attorney Russell J. Topper, accuses Maxwell of beating and kicking Mrs. Romine on three occasions, blackening her eyes, and knocking out teeth.

Maxwell is vice president of the Roche, Williams & Cunningham agency, 310 South Michigan avenue, and lives at the Drake Towers. He was married for the third time last Feb. 4, when he took as his bride Basha Mulonoff, opera singer. A justice of the peace in Waukegan performed the ceremony. Maxwell was divorced by his first two wives.

Mrs. Romine's bill alleges that Maxwell first beat her on Aug. 25, 1933, at French Lick Springs, Ind., and again last Feb. 15 at a restaurant at 22 East Ontario street. Mrs. Romine charges that the third instance of cruelty occurred on July 25, but the location was not indicated in the bill.

DIES OF FINGER INFECTION.

Frank Fisher, 45 years old, 3084 Wellington avenue, died in St. Luke's hospital yesterday from an infection developing after he ran a nail into his finger while loading crates upon a truck. He entered the hospital May 13.

PASTOR BEATEN BY THUGS WILL LOSE RIGHT EYE

New York, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—The Rev. John Dorn, latest victim of a thug's attack in public parks, will lose his right eye, it was stated today at Flower hospital.

Mr. Dorn, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal chapel, Long Island City, was taken to the hospital after he was found unconscious early today at the entrance to Central park.

Meanwhile 24 men, rounded up in a drive by four city departments, were arraigned in Yorkville court. All were picked up on a little known ordinance which makes it a misdemeanor to be in a public park after midnight without a permit. The drive apparently was decided upon as a result of several murders and many robberies and assaults in the parks within the last few months.

CLIPPER PLANE HOPS 1,323 MILES TO MIDWAY ISLES

MIDWAY ISLANDS, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Completing the second stage of its 4,922 mile flight from Alameda, Cal., to Wake Island, the Pan-American airways' clipper seaplane arrived here at 3 p. m. Honolulu time (8:30 p. m. Chicago daylight saving time), 8 hours and 52 minutes after leaving Honolulu.

Aided by a tail wind on the first part of its 1,323 mile journey over the ocean, the clipper carried its eight man crew and 3,000 pounds of cargo to Midway in 28 minutes less time than on a previous flight. Pan-American officials said today's time indicated a regular nine hour schedule will be established for the Honolulu-Midway stretch of the projected California-orient commercial service.

COACH THOMAS ILL; AIDS PUSH ALL-STAR DRILL

WHITE SOX LOSE TO BOSTON, 9-5; DROP TO 4TH PLACE

WHITEHEAD IS ROUTED IN 5-RUN SECOND INNING

Fifth Defeat in Row for Chicagoans.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The White Sox yesterday absorbed a 9 to 5 beating at the hands of the Boston Red Sox and plunked into fourth place, supplanted in third place by their foes of the day. The difference between third place dough and fourth place dough, based on the 1934 world series team split, is $8,198.77. Fifth place cuts nothing whatsoever.

The setback was the fifth straight for the White Sox and their eleventh in their last dozen starts. It was something of a triumph at that, for the five runs the Chicagoans made exceeded the total they had scored in their last three previous games.

Whitehead Chased in Second.

John Whitehead, the eclipsed ball of fire, was given another chance to start and had another harrowing experience. When Big John escaped the premises in a second inning outbreak, he tottered off with his 11th defeat in 13 games since he startled the American league by winning his first eight starts. It is said to be unlikely that he will again be honored with a starting assignment until he gets into physical condition to pitch, a matter of shedding some 25 or 30 pounds.

John Salveson did some swell relief pitching until the ninth, when he took a peppering that gave the visitors their last three runs.

The Red Sox did not confine their shelling to short range stuff. Dusty Cooke, for instance, made two triples and a double, in addition to drawing a pass. Mel Almada made two doubles and a single and Bill Werber, though he hit only once, got his No. 12 homer on that occasion. It was the first Red Sox hit and the first Red Sox run of the game, and came in the second inning as a part of the five run attack which blasted Whitehead.

Piet on Base Every Time.

The Sox scored in the sixth, seventh, and ninth innings. The first three scorers got on as a result of passes and the fifth to count got on base when he was hit by a pitched ball. In the sixth Appling and Hayes, who had walked, scored on a double by Luke Sewell. In the seventh Tony Piet walked and scored on a triple by Al Simmons and Al scored on a fly by Washington. In the ninth Radcliff was hit by a pitched ball, stopped at third on a double by Piet, and scored on a fly by Simmons.

For the second successive game Piet reached base every time he went to the plate. In Detroit Sunday he reached first four times and he ran his string to nine straight yesterday.

Two Sluggers Flop.

Whatever you may say of Simmons and Washington, they certainly have been standardizing first inning fadeouts, the one yesterday being a virtual replica of two the pair staged in Detroit. Radcliff opened the Chicago offensive with a single to center and Piet walked on four pitches. Simmons went toward the Boston dugout to miss a third strike and then Washington indulged in his recently developed specialty of tapping into a double play.

Whitehead apparently figured that pitchers have as much right to flop as have slugging outfielders. At any rate, the fat boy took a grand plunge in the second inning. With one down Werber lined his 12th homer into the left field stand. Melillo supplied the second out with a tap to Whitehead.

Then the swoon set in. Dahlgren walked, which wasn't so bad, but when Welch also was passed it was apparent that Whitehead was suffering from exhaustion. Cooke doubled to center, Dahlgren scoring and Welch stopping at third. Almada

RIDER RULED OFF TURF; BATTERY FOUND IN SLEEVE

Lincoln Fields Officials Bar Jocky Bagur.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Herbert Bagur, 20 year old jocky from New Orleans, was searched in the paddock at Lincoln Fields yesterday just before he was lifted into the saddle to ride the 6 year old sprinter Haggerson in the second race.

From his left sleeve the stewards extracted an electric battery. Bagur was allowed to fill his riding engagement and finished eleventh with Haggerson in the twelve horse field.

Ruled Off for Life.

When Bagur returned to the scales to weigh out he was ordered to pack his belongings and immediately leave the track. Police escorted him to the gates. A few minutes later the board of stewards at the Lincoln Fields course issued a ruling which bars him for life from all tracks under the jurisdiction of the Illinois racing commission.

The ruling will automatically be upheld by the ruling bodies of all recognized race tracks in America, it was pointed out.

"I don't know why I did it," Bagur whimpered as the police escorted him off the track. "Nobody told me to do it. I've ridden other horses with batteries and have won with them and I like to win races."

Stewards Watch Jocky.

Christopher J. Fitzgerald, steward representing the Illinois racing commission, and C. Bruce Head, general manager of the Lincoln Fields track, revealed that Bagur had been under surveillance since the meeting opened.

"We had suspected that he was a battery rider," Steward Fitzgerald said. "A few minutes before saddling time for the second race we were advised that he was equipped with a strange looking implement and were told that he had it hidden in his sleeve. We ordered him searched and the battery was found."

The horse Haggerson is owned by Tony Pelleteri of New Orleans. Pelleteri said no one connected with his stable had asked Bagur to carry a battery.

Expect Owner to Be Cleared.

The stewards learned that Pelleteri had told numerous friends on the lawns that he didn't think Haggerson could win and it was also discovered that he did not bet on his horse. This coupled with Bagur's statement that no one told him to use the battery was expected to clear the owner of being implicated in the conspiracy.

Bagur has been riding for four years but never was a star. He had been more successful at Lincoln Fields lately than at almost any time in his career. He refused to name any horses on which he had used a battery at this track or on any other race course. He did tell the stewards that he had purchased the battery at Jamaica, New York.

The police rushed the banned jocky out of the track in such haste that Bagur didn't have a chance to tell any one where he was going. He has been living in Chicago Heights but did not appear at any of his usual haunts there late yesterday afternoon or early last night.

Drastic Penalty a Warning.

"While I am positive that no other rider will be foolish enough to try to use a battery on a race horse," declared Head, "the penalty meted out to Bagur should serve as a warning to any who have been contemplating it.

"We are always on the alert to keep racing at Lincoln Fields on the highest level. We have ample means of investigating any suspicious circumstance, and are convinced that no penalty is too severe for those who attempt to take advantage of the racing public. We are confident this is the first time he had planned to use a battery at Lincoln Fields."

TALK ALLIANCE OF N. Y. GARDEN WITH STADIUM

New York, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—An alliance of Madison Square Garden and the Norris interests, which control the Chicago Stadium and the Detroit Olympia, may result when the Garden's board of directors meet next month.

The proposal comes from James Norris, who, with Jim Mullen, western promoter, returned to Chicago last night.

"Boxers need employment and we need boxers, but we can't go on developing talent for other promoters to snatch away," the Chicago matchmaker declare. "If we form an alliance with the Garden here and perhaps with the Boston Garden, it will be to a boxer's interest to string along with the combination."

WANTED: A GOOD QUARTER BACK; APPLY TO HALAS

Brumbaugh's Loss Leaves Bear Job Wide Open.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Delafield, Wis., Aug. 13.—Who will be at quarter back when the Chicago Bears battle the All-Americans at Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 29?

If you have any definite suggestions please rush them to Owner-Coach George Halas, who is working three candidates overtime in an attempt to fill the vast vacancy left by the withdrawal of Carl Brumbaugh, former University of Florida star, who probably has done as much to further the Bears' cause in their last three seasons as any individual on the roster.

Although Halas had heard weeks ago that Brumbaugh would not return, he had hoped the desire to show the All-Stars that the Bears are a better team than they appeared to be in last year's scoreless tie would induce Carl to change his mind. However, today's mail brought definite word that Brumbaugh had accepted a position as assistant coach at the University of West Virginia.

Three Seek Regular Jobs.

Halas and his staf immediately turned their attention to Bernie Masterson, the only Bear with league signal calling experience; John Turley, a star at Ohio Wesleyan last year, and Bob Dunlap, who had a year at West Point after playing at Oklahoma.

Another blow to the Bears' back field program was the departure today for Milwaukee, 30 miles away, of Gene Ronzani, battering right half back, to undergo treatment for a leg injury. Gene is expected to return to the fold in a few days, but probably will not be at full playing efficiency by the 29th.

Turley, Dunlap, and Masterson all are good passers and better than the average as blockers. Their mechanical attributes are perhaps superior to those of Brumbaugh. In the Bears' attack, however, the quarter back essentially is a signal caller who is given complete charge of the offense. It was in this capacity that Brumbaugh excelled. His cunning and ability to diagnose an opponent's defense made him one of the Bears' greatest assets.

Whole Offense Is Revised.

Immediately upon receipt of Brumbaugh's decision not to return, Coach Halas and his assistants revamped the Bears offense for the All-Star game. Rather than burden the three untried quarter back candidates with the entire array of offensive maneuvers it was decided to eliminate several formations entirely and restrict the plays off those retained. In all 64 plays were discarded.

Masterson, Turley, and Dunlap all are heavier than Brumbaugh, who played at 175 pounds. Masterson, the giant of the trio, stands 6 feet 3 inches

DECIDE ON PASS RULE TONIGHT FOR BIG GAME

Bears Looking for Compromise.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Frank Thomas of the University of Alabama, winner in the national poll to name the head coach of the All-American football squad now in training for the game with the Chicago Bears, yesterday was ordered to the hospital because of an attack of acute arthritis. Thomas will be confined to his bed for at least a week, according to Dr. Clifford Barborka, who was the late Knute Rockne's physician at Rochester, Minn.

In Thomas' absence Charles Bachman of Michigan State, who finished second in the poll, will be in active charge of the All-Americans. Thomas, however, is intensely interested in the game, perhaps even more so than ever, if that is possible, since his illness. He will confer daily with Bachman and the other coaches, Dr. C. W. Spears of Wisconsin, and Edward [Slip] Madigan of St. Mary's.

Just Needs Rest.

Thomas' condition is not critical. He has had previous attacks, the last just after his appearance at the Boston coaching school. Apparently he had recovered only to find that the inflammation had returned Sunday. Heat treatment failed to reduce the swelling in his feet and yesterday Thomas visited Dr. Barborka. Immediate rest is necessary.

Authorities at Passavant hospital will permit Thomas to confer with the other coaches after hours, which will facilitate the handling of the squad. Tonight the All-American coaches will meet with Coach George Halas of the Bears in Thomas' room to agree on the rules which will be used in the game Aug. 29.

Halas Seeks Compromise.

Previously the All-Star coaches had determined to insist on use of the college forward pass rule. Halas, it is reported, still hopes to obtain a compromise so that the forward pass rule of the National Pro league will be used at least for one half. Under the college rule the passer must be at least 5 yards behind the line of scrimmage, while the pros are permitted to pass from any point behind the scrimmage line.

Other differences in the code of rules governing professional games and college games will be discussed.

Practice last night at Dyche stadium was open to the public. However, in the future the coaches have agreed that after the preliminary passing and kicking drills the public will be excluded. All signal practice and defensive plans will be kept secret. Guards will patrol the field to prevent observation of the All-American team.

Salatino Rounds Out Squad.

Joe Salatino of Santa Clara arrived yesterday at noon. He was the last to report and the squad now has reached full strength of 43 players.

Chuck Mucha, University of Washington guard, is the first casualty. Monday afternoon Mucha collided with Bill Bevan of Minnesota during drill and received cuts above and below his right eye which required four stitches to close. Mucha expects to be ready for the game. His injury did not prevent his appearance on the practice field yesterday morning.

All members of the squad received physical examinations yesterday. Dr. William Rothman, of THE TRIBUNE Golden Gloves staf, conducted the examinations and reported that all the players were in excellent condition.

Ready for Real Grind.

Yesterday's double drills served to prepare the boys for the more strenuous practice that is ahead of them. Kicking, passing, individual work on the charging machines constituted the major portion of the work. The plans for the offense are beginning to take form, but no scrimmage will be held until the fundamental plays have been mastered.

The Notre Dame shift will be the offense and while the more intricate and advanced plays may not be used, the players undoubtedly will master

MARSHALL FACES BIRGER TONIGHT IN MAT MATCH

Heavyweights Top Card at Marigold Gardens.

Everett Marshall, Colorado heavyweight, will head the wrestling card tonight at Marigold gardens, Broadway and Grace street. His opponent will be Casey Birger. Supporting matches:

Alex Kasaboski vs. Art Van Saxon.
Walter Roxy vs. Jack Gacek.
Ernie Peterson vs. Dale Haddock.
Walter Logan vs. Paul Miller.

Promoter Mike Jacobs, who has in his possession signed contracts for a heavyweight attraction involving Max Baer and Joe Louis, will not arrive from New York until Monday to decide whether the match will be held in Chicago or New York. Indications are the bout is likely to be offered at New York Sept. 26.

Sheldon Clark, president of the Sporting Club of Illinois, which aided in the promotion of the Louis-Levinsky bout, and Leonard Hicks, manager of the Morrison hotel, left by airplane yesterday for New York to confer with Jacobs on bringing the bout here.

Barney Ross, welterweight champion, yesterday was signed to box Baby Joe Gans in a ten round nontitle bout at Portland, Ore., Sept. 6.

Adolph Wiater, Green Bay, Wis., and Buck Everett, Gary, Ind., probably will meet in the ten round windup of a show held in conjunction with the colored Elks convention at Washington, D. C., Aug. 27. Lorenzo Pack will box Sunny Jim Williams, Dave Clark is matched with Johnny Phagan and Clinton Bridges will oppose Young Jack Blackburn in six round preliminary encounters.

Harry Forbes, former bantamweight king, who recently promoted a show at Northwest stadium, yesterday had his promotional license suspended by the state boxing commission. . . . Jack Dempsey paused in Chicago yesterday en route to New York from Los Angeles, Cal. . . .

Joe Savoldi appeared before the commission yesterday seeking reinstatement in order to be able to wrestle Ed [Strangler] Lewis here on Aug. 26. Savoldi, who was suspended following failure to appear for a scheduled bout against Champion Danno O'Mahoney at Mills stadium a few weeks ago, said he had evidence at his home that he was unable to go through with the encounter because of injury. He said he would send the evidence to the commission this week. At the same time Joe posted a $500 check showing willingness to wrestle any opponent designated by the promoter. The commission held in abeyance decision on Savoldi's reinstatement plea.

Jack Kranz of Gary has left for Buffalo, N. Y., where he will appear on a program headed by a ten round bout between Tommy Loughran and Al Delaney Aug. 21. F. M.

St. Joseph, Northport Tie in Yacht Event

The two races for the Lake Michigan juvenile sailing championship held yesterday resulted in a tie for the lead by the St. Joseph River [Mich.] Yacht club team, skippered by Philip Upton, 16, and the Northport Point [Mich.] Yacht club crew, captained by Philip Schaff Jr., 14. Each of the boys' teams had 12 points at the end of the day's racing. Today's finals, which start at 10:30 a. m. off the Sheridan Shore Yacht club harbor at Wilmette, will decide the winner of the series. With a coach, the victorious team will go to Stamford, Conn., for the Sears cup [national junior yachting championship] regatta, in two weeks.

In yesterday morning's contest a light wind sent the seven competing Star boat teams around a six mile triangular course. In the afternoon, the wind increased from the south east to about 8 miles per hour. The Milwaukee crew, with Skipper Bud Bowers, son of Arthur Bowers, commodore of the Lake Michigan Yachting association, Jack Chandler, and Dick Rice, completed the course in 1 hour, 33 minutes, and 12 seconds.

Skillful Maneuver Wins.

Young Philip Upton's team from St. Joseph, Don Campbell, 16, and Jack Goldman, 17, sailed the Star boat they were aboard across the starting line in next to last place. In the first five and nine-tenths miles of the six miles to go, they were able to pass up three other boats. Then Phil, Don, and Jack consulted among themselves and decided not to follow the Northport Point [Mich.] and Spring Lake [Mich.] Yacht club boys' course. The latter teams were engaged in a two-boat fight.

So heading out for themselves a trifle farther off the wind, the St. Joseph crew slipped in between the other Michigan lads and the judges' boat and got across the finish line before the others realized it.

Milwaukee Crew Third.

Bud Bowers' crew from Milwaukee is third in line with 10 points for the two races already sailed. The Chicago Corinthian Yacht club team, Bill Coveney, 17, skipper, is tied with the Spring Lake lads, headed by Charles Jacobson, 17, next with 7 points each.

25 Midget Autos Entered in Tonight's Race Program

Leading drivers entered are Ronnie Householder, Ernie Carlson, Chuck Neisel, Emil Andres, Ted Tetterton, Ray Richards, Wally Zale, Ralph McDaniels, Tude Marchese, and Harry McQuinn.

JODA, going in her best form and quick to get going, was taken back to force the pace under strong restraint after a quarter, took command when called upon, and had something left. SOCK DOLOGER, on inside throughout, showed speed from the start, readily submitted to winner, but held on well to last fifty yards before tiring. FOXIANA took command without need of strong urging, was rated under snug restraint to a final eighth, was mildly taken up, withdrew BATAILLE'S threat. The latter improved her position fast approaching the turn and held on with good courage, but could not get to winner. LET HER PLAY had speed from the start, but weakened after seven-eighths.

BACK LOG, under vigorous riding after reaching the final three-eighths, where he rapidly improved his position, came away fast after disposing of FRENCH PRINCESS. BROADMEADOWS had to lose much ground, but held on well for a good performance. FRENCH PRINCESS, on inside throughout and displaying good speed from the start, weakened after five-eighths.

Winner trained by B. A. Jones. Went to post at 3:58. At post 1½ minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving; place same.

MANSCO displayed fine speed from the start, gave way to ERIN TORCH and BAMBOO when nearing final eighth, but came again and outgamed BAMBOO in the closing strides. The latter, forced to race wide throughout, worked her way to front under strong riding in final eighth, but failed to hold the winner. ERIN TORCH bore over badly almost throughout and weakened after getting to front, but outstayed RUSHAWAY.

NET PROFIT took command easily and tired after sustaining fine speed to final eighth, but won without need of severe pressure. BILLY L., a strong factor after first five-sixteenths, lost ground entering stretch and, despite little assistance from his inexperienced rider, held on well. CARDARRONE had speed from the start, also lost ground on stretch turn, and came again when strongly urged in late stages.

SWEEPING LIGHT, held in hand for five-eighths, failed to rally to hand riding on stretch turn, but offered fine response to punishment after reaching the final three-sixteenths, and, after getting up, was kept under pressure to the end. TED CLARK displayed fine speed from the start, saved ground after opening quarter, and held on stubbornly to last fifty yards before weakening. COTTON CLUB saved ground throughout and held on courageously in a good effort.

COFLIER, going in his best form and taken to inside after racing clear on far turn, swerved out while withstanding a hard drive gamely, and drew out in closing strides. LILLIAN Z., improved and also showing good speed from the start, saved ground to stretch turn, where she moved to winner quickly after coming to outside, and weakened while being carried out in late stages. WILCO, badly outrun for three-quarters, came to outside in stretch and closed boldly.

SHERRON, under stout restraint while saving ground the first three-quarters, forced his way through entering stretch and was ridden out. SNOBEEDO, slightly forced back when entering stretch, came again when clear, but weakened near end. DANCING BOY swerved badly after going to front and came again when straight in final eighth.

40,000 WATCH HAMBLETONIAN STAKE TODAY

Greyhound Is Favorite in $33,000 Race.

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Over a track that should be lightning fast the Hambletonian stake for 3 year old trotters will be contested here tomorrow afternoon on the mile circuit of Good Time park. Nine of the world's fastest steppers will take the word from Starter Steve Phillips for the first heat at about 3 o'clock.

Richest of all events for light harness horses the Hambletonian will have a gross value of $33,221.43 this year and $18,670 will go to the owner of the winner. It is expected that a gathering of 40,000 will watch the tenth trotting of the stake, which was inaugurated in 1926 at Syracuse, when it was won by Guy McKinney.

Look for New Record.

There was every indication this evening that splendid weather conditions will prevail. No rain has fallen here since Sunday and the mile oval is in almost perfect condition.

With the fastest field that has ever been named, it would not be surprising if a new record for the great event would be hung up. The best time ever made in the race was 2:01¼, which Hollyrood Dennis set in 1932. He was a heat winner in the race won by The Marchioness, whose best time was 2:04¾. The best time made by a winner of the race was 2:02½, which was Spencer's mark in 1928.

Greyhound Is Favorite.

Greyhound, 2:02¼, owned by E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., undoubtedly will start the favorite. This grey colt, by Guy Abbey-Elizabeth, by Peter the Great, will be driven by Sep Palin of Indianapolis.

Greyhound is undefeated this year; in fact, he has been headed in only one heat. Last year he won seven out of ten starts. He met and defeated Lawrence Hanover, one of his leading Hambletonian rivals, three times, at Lexington, Toledo and Toronto. Greyhound was knocked down as a yearling at the Indianapolis sales for $900.

Harper Hanover and Lawrence Hanover, both owned by the La Salle stable of Chicago, are the likely second choices, coupled in the betting at 4 to 1. The first named has been trained by Doc Parshall, but was not an ordinary 2 year old and has not won a race this year.

Parshall Drives Lawrence.

Lawrence Hanover, 2:02, a bay colt by Peter Volo-Miss Bertha Dillon, by Dillon Axworthy, also was trained by Doc Parshall, who will also drive him tomorrow. He defeated Greyhound at Toronto in the latter's one losing heat of this year, Greyhound having gotten away badly.

SENATORS BEAT TIGERS, 4 TO 3, IN TEN INNINGS

Whitehill Holds Detroit to Seven Hits.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Earl Whitehill, Washington's veteran southpaw, pitched the Senators to a 4 to 3 victory over Detroit in ten innings today as the league leaders dropped a game of their margin to the New York Yankees.

Pete Fox's home run in the third, his 12th of the season, followed singles by Flea Clifton and Jo Jo White to account for all the Tiger runs. Clifton replaced Charley Gehringer at second base. The latter was forced out of action for the first time in two years because of a knee injury suffered against Chicago Sunday.

While Whitehill was holding Detroit to seven hits, the Senators bombarded Al Crowder and Elon Hogsett for 14, but two errors helped Washington score the winning run in the 10th.

YANKEES, 8; INDIANS, 2.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Ragged fielding hurt the Cleveland Indians today as Charley Ruffing held them to four hits, while the Yankees won the first game of a four game series, 8 to 2. The Yank victory cut the lead of the Detroit Tigers, beaten today by Washington, to five games.

Walter Stewart, veteran left hander, was the victim of the Indians' fielding. Four errors helped contribute six unearned runs to the Yankee total. Stewart retired in the midst of a four run rally with two out in the eighth, Winegarner finishing.

doubled, scoring Welch and Cooke, and scored himself on Johnson's single to right. At this point Manager Dykes decided it was time for Whitehead to go into the clubhouse and do his bending exercises. Salveson went in to pitch, and the inning ended when Johnson failed in an effort to steal second.

In the sixth inning the Sox made two runs, their second and third markers in three games. Appling walked with one down and Dykes fanned. Hayes waited, and then Sewell doubled along the left foul line, Appling and Hayes scoring. Salveson grounded out to Cronin for the third straight time.

Cooke Hits Triple.

In the seventh, after Dahlgren and Welch had supplied easy outs, Cooke tripled to the center field wall. The side should have been out on Almada's foul, but he was given an extension of life when Appling dropped the ball. Luke escaped being charged with an error, for some reason or other. Almada took advantage of the misplay and doubled to right center, scoring Cooke. Salveson threw out Johnson.

Piet got on base for the fourth straight time when he walked with one down in the seventh. Then Simmons came back to life with a line triple to left center, scoring Piet. Al ran home when Washington sent a long fly to Cooke. Appling lined to Cronin.

There was a lot of activity in the Boston eighth, considering that no damages was done. Ferrell singled with one out and was caught trying to steal second. Werber was safe on Piet's low throw and stopped at second on Melillo's single. Sewell tried to fox Werber by faking a passed ball but the laugh was on Luke, for Werber stole third while Luke was feinting. The inning ended with Danlgren's pop to Piet.

Red Sox Open Up Again.

The Red Sox tore loose against Salevson in the ninth. Welch opened with a single to center and scored on Cooke's third extra base hit and second triple. Almada scored Cooke with a single to left and went to third on Johnson's single to left. Almada scored while Johnson and Cronin were going out in a double play. R. Ferrell singled to left. Werber walked. Melillo ended the inning with a fly to Simmons.

In the Sox half of the ninth Radcliff was hit by a pitched ball. Piet reached base for the fifth straight time on a double to the right field scoreboard which put Radcliff on third. Simmons drove a long fly to Cooke, after which Radcliff scored and Piet went to third. Washington ended the game with a long foul to Almada.

Phelps Starts for White Sox in Game Today

Babe Phelps, who missed his turn yesterday to give Whitehead a chance to win a ball game, is scheduled to perform for the White Sox this afternoon in the second game of the Red Sox series. He will be opposed by Fritz Ostermueller, talented lefty.

Jimmy Dykes, Sox manager, who is to be honorary referee at the boxing matches between St. Patrick's and St. Michael churches, South Chicago, tomorrow evening, was presented with a floral horseshoe before yesterday's game by sponsors of the matches. The presentation was made by Judge Green.

Little information is available as to the return of Mule Haas and Zeke Bonura to the Sox lineup. Haas probably will have to nurse his trick wrist ligaments for a couple of weeks longer, but Zeke may get back in a few days.

Change Site of Amateur Golf Qualifying Round

The Chicago district qualifying rounds for the national amateur golf tournament will be held next Tuesday at the Beverly Country club, instead of the Evanston Golf club, as scheduled, according to an announcement yesterday by Harry E. Radix, president of the Chicago District Golf association.

Officials of the Evanston club, originally chosen by the C. D. G. A. as the site of the amateur trials, reported unusual climatic conditions had been giving them difficulty with a number of their greens, and, in fairness to those who will seek a place in the championship proper at Cleveland from Sept. 9 to 14, they recommended a change.

Beverly, scene of the 1931 national event, agreed to be the stage for the local tests. The club is located at 87th street and Western avenue. Practice rounds for the trials will be allowed only on Friday and Monday. None will be permitted on Saturday and Sunday. All entrants will be notified by mail through the offices of the C. D. G. A.

The ninth annual Camel Trail of the Medinah Country club, the big show of the Chicago district's program of invitational tournaments, will head today's schedule. A field of more than 1,000 members and guests from every corner of the district is expected to compete over the west side plant's three courses. Play will be at 36 holes, with luncheon, dinner, and entertainment on the program.

In addition to the Camel Trail today, the St. Charles Country club will hold its seventh annual Fox Chase, and the Royal League National Golf association will gather at Nordic.

The 25th Cook county amateur golf tournament, second oldest in the city, will open today over the Garfield park links and continue through Saturday.

Park Ridge Country club anticipates a record field for the 36 hole journey in its sixteenth annual Plae-Dae invitational tomorrow. Perry McGillivray, one time swimming star, is Plae-Dae committee chairman.

Schwarze's 71 Leads Junior Golf Trials

Birmingham, Mich., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Fred Schwarze, 19 year old University of Michigan sophomore, turned in a sparkling sub-par 71 to lead qualifiers in the Western Junior Golf tournament today.

Schwarze, whose home course is Oakland Hills, went two over par with a 37 on the outgoing nine, but shot three birdies on the way in for a 34, three better than par.

A stroke behind Schwarze in the qualifying round was William Castleman, Louisville, Ky., a student at Notre Dame. Castleman went out in 34 and back in 38 for a par score of 72.

Walter Hagen Jr., son of the famous professional, failed to make the qualifying grade, shooting 42—42—84.

SENATOR GERRY SUGGESTS U. S. QUIT OLYMPICS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Reports of Nazi persecution of Jews and Catholics today brought from Senator Gerry of Rhode Island a suggestion that sportsmen of the country "give serious consideration" to withdrawing from the Olympic games in Germany in 1936. Gerry told the senate the present sentiment evident in Germany might result in "very bad feeling being engendered" in event American participants, including possibly Jews or Catholics, should win or compete against German entrants.

New York, Aug. 13.—The bond market showed a generally strong tone today, although the movement as a whole was narrow. Rails led in activity and prices gained fractions. Utility issues held steady, a few strong spots showing up among holding companies. Electric Power and Light was in favor and gained as much as 2 points.

Government List Easier.

Governments were easier in a dull market, the price easing for the long term 2⅞s subject to the bids which will be received by noon tomorrow. HOLC issues also fell back moderately. Closing prices were around the lows for the day, off 2-32ds to 6-32ds point.

Reflecting the sharp strength in the stock market by American Telephone and other communications stocks Postal Telegraph 5s rose spectacularly for a gain of more than 3 points. These bonds are well down in the price scale as a result of their recent sinking spell.

Several Liens Lose Fractions.

Losers of small fractions to around a point included a variety of well known industrials, utilities, and low-yield loans.

The foreign division was entertained to a round of excitement by a rise of 1 to 2 points in two issues of German government bonds and gains of 3⅛ points each in Milan 6½s and Rome 6½s. Italian government 7s likewise were steady. Transfers aggregated $12,362,000, par value.

Montgomery Ward.

Investors' Guide: Please give me some information on Montgomery Ward & Co.—N. C. C.

Answer: The fortunes of this major mail order and retail store organization reversed sharply when Sewell Avery was made chairman of the board and president several years ago. The entire method of merchandising was revamped; unprofitable retail outlets were abandoned, others were modernized; slow moving items were discarded and additional improvements were made.

Every month so far in 1935 has recorded a substantial sales increase over the corresponding 1934 month, while every month in 1934 showed a gain over its corresponding 1933 month. Part of this has been due to more efficient merchandising, and part to general factors, such as improved economic status of rural sections, generally higher prices for goods sold, and other factors.

Sales in June, 1935, were 23.6 per cent ahead of June, 1934, sales, and for the five months to June 30, 1935, sales of $112,996,000 were one-third ahead of the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year. Highly competitive price conditions and sharply boosted tax levy, however, cut net income for the three months to April 30, 1935, to the equivalent of 40 cents per common share, against 43 cents per common share for the corresponding 1934 quarter.

Sales in the year ended Jan. 31, 1935, were 32.4 per cent ahead of the preceding year, and profits equaled $1.72 per common share, against 18 cents per common share for the year ended Jan. 31, 1934, and a loss equal to $1.62 per common share for the 13 months to Jan. 31, 1933. A loss of $2.25 per common share was sustained in the 1931 calendar year.

Working capital was strong on Jan. 31, 1935. The company could have paid off all its debts and its class A stock out of working capital and still have had a balance equal to about $14 per common share. Rising earnings enabled the company to clear off all accumulated unpaid dividends on the class A stock on July 1, 1935, leaving the stage clear for resumption of common dividends when the directors feel that current earnings and outlook warant them. Nothing has been paid on the common since Aug. 15, 1930.

The class A deserves a fairly good rating. The common is speculative.

Investors' Guide: I have $750 of United States Government First Liberty 4¼s, dated 1932-'47. They are no longer listed. Are they called? If so, what can I get per $100?—P. E.

Answer: United States of America First Liberty Loan 4¼s, due 1932-'47, were called for payment at par and accrued interest on June 15, 1935. We suggest turning your bonds in for payment—they are no longer drawing interest.

HOUSE MOVES TO PROTECT AAA AGAINST SUITS

Hope to Minimize Process Tax Actions.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—A conference report covering only part of the Agricultural Adjustment act amendments, but protecting the AAA against court attacks through permitting the filing of claims for processing tax rebates under limited conditions, similar to the procedure governing income tax rebates, was adopted today by the house by a vote of 174 to 40.

The senate must still act on the conference report. As approved by the house the measure would require the claimant to state his case to the commissioner of internal revenue, who would make a finding of fact which would determine whether court action would be permissible.

Explain Procedure.

Wholesalers and retailers could only claim rebates for processing taxes paid on floor stocks actually in their possession. Processors would have to convince the commissioner of internal revenue that they had not passed on the processing tax in the finished price of their wares, and that they had not passed it back to the farmer through decreased prices paid to the producer.

In replying to Republican objections that the courts ought to be left open to any citizen deeming himself unjustly aggrieved, Chairman Jones of the agriculture committee argued that there were 49,000 processors, and that they would flood the courts of the country if they all filed rebate suits, justified and otherwise.

Holds Tax Illegal.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut today handed down an opinion holding that the processing tax on hogs as levied by the secretary of the treasury under the agricultural adjustment act was unconstitutional and granted the first permanent injunction against collection. The decision was given in the case of John A. Gebelein, Inc., Baltimore meat packer, against Lewis M. Milbourne, acting collector of internal revenue, and restrains Milbourne from the collection of taxes.

Judge Chesnut held that the agricultural adjustment act constitutes a regulation of agricultural production in the several states for which purpose congress has no power to levy a special tax, and that congress delegated unwaranted power to the secretary of agriculture in granting the authority and discretion to impose the tax.

Refuses Federal Contention.

The jurist declared he could not adopt the view put forward by government attorneys that losses claimed by the Gebelein company since the imposition of the tax have been due to inefficiency in management or other business conditions rather than the tax itself.

"I am satisfied these losses are due principally to the incidence of the tax and the conditions in the business brought about by the policy pursued under the act." Judge Chesnut wrote.

Nine Get Injunctions.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Eight Ohio millers and a tobacco manufacturer won from the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today temporary orders restraining collection from them of processing taxes under the agricultural adjustment act.

DENY EFFORT TO HARM AAA

The American Institute of Meat Packers yesterday denied the assertion of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace that prckers and other producers were engaged in a nation-wide effort to undermine the farmers' programs by misrepresentation.

"If there is a 'nation-wide effort' to misrepresent the effect of the agricultural adjustment program on the consumers' interest, the packing industry is not a participant," said the statement issued by the institute. "In fact, the institute has refrained from discussing the relationship of that program to the present decrease in the consumers' meat supply.

"With hog prices below the prices of things farmers had to buy, the agricultural adjustment administration put into effect a plan to bring about a reduction in hog production so that prices might be increased. The decrease in supplies brought about by the adjustment program was aggravated greatly as the result of a decrease in feed supplies because of the drouth. As a consequence, present supplies of hogs and pork have been greatly diminished."

Court Orders Trustees to Vote for Fox Merger

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Chancellor Josiah O. Woolcott today signed an order authorizing U. S. Senator Daniel O. Hastings, receiver for General Theatres Equipment, Inc., to direct the voting trustees of Fox Film corporation stock, owned by General Theatres, to vote the stock Wednesday at Fox Film's meeting in favor of the consolidation of Fox and Twentieth Century Pictures.

Procter & Gamble Votes 25 Cent Extra Dividend

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Directors of Procter & Gamble company today declared an extra dividend of 25 cents a share on common stock, payable Sept. 23 to stockholders of record Aug. 30. Payment was also voted on Sept. 14 of $1.25 a share on the 5 per cent preferred stock to stockholders of record Aug. 23.

Grain Trading Act 'Joker' O. K.'s Rebates

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Despite the fact that the policy of the United States government has been to oppose the practice of rebates and rate cutting in business, congress has slipped a "joker" into the commodity exchange regulation bill now pending which would permit the Farmers' National Grain corporation, government subsidized coöperative, to grant rebates on commissions for grain handled by the coöperative for its regional members.

The bill containing this joker has already been passed by the house of representatives and has been reported out favorably by the senate agricultural committee. The provision permitting rebates by the Farmers' National was inserted in both the house and senate bills after the public hearings were held, thus forestalling any attempt by the grain exchanges to bring the issue into the open in committee hearings.

* *

This attempt to put the ordinary private grain dealers at a disadvantage in competing with the federally subsidized Farmers' National is viewed by Board of Trade officials as violation of a "gentlemen's agreement" made last year between the Board of Trade and the Farmers' National at the suggestion of representatives of the department of agriculture in Washington. By the terms of this agreement the Board of Trade consented to drop action against the Farmers' National for past offenses in rebating in return for the promise by the Farmers' National that the latter would cease this practice.

Under the rules of the Board of Trade any member, of which the Farmers' National is one, is subject to disciplinary action for granting rebates to customers. The full commission of 1⅛ cents per bushel for handling wheat must be charged.

There has been no objection on the part of the Board of Trade to the payment by the Farmers' National of dividends to its member organizations. The "joker" in the pending bill, however, would permit coöperatives to pay rebates on a "commodity unit basis"—or so much per bushel.

* *

These rebates could be paid out even though the coöperative might operate at a loss. The Farmers' National, according to its latest financial statement, still owes the government about $15,000,000 on loans originally granted by the old Hoover farm board.

Section 6-A-2 of the house bill states: "No rule of any board of trade designated as a 'contract market' shall forbid . . . the payment of compensation on a commodity unit basis or otherwise, by any such cooperative association to its regional or local member associations for business received by such coöperative association . . . nor shall the governing body of any board of trade designated as a contract market exclude from membership in, and all privileges on, such board of trade, any duly authorized representative, of any coöperative associati as herein defined which is otherwise qualified, because of the payment of such compensation."

This would render grain exchanges powerless to stop rebating by the federal subsidized Farmers National.

* *

Inasmuch as the integrity of the rule enforcing uniformity in commission rates is one of the principal pillars on which commodity exchanges exist, it is not likely that privately owned firms belonging to the Board of Trade would be permitted to shade their rates. Opening the doors to rebating by all members would lead to chaos. If the law is passed in its present form the privately owned firms would have no recourse in the event of "chiseling" by the government "coöp."

The favoritism and unfair competition resulting from the granting of secret rates and rebates by the railroads in the old days were the principal reasons for the establishment of the interstate commerce commission. The present administration has avowed its opposition to "unfair competition" by passing legislation to make rates charged by motor truck lines subject to regulation by the interstate commerce commission and by provisions in the national industrial recovery act barring "loss leaders" by retailers.

Despite the attempt to prohibit rate slashing and rebating by private enterprises, congress in the pending commodity exchange regulation bill would give these privileges to the government subsidized Farmers National Grain corporation.

STUDY SINGLE BOND ISSUE FOR SURFACE LINES

The committee studying plans for the capital reorganization of the Chicago Surface Lines is considering elimination of all but first mortgage bonds in the new company, according to reports in financial quarters.

According to the tentative plans the first mortgage bonds would be exchanged on a dollar for dollar basis for first mortagae bonds of the reorganized company.

Holders of existing junior liens will probably be given preferred and common stock instead of new bonds. Distribution would be made on the basis of the present priority.

Tribune Helps Air Condition Homes of Staf

BY AL CHASE.

Air conditioning, which has been so successful in Tribune Tower and throughout the editorial and other departments of THE TRIBUNE, now is going to be made possible in the homes of the 1,950 employés of this publication who live in Chicago and suburbs of Lake, Cook, and Du Page counties. At a meeting of the directors of the Medill Building and Loan association yesterday it was decided to make loans available for all employés who desire to install temperature control in their homes.

With that end in view it was voted to conduct a survey among all Chicago and suburban employés of THE TRIBUNE, asking who wish to install air conditioning in their homes and what kind and size of service they desire.

Loans for All Employés.

For those who want this modern feature the Medill Building and Loan association will finance installation up to a cost of $1,000. This will be available to all employés whether members of the loan association or not, according to J. P. Kreutzer, recently reëlected president.

"The idea of financing the installation of home air conditioning was motivated by the success of temperature control in Tribune Tower," said Kreutzer. "We felt that many TRIBUNE employés who have learned to appreciate the comfort of air conditioning in their working hours will want to install it at home."

The Medill Building and Loan association, founded in 1922, has gone through the depression so easily that one of the state examiners of the Illinois building and loan department recently remarked that it was running closest to normal of any building and loan association he knew about.

Few Homes Taken Over.

"Since the founding of the association it has been necessary to take back only five properties out of approximately 400 homes financed," said Kreutzer. "Every one of these five is rented. All of the five belonged to employés who left THE TRIBUNE service and who defaulted after leaving. There have been no foreclosures to date. All the distressed properties were voluntarily deeded to the association. There was no pressure; they were all so involved that they were glad to get out.

"The Medill Building and Loan association has been running nearly normal all through the depression. Of course, we haven't had as many construction loans. But from the refinancing standpoint and that of furnishing capital for employés to purchase homes, we've run practically normal since 1929."

CUT 40 MINUTES FROM LIBERTY LIMITED TIME

A forty minute reduction in the running time of the Liberty Limited of the Pennsylvania railroad between Chicago and New York will be put into effect Aug. 25. H. E. Newcomet, vice president in charge of the Chicago department, announced yesterday. The Liberty will make the run in 17 hours 40 minutes, establishing the fastest passenger service between the two cities for which no extra fare is charged.

Leaving Chicago at 3:30 p. m. central daylight time, 15 minutes later than at present, the Liberty will arrive at New York at 10:10 a. m., twenty-five minutes earlier than its present schedule.

The Golden Arrow and the Manhattan limited will also have quickened schedules on Aug. 25, the running time to New York being reduced by twenty minutes and five minutes, respectively.

CHURCH GROUP TELLS HOW INHERITANCE TAXES MAY BE CUT

The legacy committee of the Salvation Army, which was formed a year ago, has begun aggressive work in assisting persons of means to make wills in which inheritance taxes can be cut to a minimum and funds of the organization swelled through its becoming a beneficiary or residuary of estates.

One plan in a "five point program" suggests that a man leave his estate to the Salvation Army after those close to him have received the benefit of income from it during their lives. It seeks to divert "waste money" from devolving to distant heirs in whom the legator has no interest, or from the government in the event those near to him have died. For those fearful of charity bequests eating a shrunken estate is suggested limitation of gifts to a percentage of the estate.

Future gifts are provided through insurance plans and a legator's investing in mortgages on property of the Salvation Army. In the latter instance the investor would obtain interest during his life and the mortgage would be canceled at his death.

Letters are now being mailed to persons who may be favorable to the organization and interested in its proposals. No attempt is made to replace attorneys for persons drawing wills, but to work in coöperation with them. Approximately one-sixth of Chicago lawyers now have on file booklets explaining the plans. Members of the legacy committee are Lester Armour, Rush C. Butler, Mrs. Charles S. Clark, and John J. Mitchell.

BASIL O'CONNOR ASKED BY JOLIET TO RETURN $5,154

Basil O'Connor, former law partner of President Roosevelt, and his associate, John C. Barber, 120 Broadway, New York City, have been asked by City Attorney Herbert A. Graves of Joliet, Ill., to return $5,154 alleged to be an overpayment for legal work performed in connection with Joliet's attempt to have its $464,000 account in the Joliet National bank made a preferred claim.

After failing to make any progress through its own attorney, J. W. Faulkner, the Joliet city council authorized hiring outside legal talent for a fee equal to 10 per cent of the amount established as a preference. This was on Aug. 28, 1933. The bank closed Jan. 19, 1932. In Joliet it was said that O'Connor was recommended as a "good means of getting results."

The city finally was given preference to the extent of $48,460, the money becoming available May 14, 1934. Instead of a 10 per cent fee, a check for $10,000 was given the New York attorneys. When a new city administration took office in May, an audit was made of the city's finances for the preceding year. The $10,000 check was one of the items to come under scrutiny.

Graves wrote to O'Connor, calling his attention to the overpayment. Last week he received a reply to the effect that O'Connor understood the $10,000 to have been duly authorized by the city council. The "authorization" was made "by mistake," Graves said yesterday, being included in a number of items which were given blanket approval.

Uphold RFC Republic Bank Stock Suit

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday overruled a motion to dismiss the suit brought by the Reconstruction Finance corporation to collect $14,000,000 from stockholders of the old Central Republic Bank and Trust company to make up for a deficiency in repayment of the so-called $90,000,000 Dawes loans.

Defendants must file answers to the suit by Sept. 9, the court ruled, and the matter is expected to come to trial late this year.

Holds Court Has Jurisdiction.

Judge Wilkerson held that the federal court has full jurisdiction, and that there is no reason for voluntarily relinquishing jurisdiction to state courts. In effect, he asserted that the federal court may determine the amount of indebtedness, the amount to be assessed against shareholders as a deficiency claim, and effect a distribution of the latter among creditors.

The defense had argued that each case be tried on its own merits, and that the federal court had no jurisdiction over instances where individual liability is less than $3,000. The court ruled that the amount in controversy is not governed by individual liabilities and that the RFC should not be required to litigate in thousands of individual suits.

Contend Collateral Insufficient.

The RFC contends that its collateral is not of sufficient value to yield the more than 50 million dollars still owing.

In answer to the defense contention that collection of liability from stockholders in Illinois would amount to discrimination in that some states do not provide for double liability on bank stockholders, Judge Wilkerson said that the question of double liability depends upon the terms of the loan.

Cotton Exchange Denies Pre-Labor Day Holiday

New York, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The board of managers of the New York Cotton exchange today denied the petition of members to close on Saturday, Aug. 31, preceding Labor day.

FIND ROSENBAUM OFFICIALS USED CLIENTS' FUNDS

Board of Trade Probe Given Directors.

The principal officers of the Rosenbaum Grain corporation used the money of the firm's customers to speculate in the grain market and allowed their relatives to trade without posting the required margins, according to a report made to the directors of the Chicago Board of Trade by a special committee named to investigate the firm's financial failure, it was learned yesterday.

The report has been in the hands of exchange directors for several days, but no disciplinary action has been taken against officers of the corporation, the affairs of which have been under the jurisdiction of the federal court since last April.

Hearing Scheduled Today.

Hearing is scheduled today before Federal Judge Philip I. Sullivan on the existing injunction which restrains the grain exchange from expelling or taking other disciplinary action against Rosenbaum officials.

The action of the exchange against the company's officials will hinge on whether the court vacates the injunction.

Emanuel F. Rosenbaum, president, and Edwin S. Rosenbaum, vice president, are the principal officers of the company. Both owed the company substantial sums of money when the reorganization proceedings were first started last April.

The committee which investigated the events leading up to the Rosenbaum financial difficulties has been working since early last May.

Books Examined.

Testimony was taken from officials of the company and the financial transactions between the company and its officers were thoroughly examined.

C. D. Sturtevant, head of Bartlett, Frazier & Co., was head of the committee filing the report. Other members were Peter B. Carey and John J. Stream, former presidents of the exchange; Arthur F. Lindley, president of the exchange clearing house, and Warren A. Lamson, head of Lamson Bros. & Co.

It was revealed several months ago by the audit made under order of the federal court that nearly a million dollars was owed to the Rosenbaum company by its officers and interprises in which they were interested. A compromise settlement of these debts has since been made and has been approved by the court.

ADMIT GOODYEAR CONCESSIONS TO SEARS-ROEBUCK

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—(AP)—The Goodyear Tire and Rubber company reported to the federal trade commission today it had made a discrimination of $7,985,440 or 4.46 per cent on the selling price of tires to Sears, Roebuck & Co.

The discrimination was admitted in a brief filed with the commissioner in connection with the commission's charge that through alleged price discriminations the Goodyear company was whittling down competition in selling tires and tubes between that company, Sears, Roebuck and other manufacturers, as well as competing retail tire dealers, including those selling Goodyear products.

While admitting a discrimination, the company's brief set out a number of defenses.

Hedging Sends Wheat Down Another Cent

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The price of wheat was written down another cent a bushel in Chicago yesterday as hedging sales pressed on the market and speculative selling developed on the strength of the official Canadian crop report, which promised a bigger wheat harvest in the dominion than had been expected.

December wheat closed at 88¾ cents a bushel. New low quotations for the season were reached by other grains. Futures based on the new corn crop fell a half cent a bushel and oats and rye lost a cent.

Other Markets React.

The bearish interpretation which traders placed on the Canadian estimate was reflected in Liverpool and Winnipeg as well as Chicago. Wheat tumbled about a cent in both the foreign markets. The level of Canadian prices has a direct bearing on the domestic market in view of the prospect that the United States will be a consistent purchaser of Canadian wheat throughout the present season.

The dominion government did not attempt to forecast the Canadian harvest in terms of bushels. The rating for the crop of 80 per cent of normal, however, furnished the basis for private estimates of a harvest in the neighborhood of 300 million bushels, compared with 1934 production of 268 million bushels in the dominion.

Closing Prices Lower.

Closing prices on December grain futures in Chicago, with comparative quotations, were:

	Yesterday.	Monday.	Week ago.
Wheat	$ .88¾	$ .89⅝	$ .92⅝
Corn	.55⅞	.55⅞	.59⅛
Oats	.28¾	.29⅝	.32⅝
Rye	.43½	.44⅝	.46⅝

Hedging sales in the wheat pit yesterday were not unusually heavy but they helped weigh the market down. The movement of the winter crop into primary markets of the country is still behind schedule. The peak of this movement and the climax of hedging is likely to be witnessed in another 10 days. Last year at this period the peak of the movement had been passed.

MOVE LAUNCHED TO PASS GUFFEY COAL MEASURE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—(AP)—A determined move to jam the Guffey coal stabilization bill through the house within the next few days was launched today. Supporters of the move claimed some immediate success. Outstanding in this list of victories was the unanimous decision of the West Virginia house delegation to support and work for the measure. This action was regarded as especially significant because much of the opposition to the bill has come from West Virginia producers.

Earlier, Pennsylvania Democrats in the house, already pledged to vote for the bill, organized today to solicit additional support for it among the other members. Another development was the formal voting by the house ways and means committee to report the bill. Deadlocked in a subcommittee, the whole committee agreed, 12 to 11, yesterday to report the bill favorably.

Spurred by this action, members of the Pennsylvania Democratic delegation were called into conference by Representative Boland of Scranton, the Democratic whip, and each member was delegated a committee of one to campaign for the bill among the representatives from other states.

UTILITY SHARES LEAD ADVANCE IN STOCK MART

American Telephone Highest Since '31.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 13.—Strength in the utility shares proved a sustaining influence to the stock market today after a mild reaction brought on by profit taking in the early trading. Gains in the group ran as high as 4 points, the leader of the advance being American Telephone, which rose to its best price since 1931.

Amusement shares made a good showing and gains of 1 and 2 points were recorded in behalf of a goodly collection of miscellaneous issues.

Trading was again at a lively pace, the sales total running to around 2,400,000 shares. Incidentally the street heard that many of the larger brokerage houses had been quietly adding to their staffs in anticipation of a continuation of 2,000,000 share days such as have been cheering up brokers for the last week or so.

Favorable Earnings Reports.

Earnings reports, the excellent state of trade in key industries and the outlook for business improvement in the fall are furnishing the bullish ammunition for the advance now five months old.

Virtually all the power and light shares rose to new price peaks for the year in today's trading. American Telephone at its best was selling at 142, as compared with its 1935 low of 98⅝. Anticipation of a regular dividend payment at this month's meeting of the corporation's directorate was a big point in the stock's popularity. The closing price was at 140½, up 2⅜ on the day. United Corporation rose to a new high on a 20 per cent jump, reflecting the growing optimism over the utilities situation. Public Service, People's Gas, Consolidated Gas, North American, and Brooklyn Union Gas were other high steppers of the division.

Interest in Amusements.

The growing interest in amusement shares was ascribed to the approach of the industry's big season. Loews shook off its recent heaviness and moved up to the best price in weeks. Radio, Warner Brothers, and others met with good buying.

Trading in the lower priced issues continued active and a goodly number of new highs was achieved.

In the farm implement section Deere made some headway, partly on a ticker report estimating its 1935 earnings as the best in five years, but other shares of the sector did little.

World Gold Output in June Sets All-Time High Record

The American bureau of metal statistics announced yesterday that world gold production during June was the highest on record, amounting to 2,409,000 fine ounces, compared with 2,385,000 in May, the previous high record, and with 2,270,000 in June of last year. For the first six months of the year production amounted to 11,736,000 fine ounces, excluding Russia, compared with 11,150,000 in the corresponding period of last year.

A TRIBUTE to Man's VISION

Chicago's far-flung packing industry stands as a tribute to the foresight and vision of its early leaders. Through their initiative and close cooperation, a local enterprise became a world-wide industry. Through their united effort, the primitive Bull's Head Cattle Market, once located at Ogden and Madison Streets, developed into the mile-square area of concentrated packing activity of today.

The Union Stock Yard opened at its present site on Christmas morning, 1865. Since that day a staggering total of nearly 841,000,000 head of live stock have thundered into the "Yards." Where a few thousand animals were slaughtered in that first year (1865-66) nearly 12,000,000 are slaughtered annually today.

Since 1868, Live Stock National Bank has taken an active part in the growth and development of the "Yards." For 67 years it has fulfilled its original purpose — to further the progress of Chicago's live stock interests. But time has proved its specialized service to be of value to other industries as well. Today, Live Stock National Bank is serving representative firms and corporations in practically all branches of industry and agriculture.

UTILITIES GROUP HIT BY CHARGE OF TAX FRAUD

United Gas and Electric Interests Under Fire.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Boosting its fraud and tax assessments against the utility system headed by the Empire Power corporation, New York, to $1,443,664, the government has charged the United Gas and Electric corporation with fraudulently dodging taxes, inquiry disclosed today.

The government claims $790,806 in back taxes and penalties from United Gas and Electric on the grounds that company avoided taxes through fake stock losses and accumulated its earnings in its surplus so that its stockholders would not have to pay tax on any dividends.

Holding Concern Also Hit.

Similar charges on the basis of similar actions were filed against the Empire Power corporation, the holding company which owns United Gas and Electric recently. The government claims $652,858 from the Empire corporation, making the total assessed on the two companies $1,443,664.

Ellis L. Phillips, New York, is reported to be the controling stockholder in the Empire corporation. This top holding company has sold its most important properties to the Associated Gas and Electric company whose head, Howard C. Hopson, was today hailed before the house rules committee.

The assessment on United Gas and Electric came to light today. The company filed an appeal with the United States board of tax appeals. The company declared that government's action unjustifiable and unconstitutional. Empire Power filed a similar answer last week.

Charges Tax Underpayment.

The government claims that United Gas and Electric underpaid its 1932 income tax by $164,756, alleging that the loss which the company claims on a sale of 30,000 shares of stock in the Long Island Lighting company did not give rise to the $1,136,250 loss which the company claimed. By striking out this purported loss the government changed the $563,000 net loss which the company claimed for 1932 into a $573,000 profit.

In addition to the $164,756 in back income taxes the government seeks to seize $362,437 or 50 per cent of the earnings which the company set aside as surplus for 1932. The government claims that these allocations to surplus were in lieu of dividends on which, if they had been declared, the company's stockholders would have had to pay income taxes.

COURT UPHOLDS SEC IN FIRST LEGALITY TEST

Rules Power Exists to Probe Dealings.

New York, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—The Securities and Exchange commission was upheld today in the United States District court here in the first decision involving a test of the constitutionality of the securities act of 1934.

Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey, denying a motion directed against the commission by J. Edward Jones, dealer in oil royalties, held that the section of the law that requires the registration of securities was valid under the constitution. He ruled also that the commission had the right to subpena Jones to appear before it in Washington at an inquiry to determine the value of securities.

Judge Caffey pointed out that he was passing only upon those provisions of the act which related to the case brought by Jones in a motion to void a subpena served on him by the commission.

Rules Act Constitutional.

Discussing the validity of the securities act as it related to the Jones case, Judge Caffey wrote that "every doubt must be resolved in favor of constitutionality."

The possible invalidity of any other part of the act, the court noted, had no bearing whatever upon the questions in the Jones case.

"I see no occasion," Judge Caffey wrote, "to determine more than whether congress had the right to provide for exclusion from the mails or interstate transportation of unregistered securities."

Congress, according to Judge Caffey, was warranted in concluding that:

1. Exclusion from the mails of securities involving schemes to defraud is in the public interest.

Advance Consideration.

2. That this object may be accomplished only through advance consideration.

3. That an appropriate means for examining into the fitness of securities for admission to mail privileges is an expert government agency authorized and empowered to conduct needed investigations.

4. That among the pertinent equipment for efficient operation of such an agency are registration statements to be supplied by applicants for mail privileges and subpena power in the agency for use in getting evidence to enable it to reach proper decisions with respect to the statutes.

Judge Caffey also expressed his belief that "congress had power to provide as it did in section 5 of the act, regulations for the transportation of securities in interstate commerce."

BROKERS ASSAIL COTTON PROBE OF SEN. SMITH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—Efforts of Senator Ellison D. Smith [Dem., S. C.] to discover the current cotton holdings of leading marketing firms have brought formal protests because of the senator's reputedly close connection with market operators, it was learned today. Important cotton merchants have complained to the senate audit and control committee that Senator Smith has no right to pry into their present position in the market. Smith, as chairman of the senate agriculture committee, has been empowered by the senate to investigate the price decline in cotton on March 26 and has provoked the protests of merchants by trying to use this authority to discover their current commitments.

Merchants are disturbed lest by turning over information to Senator Smith they tip off their hand to Robert M. Harriss, stock and commodity market operator, who is reputedly close to the senator. Harriss is understood to be heavily interested in cotton.

Harriss became a close adviser of Senator Smith early in the Roosevelt administration when the so-called committee for the nation was active.

CHICAGO STOCKS ARE MOST ACTIVE FOR 18 MONTHS

Trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday swelled to 120,000 shares on the strength of renewed speculative interest in Middle West Utilities common, which had a 45,800 share turnover.

Yesterday's volume was the largest since 123,000 shares changed hands on Feb. 7, 1934. It was the third 100,000 share day this year—all of them within the last week—and was exceeded by only five days of last year, all in January and February. Volume a year ago yesterday was only 30,000 shares.

Prices held well despite the second day of moderate profit taking. Forty-four issues made advances ranging from small fractions to more than two points. Only two of the thirty losses were more than fractional. Thirty-three stocks were unchanged. Fifteen new highs were made.

Utility shares were strong, while packers exhibited strength in a sudden display of interest.

SENATE IS GIVEN SUBSTITUTE OIL REGULATION BILL

Connally Measure Offers 3 Point Program.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Senator Connally [Dem., Tex.], today introduced a three-point substitute for the Thomas Oil regulation bill. It provides for congressional ratification of the Dallas interstate compact for oil and gas conversation, gives authority for the President and tarif commission to limit imports and makes permanent the Connally "hot oil" law.

President Roosevelt last week in a special message asked congress to pass legislation granting consent for interstate compacts such as that signed at Dallas last February. It already has been ratified by New Mexico, Kansas, Oklahoma, Illinois, Colorado and Texas.

While he limited his message to that one point, senators from oil-producing states said the President would approve of broader legislation.

Thomas Bill Provisions.

The Thomas bill goes much farther than the Connally plan. It grants congressional consent for interstate compacts and authorizes the President to restrict imports on recommendation of the federal petroleum administration, which has been extended until April 1 by the new NRA act.

It also authorizes the petroleum board to estimate the demand and production necessary to meet the demand and inform the states of the figures.

It would give the board authority to administer the "hot oil" law prohibiting interstate shipment of oil produced in excess of state laws, and would authorize voluntary agreements in the industry covering plans for developing new pools and refining operations, subject to the approval of the President where they provided for waiving the criminal provisions of the anti-trust laws.

Statement by Connally.

In a statement accompanying the substitute, Connally said:

"The interstate compact entered into by the oil states on Feb. 16, 1935 should be adopted by congress in order to make it effective. It is hoped that through the compact the oil states may work out plans for orderly production and development.

"Since it is inequitable to permit unrestricted imports of petroleum while domestic producers are prorated or restricted in production, the substitute which I have introduced provides for the regulation and control of imports in relation to the domestic supply.

No Federal Control.

"Under the bill there is no semblance of federal control of production within any state. The powers of the states are preserved except insofar as they may be affected by the interstate compact entered into by the oil states.

"I am opposed to the provision of the Thomas bill exempting from the anti-trust laws so-called 'industrial agreements' made by oil companies or others engaged in the production, refining, or importation of petroleum. For this reason my substitute strikes out the anti-trust exemption and the allowance for industrial agreements.

BUTTER AND EGGS RISE DESPITE HEAVY STOCKS

The government report showing large stocks of butter in cold storage, issued after the close of the market on Monday, failed to have any effect on prices yesterday, the figures being in line with trade expectations. The movement into storage at the four leading points yesterday was better in comparison with last year and brought in short covering which lifted the November delivery ¼ cent to 25⅛ cents per pound. October eggs closed ⅛ cent higher at 25½ cents per dozen. The upturn was in the face of smaller withdrawals from storage than during the corresponding period last year, when the outward movement was about double the normal amount at this season. Sales of butter were 74 cars, and eggs 26 cars. Prices follow:

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was quiet today with refiners still out of the market. No sales were reported. Prices remained unchanged at 3.16c per lb for spots and 3.25c for forward. Early advances of 1 to 2 points in futures on scattered trade buying and covering were lost in the later trading under increased liquidation through commission houses and selling by producing interests on reports that the quotas for the United States would be increased. Final prices were 2 to 3 points net lower for the No. 3 contract and 2 points lower in the No. 1. Sales were 14,150 tons in the No. 3 and 950 in the No. 1.
